Mayor Weeks and Others Praise Improvement Ass'ns Urging Newtonville Library

Desirability and Necessity of Reference Facilities Stressed By School Officials

Speaking before the executive committee and district representatives of the Newtonville Improvement Association and the incorporators of the new Newtonville Library Association at the Newton High School Monday evening, Mayor Sinclair Weeks paid high compliment to the village improvement societies of Newton. Regarding them as among the most important of village activities, they have proved most helpful to him and to the city government. They are always on the alert for ways of bettering Newton. The city library system came in for its share of praise also by Mr. Weeks and the new buildings for the branch libraries in Waban, Auburndale, West Newton and Newton and Newton Centre. He expressed himself as being delighted with the plans for a new library in Newtonville, on the lot of land at Highland ave. and Walnut st., where the old Newton Club stood for many years, because it will be a distinct help in future zoning and will add to the material wealth of the village.

George W. Taylor, president of the Improvement Association and also of the new library incorporation, presided at the meeting and by his choice of speakers and his remarks revealed that the committee appointed by the Newtonville Improvement Association last winter had been active, they had met many times, organization steps had been taken, incorporation papers granted by the Commonwealth, trustees chosen and soon the task of raising funds for the land and building would begin—waiting only for the completion of the Community Chest drive.

Paul E. Elicker, principal of the Newton High School, spoke most interestingly of the growth of the High School library, which today because of the increase in High School attendance is adequate for a school only half the size. A new library, close to the school which would serve the school and serve the community would be a decided asset. As the acquiring of Claflin Field thirty years ago by public spirited citizens of vision was a great civic project, so this library will be also. Speaking for himself

Big Needham Meeting At Newton Centre To Open Mayoralty Campaign

Extensive Drive To Start At Newton Centre On Tuesday, October 15th

Daniel Needham, candidate for Mayor of Newton, announced today that 500 of his workers will meet on the evening of October 15th, in the Newton Centre Woman's Club to perfect plans for his campaign. This gathering, he announced, will serve as the beginning of the intensive drive for his election, and other workers' meetings will be continued actively right up to election day, Dec. 10th.

Among the speakers listed for the big assembly on October 15th are Mayor Sinclair Weeks, who has endorsed General Needham as his successor, Alderman Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale and a number of the ward leaders and precinct captains of the Needham Campaign Committee. During the past few months many organization meetings have been held by the Needham Committee in various wards of Newton affording an opportunity to several thousand persons to meet the candidate personally. Activity of the Needham forces will now be centered on workers' meetings and later in public rallies.

At the same time, General Needham, who is present head of the Massachusetts National Guard, announced the formation of the Ex-Servicemen's League for Needham, which is headed by Harold D. Ames, past Commander of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion. This League, which is enlisting the support of all former soldiers and sailors, is functioning actively and will hold its next meeting on October 16th.

Chairman Floyd of the Needham Campaign Committee reports that 500 nomination papers and 5000 pledge cards are in circulation. Admission to the Newton Centre Needham Workers' meeting will be by ticket only.

No Cemetery At Oak Hill

Residents of Oak Hill who have been disturbed in recent years over the conversion of large areas of land there into gravel pits were filled with concern several days ago when Boston newspapers published a report that the Robert Gould Shaw, 2nd, estate on Dedham and Nahanton sts. were being sought as a site for a large cemetery. This estate contains 270 acres of land and adjoins the water reservation of the City of Newton along the Charles River. The land is assessed for $120,000 and the buildings on it for $58,000.

On September 26 the Newton Health Department received a communication from Walter Channing Company, Inc., Boston realtors inquiring as to whether or not a cemetery at the Shaw estate would be opposed as a health menace. The matter was referred to Richard E. Ellis, Newton Director of Public Works. Mr. Ellis stated that a cemetery would constitute a potential menace to the future water supply of Newton. On Monday of this week Mrs. Robert Gould Shaw, 2nd, communicated with Mr. Ellis and stated that she was surprised to learn of the proposed use of the estate and would not permit it to be sold for such a purpose. She had no knowledge of the plan prior to the publicity it received in the newspapers.

Newton Men Not Employed On Turnpike Job

The concrete sidewalk and granite curbing which is being laid along Boylston st. (the Worcester turnpike) in this city is giving "work and wages' to 80 or 90 men, but, with a couple of possible exceptions, none of those employed on the job is a resident of Newton. The work commenced last Monday and is expected to last for many weeks. James Reynolds, director of Public Welfare for Newton, and Edmund Dungan, director of Soldiers' Relief, requested William F. Callahan, Commissioner of Public Works of Massachusetts, to have Newton men given work on this State project, but their pleas met with no success. Mr. Callahan is a resident of Waban. The project is being financed from the $4,000,000 recommended by Governor Curley and authorized by the Legislature to build sidewalks along State highways.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next week is known nationally as Fire Prevention Week. During the last year the extent of fire damage was tremendous, exceeding a half billion dollars in total losses. And to think that this loss is continuing is appalling when it is realized that many lives and much property is destroyed, many are made homeless or their means greatly reduced. And to realize further that an inestimable part of this fire loss is caused by gross negligence or carelessness on the part of some individual or group of individuals it is even more disturbing. It is, of course, true that many persons recognize the desirability and value of insuring themselves and their property against loss or damage by fire and while insurance is important, education and thought along the lines of fire prevention is essential. We would call the attention of all to the warnings of Chief Randlett of the Newton fire department. Go over the list of things not to do and take a few minutes to make certain that you are safeguarding yourself and your home from the constant threat of fire.

MANUFACTURERS' PAYROLLS INCREASE

The state bureau of statistics in its annual report shows that the manufacturers of Newton have experienced a marked upward trend in business conditions. Payrolls for more than fifty such manufacturers have increased something over $350,000 during the twelve months ending in July as compared with the preceding twelve month period. The statistics also reveal that local manufacturing is considerably below the peak total of goods produced in Newton some years ago although there are approximately the same number of concerns engaged in the production industry as there were in the peak year. A continued expansion of local manufacturing is necessary for a continued increase in payroll expenditures. Increases in such payrolls are also necessary for an increase in the business of local retail merchants, as the greater share of local payrolls is expended locally. For the most part Newton business men are Newton taxpayers. It is self-evident that local business can only thrive on local patronage and co-operation is essential to the continued welfare of the community.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS SERVING NEWTON

It is nearly a quarter of a century since the West Newton Music School began a special service of teaching music to the youth of Newton. Several years ago the scope of the school was widened and it became the All Newton Music School. With a staff of highly trained workers and with students coming from every village it is a logical center for music needs in the Newtons. The school has become a social agency in the highest sense, touching as it does the very life of the whole community. For the youth of Newton the Music School carries on—for those who need an outlet for suppressed longings—for those who need a chance for creative work—for those who long to store up a resource for future leisure time activity. The school moves into its Silver Jubilee year with increasing numbers of serious minded students. Looking back over the years the steady growth in numbers of students and personnel and in influence is indeed gratifying. It is vital and essential that the people of Newton realize that here is a centre of art and culture with a background of high ideals worthy of the support of all.

UNENTANGLED AND FREE

The advance of Italian troops into Ethiopian territory is a pretty clear indication of inevitable war, although past history tells us that the invasion of various countries by armies of another nation has sometimes been followed by an arbitration of difficulties with a more or less amicable settlement. In the present crisis, however, attempts at arbitration have failed to halt the start of hostilities and the possibilities of success in settling the problem involved by peaceful means, seem to be getting more remote every day. President Roosevelt has publicly proclaimed the fact that the United States must remain unentangled and free from international difficulties abroad and that "the people of America and the government of these people intend and expect to remain at peace with all the world." It is apparent to everyone that the threat of war is hanging over all of Europe and if the leading nations of the Old World become embroiled that it will be almost impossible to prevent the United States from being drawn into the difficulties in one way or another. Let us remain unentangled and free until every means toward international peace is exhausted.

Some folks object to following the footsteps of others, because they want to make bigger footsteps themselves.

Those who are careful where they put their confidence are not so apt to lose it.

Being a college president is easy. All he has to do is to please the board of trustees, the parents, the undergraduates and the alumni.

Just when you think you can make both ends meet, somebody moves the end.

The best exhibit at the flower show of the Newtonville Woman's Club last week was a hugh basket containing nine large dahlia blooms. The autumn colored dahlias were grown in the garden of George A. Edmands, well-known Newtonville druggist. Mr. Edmands has made the raising of dahlias a hobby for the past twelve years and now has more than a hundred plants of different varieties. His best effort has been a bloom which measured thirteen inches across. The basket exhibit at the Newtonville flower show won the state blue ribbon awarded at each flower show for the best exhibit and it was also the prize-winning entry in its class. Mr. Edmands is interested in some new varieties of dahlias and next year hopes to have some excellent specimens of them. Many residents doubtless recall the dahlia display on the Rawson estate on Farlow hill some years ago which annually attracted hundreds of visitors to witness the glorious flowers in full bloom.

Spectators at the opening home game of the Newton high school football team on Monday afternoon got quite a kick in the appearance of a new team mascot. The good luck token of Coach Sanborn's eleven is seven year old Phil Berquist of Cabot st., Newtonville. He was all decked out in an orange and black uniform with a headguard painted exactly like those the larger boys on the squad wear. The youngster's shoulder pads bulged tremendously so that one was reminded of the muscles of a strong man but they were not out of place and only added color to the picture made by the mascot. That he made a hit with all was evident by the rousing cheer given him when he was held up in front of the spectators by the head cheer leader. Incidentally some of the members of the squad showed a trend towards superstition by speaking to the mascot and patting him on the head or shoulders before going out to play the second half. May the mascot bring a great deal of luck to the Newton eleven in coming games.

Another colorful adjunct to the school football team is the school band. On Monday they were resplendent in new orange and black uniforms that are by far the snappiest that have been worn by the band since it was organized some years ago. The uniforms were purchased from special funds raised by the band and other school organizations and were selected after a long search for the most suitable adaptation of the school colors. The band, less than a month after the opening of school, is off to an excellent start and gives promise of being a contender for state and New England honors. Not since 1929 has a Newton band gained outstanding honors when the band of that year was awarded the New England title. Director C. Ralph Spaulding and the school authorities are modest in their enthusiasms and hopes for the future but their expectations may well be exceeded. The band is led by Jean Budding whose ability as a drum major and baton twirler have become well-known since she joined the Levi Warren Junior High Band several years ago. Last year as a sophomore she won the state baton twirling championship and should repeat for two years more.

The traffic crossing on Beacon st. near the Mason School has long been a troublesome problem and there has been considerable agitation for a pedestrian signal at this point. In anticipation of the installation of such a signal ducts will be laid in Beacon st. at that point when the resurfacing of the street is carried out. Word to this effect was received recently by Charles K. B. Nevin of the Newton Centre Improvement Association from the State Department of Public Works. The Improvement Association has urged the installation of a pedestrian signal there but lack of funds in the street department budget precluded undertaking the project this year. The laying of the ducts in anticipation of providing a signal will be done so that it will not be necessary to tear up the street again after it has been resurfaced.

The appointment of an Auburndale man as regional director of airport development work in Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine was announced by the U. S. Department of Commerce this week. The appointee is Hervey F. Law of 27 Oakwood rd., who is a graduate of Massachusetts State College with the class of 1922. He has made a specialty of landscape and golf course architecture and is president of the Natick-Wellesley Airport. His approval will be necessary before PWA funds will be granted for proposed airport projects in the four states.

Professor Kirtley F. Mather, a member of the Newton school committee and of the Harvard faculty, plans to test the so-called teachers' oath law passed by the Mass. Legislature at the last session. Prof. Mather took the oath to support the constitution of the state when he became a member of the school committee. He also took the oath of allegiance to the United States as a member of the U. S. Geological Survey and as a reserve army officer. Despite these facts the Newton Centre resident is being accused of communistic tendencies because he feels that as a member of the Harvard faculty he is not an official of the government and that is an entering wedge in the regimentation of all schools and other institutions in obedience to the orders of State officials and as such is a violation of a person's constitutional rights. The developments and the outcome of this situation in regard to the oath bill will be watched with a great deal of interest.

Kiwanis Club

Reports relative to the activities of the New England district Kiwanis convention, recently held in Swampscott at the New Ocean House, were made at this week's meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club in the Charles River Country Club by President Rupert C. Thompson and the other delegates, J. Ernest Gibson and Edward E. Hickey. Mr. Thompson, in his talk, stressed the importance and the interest attached to the convention sessions particularly as they relate to the training of club officers in Kiwanis ideals and purposes while his associates told about the educational advantages and social activities of the session.

To Present Religious Drama at Newtonville

"Peter, the Rock," a religious drama, will be presented in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church next Sunday evening at 7:45 by young people from the Church of All Nations of Lowell. More than 500 young people witnessed the splendid production of this drama at the meeting of the Annual Conference last spring. "Peter," Frank Maria, native of Syria, senior in Boston University, was awarded the Augustus Howe Buck scholarship because of very high record in studies. With him in the cast are talented young people and with one single exception will unite in their 39th presentation next Sunday. A very cordial invitation to all Newton young people, their parents and friends.

It is gratifying to note the rapidly approaching completion of Farlow Park in Ward 7. It bid fair to extend its unsightliness into the indefinite future, but the progress on improvement made during the summer is comforting to discouraged and assessed abuttors.

The union gospel meetings of Dwight L. Moody at Eliot Church were well supported by people of Newton Centre. A barge for public conveyance made three trips daily and Eliot Church gave generously the use of its vestry to distant worshippers.

One position as stenographer and clerk in the offices of the Newton School Department at Newtonville is to be filled at once. Salary $12 to $16 per week, depending upon ability and experience. Apply by letter giving qualifications and references not later than October 11 to Miss C. M. Chase, secretary.

The cornerstone of the new parish house of Centenary M. E. Church at Auburndale was laid last Sunday morning after the usual church services. The congregation marched to the new building on Central st., headed by the vested choir, followed by the Butler Boys' Club in command of Paul Spaulding; the Spaulding Girls' Club, the Junior League, students of Lasell and the officiating clergymen. Prayer was by the pastor, Rev. Charles Spaulding; Scriptures reading by Rev. H. C. Sheldon, and an address by Bishop W. F. Mallalieu.

The discussion at the Board of Aldermen on Monday night on the new schedule of telephone rates brought to the surface a matter which has been under consideration for some weeks and which it was thought could be worked out without undue publicity. It is a fact that a discrimination has been made in the new rates which operates against the sub-

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

It is quite proper for supporters of any candidate for political office to make house to house visits to disseminate information favorable to the man or woman they wish elected with the expectation that such information will result in additional votes. But, when workers for any candidate circulate throughout a city seeking written pledges, realizing that a large percentage of citizens have not sufficient moral courage to say "No", such a method is contrary to the best principles of American democracy. The Australian ballot system was adopted here many years ago to enable citizens to vote as their consciences dictated, and free from selfish or pernicious influences. If one has been pusillanimous enough to pledge, in writing that he or she will vote for any candidate, just to be obliging, such a person can redeem himself or herself by voting as they really feel inclined to on election day.

Last Sunday afternoon we motored to Harvard to view the beautiful vista across the Nashua River valley. Although the sky was overcast with dark clouds, the air was clear and Monadnock could be plainly seen. Beyond Wachusett the sun was breaking through serried rows of white and gold clouds. But, on our return trip nature provided one of the most wonderful symphonies of color we ever saw. As we traveled through Boxboro the setting sun broke through open patches in the black sky and lighted up hillsides and woodland hither and thither, illuminating acres of brilliantly foliaged trees which, contrasting with the dusk of the surrounding countryside presented one of the most weirdly beautiful spectacles we have been privileged to witness. And, as an added attraction, when we approached West Acton a huge rainbow appeared, looming majestically against a murky background. We stopped the car at West Acton village for a few minutes to gaze at the rainbow. And in the deepening twilight a second rainbow formed dimly outside the more brilliant arc.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on September 23rd there was a discussion on the matter of taking land for a site for the new school at Oak Hill. During this discussion the three Aldermen from Ward 1 stated they would vote in favor of the taking, but they explained that they did so in the belief that next year a new school will be built in Ward 1 to replace the old Eliot and Lincoln Schools. In the program of new and needed schools as outlined by the School Committee at the beginning of this year a new school for the Franklin district was placed first on the list; a new school for Ward 1 was rated as the third most needed project, and Oak Hill was fifth. After Oak Hill residents had importuned the Mayor and the School Committee, their plea was acceded to and the school at Oak Hill was jumped into first place.

During the course of Alderman Akins' speech Monday night on this matter, he commended Oak Hill residents for organizing an improvement association which was a vital factor in obtaining first consideration for their school, and he commented that Ward 1 should organize a similar improvement association. This comment of Alderman Akins was quite interesting in view of the fact that there is a Ward 1 Improvement Association which was formed in September, 1929. No attempt was made to enroll a large membership in it as was done by those who organized the Oak Hill association. But, despite its limited membership the Ward 1 Improvement Association has been an important factor in obtaining a number of public improvements of considerable consequence for the district it represents. And it was not inactive as regards the building of a new school to replace the Eliot and Lincoln schools. In fact the Ward 1 Improvement Association had for several years urged the Mayor and School Committee for this need and a predecessor of Alderman Akins had been told that a new school in Ward 1 would be given prior consideration. On July 1st of this year a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was called by the Mayor and at that meeting the Mayor recommended, with the consent of the School Committee that the Oak Hill School and an addition to the Angier School comprise the new school buildings to be erected this year. The Aldermen voted in favor of the recommendation and the only member of the Board to speak in protest was Alderman Guzzi of Ward 3 who objected to the Franklin School project being sidetracked.

The following Friday the GRAPHIC gave considerable space to this matter. Under "About Town" we commended Guzzi for protesting and commented that the three Ward 1 aldermen might well have emulated him. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on July 15th a copy of a letter sent by Miss Julia Enegess, president of the Ward 1 Improvement Association to Walter R. Amesbury, chairman of the School Committee was given to Alderman Akins and he read the letter before the Board later during that meeting. The letter was a protest against the Oak Hill school having been given precedence over the new school to replace the Eliot and Lincoln schools. The reading of this letter marked the start of the Ward 1 Aldermen's open protests regarding the shift in the program of new school buildings. It would seem, therefore, that Alderman Akins' comment regarding the need of an improvement association in Ward I was not warranted.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

So Long, Old Bonnet

With reluctance I put aside my straw hat last Monday after having worn it at least two weeks overtime. There was one man who congratulated me for my show of independence, although nearly everybody who felt they could take liberties made fun of me. Nevertheless, it was a comfortable, well-fitting hat and nicely suited to the weather. Moreover, the experience was revealing as I learned more straw hat jokes than I knew existed. The best took place in my favorite drug store when an old friend tiptoed behind me and ran his finger-nail along the crown. The noise of scratching silk sounded as if the straw were being ripped and torn. For a few seconds I did some tall guessing.

"I Must Have Lost It"

First red borrowers' cards and now red bookmarks. No, it isn't that the Newton Free Library is doing its Christmas decorating early; all that will be attended to in plenty of time before the holidays and will be appropriate and attractive. The red cards and bookmarks are for the benefit of readers—to really protect the public from themselves.

Psychologists may be able to explain, but I cannot, why that which is obtained for nothing is almost invariably undervalued. There's no use going into it and yet one wonders at the failure of human beings to show proper appreciation. The red cards for borrowers are issued with the hope they will reduce the percentage of lost or mislaid cards. When they first appeared people began to make jokes about the library swinging over to the Left — going radical — and such. Thoughtful of the thoughtless, you might say, the library authorities decided on the present color scheme for cards with the conviction that it would be more difficult to lose the red one than those of pastel shades.

The red bookmark is intended to save the pages of the books. So many readers go in for the dog's ears effect that the library people think something should be done to save the corners. Thus a bookmark is offered each borrower with the hope that he will use it and stop mutilating the books. Although I have heard no reference to it the idea strikes me that it will be more difficult to lose a book with a red bookmark.

"Color speaks a language of its own and this language should be mastered before attempting to use it" says a writer in the Lincoln Library of Essential Information. "Red and orange catch the eye more quickly than do other colors." There's a lot more to be found that justifies the library's new system. It ought to work well but unfortunately there are always those who are non-cooperative. They will probably excuse themselves on the ground that they are color blind.

Not-so-Fond Recollections

A few days ago I listened to a Newton resident complain that it was useless to ask the police to keep the children out of his orchard. "They act as if I was the offender," said he. "They make me think I'm a crab and all I want to do is to spoil the youngster's good time."

"Not much sense then in threatening the boys that you are going to call up the police?" I ventured.

"Say, when I do that the children give me a laugh. And you know why, don't you?"

I shook my head.

"Because the policemen and the kids are pals," and this assertion was delivered as if it were something recently discovered and known only to a few.

Continuing, my informant pointed out that the children get friendly with the policemen on their way to school and that you might as well send one of the family out to make them behave.

I don't know how sound the argument was but I know I recalled my own boyhood days when a cry of "Cheese it, the cop!" sent a chill up my back and started the whole gang on the run. The mischief we had committed or were about to commit was never very serious—no more than nowadays, but we had a wholesome fear of the cop. Not that we expected to be cast into prison, but because he had a strap on the handle of his club to which was attached a wooden button or "acorn". And, boy, when the acorn struck a certain part of one's anatomy—well, we always had a profound respect for a policeman.

Byrle Osborne Heads WPA Relief

The recent termination of local administration in the distribution of relief under the WPA brings under one head the supervision of this work in Middlesex and Norfolk counties and Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop in Suffolk county. Mr. Byrle Osborn of Brookline was named regional director of the Works Progress Administration in these communities known as District Two.

Mr. Osborn has had considerable experience in the handling of human problems throughout a wide career as a minister, World War test pilot, engineer and executive. Before his present appointment he held an administrative post with the NRA as director of the Massachusetts State Recovery Board in charge of alloting and registering 40,000 Blue Eagles throughout the state. At the same time he employed stenographers and clerical workers of the CWA and ERA and assigned them to duties with the NRA.

In discussing the policy of direction of District Two Mr. Osborn expressed his intention of continuing the program of providing for all of the 30,000 worthy relief cases on the government rolls and to add as many employees as possible. He stated that he aims to lift the burden on local agencies as much as possible and to put every dollar possible into the pockets of the worthy and needy.

Although born a westerner in South Dakota he has lived for sometime in Massachusetts. He received his early education in Minneapolis. Later he came east and entered the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge from which he graduated in 1917. Following his graduation he became assistant minister of Calvary Church in New York City. In 1918 he entered the air service of the United States and was assigned to duty testing flight planes. At the close of the war he became rector of St. Mark's Church at Riverside, Rhode Island. In the fall of 1919 he became chaplain to the Episcopal students at Harvard and assistant at St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston where he stayed until 1921 when he moved to Montana. In 1923 he resigned from the ministry and returned to business, returning to Boston in 1929. In the summer of 1933 Mr. Osborn volunteered his services as a speaker for the NRA and remained there until his present appointment.

Miss Marion A. Joyce of Brookline, the newly appointed WPA director of the Intake and Certification Division in District Two is a graduate from Radcliffe and holds an M.A. degree from Columbia. The major task of the division is the investigation and certification of the 30,000 or more applicants affected in the transfer of the ERA to the WPA. Miss Joyce and her staff of 137 social service workers and investigators expect to complete this phase of their work by the first of September.

Following the award of her Master's degree Miss Joyce attended the New York School of Social Service. For the next few years she taught in several finishing schools but resigned to accept an appointment as director of the Emergency Work Bureau operated by the Gibson Fund of New York City for placing unemployed women in white-collar jobs. In 1931 she was appointed administrative supervisor in charge of a district under the Emergency Home Relief Administration of New York City. The district comprised over 13,000 families and entailed an expenditure of $25,000 per day. She continued with this work until May 1934 when she was appointed to the social service department of the ERA in Massachusetts. A resident of Brookline for the past fifteen years Miss Joyce resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Joyce, and a sister on Longwood avenue.

Fire In West Newton Shop Does $4000 Damage

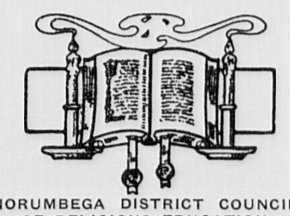

A spark from an electric motor caused an explosion of lacquer fumes at the woodworking shop of Lawrence A. Sprague, rear of 17 Perkins st., West Newton, last Friday morning and a fire resulted which caused damage estimated at about $4000. The shop, a large cement structure, is located behind residences near the corner of Washington and Perkins sts. The business, a thriving little industry, has been conducted by Mr. Sprague since 1906 and seven men were working in the shop when the fire started in the lacquer room about 9:10 a. m. Vernon Benson of Weston rd., Wellesley, who was working in the room, had one of his arms singed when the lacquer fumes ignited from the spark. A considerable amount of stock was burned in the lacquer room and machinery in the building was damaged by water.

MUSIC SCHOOL BEGINS FALL TERM

On Tuesday, October first, the All Newton Music School started its 25th year with a large enrollment and with facilities taxed to the limit. This school gives individual lessons in piano, violin, 'cello, clarinet and voice. All pupils taking instrumental lessons are offered further advantages in trios, ensembles, orchestras and theory classes and are given valuable training for public performance by frequent opportunities to take part in the many pupils' recitals and large concerts which come at regular intervals during the school year. These recitals and concerts are always open to the general public and are free.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

This week is full of interesting events. On Monday a party of 100 students took the trip to Plymouth, which included a clam bake at Duxbury. On Thursday afternoon the members of the Class of '36 were at home to students and other guests in their three Senior houses. Friday evening Mrs. P. C. Beamer of Honolulu entertained the school with a charming talk on Hawaiian customs, music and dancing. The dances were interpreted by her daughter, Elizabeth Beamer, who is a student at the college. She was accompanied by native music. The first of a series of informal dances in The Barn will take place on Saturday evening.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Many changes are being made this year in the Norumbega District School of Religious Education, so that the school may be of more benefit to a larger number of church school teachers of Newton and surrounding towns. There will be six evening sessions, instead of ten, as in the past. This will doubtless appeal to many persons who hesitated to sign up for ten evenings. Tuesday evening will be used for the school, instead of Monday. Many persons who have had other plans for Mondays will now have the opportunity to attend the training school on Tuesday evenings.

The courses to be offered are as follows: "The Life of Christ," "The Growing Idea of God," "The Principles of Teaching," "Music in the Church School," "World Missions" and "Teaching Primary Children." Professor J. P. Berkeley, Mr. Frank H. Grebe, Miss Mildred C. Widder and Mr. Joseph R. Ludwigson are to be the instructors.

The courses will be given at the Newtonville Methodist Church.

Beginners teachers, primary teachers and junior teachers of all church schools are invited to the opening meeting of the Elementary Teachers' Club, a new organization sponsored by the Norumbega District Council of Religious Education, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, at the Newtonville M. E. Church, at 7:45 p. m. Miss Mildred C. Widber, teacher of the primary course in the Norumbega Training School, will speak on "What Are We as Teachers Giving Our Children in the Church School?" Mrs. Fred W. Downer, president of the club, will preside. Mrs. H. C. Mayer, chairman of the program committee, has been making plans for an interesting program.

Oxford Group Movement Represented at Geneva

Those who attended the Oxford Group meeting at the Women's Club in Newton Centre last winter will be interested to know that the Movement is now represented at Geneva by an international team of seven hundred, several of them from Greater Boston, preparing the way for a nation-wide advance in Switzerland similar to that which has recently taken place in Norway and Denmark. Among the local people with the team are the Rev. Frederic C. Lawrence of Cambridge, Mrs. Charles L. Slattery of Boston, Miss Rosamond Lombard, Miss Olive Smith, and Dr. Loring T. Swaim of Brookline, and Mr. Francis Bradley of Dover.

At a luncheon given recently by Edouard Benes, president of the Assembly of the League of Nations, for delegates to meet the Oxford Group leaders, four hundred and fifty diplomats were present. After Mr. Benes had welcomed the team, several of them spoke, giving their message of God-controlled supernationalism as the basis for world co-operation and permanent peace. Mr. Hambro, former president of the Norwegian Parliament, speaking on the advance in Scandinavia this past year said: "The results of the first Norwegian Oxford Group house-party were beyond any expectations. The work has been spreading in Norway ever since. Hundreds and thousands of lives have been changed. The influence of the Group has been felt in every district of Norway and is also spreading to Sweden. The Movement swept Denmark in a way hardly credible to any of us."

Considerable interest has been aroused in Switzerland owing to the fact that the Genevese Socialist Government has given such a cordial welcome to the Group leaders. President Minger of Switzerland, in receiving some of the Group leaders at Berne, recently said: "You are showing the way out of the materialism and self-seeking which have brought the world its present state of chaos . . . . and will make a real contribution toward reconciling the nations."

are forgetful about turning the front signs on the cars and that as a result some of the more stupid passengers, myself included, get mixed up.

The other afternoon at the Watertown car barn, or where there once stood a barn and now exists an open-air transfer station, I sought to change from a Newton-Brighton to a Harvard square car. On the tracks in the vicinity of the waiting room there were three cars, each on a different track, and apparently waiting for the starter's signal. They were headed for Central square, Harvard square and Park street, as I afterwads learned, but the front sign on each read, "Watertown." While I was trying to make out which was which the Harvard square car moved out. I learned what it was from the starter who seemed to think it my fault that I missed it. "That was the Harvard square car," said he, indicating surprise at my stupidity. "How would I know, they're all marked 'Watertown' ", I replied. "You'll get another one in three minutes," he answered and walked away.

Blighted Vision

Crash and another illusion is shattered! Like human hopes, some of my most beautiful thoughts are dashed aside, only to be broken into small unrecognizable pieces. And at the time when they looked most alluring.

Take one of my favorite imaginings—a mental visit to Boston, England. The charm of the place has always been strong and was even greater when I met, a few years ago, the then Mayor of that town on his visit to Boston. Only last week there was the celebration of the tercentenary of Boston Common, Massachusetts, with part of the program held in old Boston and broadcast across the ocean.

And yet before me now as I write is a message that came from a man and his wife, dear friends of mine. They were traveling through England by motor, taking their time, not rushing here and there. Like good, true Bostonians, they made a point of visiting Old Boston and from there mailed me a postcard. The letter which followed upset me completely, for it read: "And then Boston. So disappointing — and where we had never been before — small, sordid and uninteresting. We had arranged to spend the night there, believing that sentiment and history might combine to give us a real time. But, no. After sending you a card written in a dreary, ancient inn, with sagging floors, we pulled out for Lincoln. Thence to York, via Doncaster and its suburb called Bentley, but without postcards with views to immortalize you."

"What's That Noise?"

Security against burglars is only one of the many things an efficient housewife has on her mind. She cautions husband and children, whenever all go out, to be sure doors and windows are locked, lights left burning and other preventive measures taken to discourage thieves. And yet lawbreakers often make their way into a house thus fortified with various degrees of success. An event of this kind occurred in my neighborhood during the family's absence. Little plunder was obtained but, as the man of the house put it, "At last we've had something happen my wife has been expecting for over forty years."

Fined $10 For Speeding

Because Robert W. Gallagher, 25, of 31 Channing st., Newton, happens to be assistant messenger in Governor Curley's office at the State House, because he was accompanied by Edmund Hoy, of Presentation rd., Brighton, an assistant secretary to the Governor, and because the car he was driving was registered in the name of John Donnelly & Sons, of Roxbury, billboard advertising firm, much publicity was given in Boston newspapers on Tuesday regarding the arrest in Springfield on Monday night of Gallagher on a charge of driving at a rate of 50 miles an hour along State st., Springfield's main thoroughfare. In the Springfield court on Tuesday young Gallagher was fined $10 for speeding.

Miss Colleen Moore, motion picture star, was the guest of the Newton Motion Picture Council at a luncheon given at the Brae Burn Country Club on Tuesday, October first. Mrs. Francis J. The committee in charge of the luncheon was Mrs. Irving B. Parkhurst, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Mrs. Harold Drew, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Mrs. W. VanPattensteiger and Mrs. Howard M. LeSourd. Newton Buick Co. Displays New 1936 Models

A brilliant new line of motor cars for 1936 covering four wheel bases with a total of 14 models has been announced by the Buick Motor Company at prices said to be the lowest in the company's history.

The four groups include the Buick Series 40 Special on a 118-inch wheel base chassis, the Series 60 Century on a 122-inch wheel base chassis, the Series 80 Roadmaster on a 131-inch wheel base chassis and the Series 90 Limited on a 138-inch wheel base chassis.

All are powered by Buick designed valve-in-head engines and are characterized by exceptional performance, high top speeds and distinctive new styling. Prices range from $765 for the Series 40 Special business coupe, the lowest priced model in the line, to $1945 for the Series 90 Limited Limousine, which is Buick's highest priced car for 1936. The new prices represent reductions of from $40 to $385 under corresponding 1935 models.

Employment in the company's plants is at a peak for the year with more than 12,000 currently on the payrolls. Most of the manufacturing divisions, including the final assembly, are operating on two and three shifts.

Comparative prices of Sedan Models with built-in trunks for 1936 and 1935 follow:

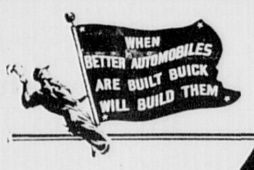

1936—Series 40 Special, $885; Series 60 Century, $1090; Series 80 Roadmaster, $1255; Series 90 Limited, $1695.

ONE LOOK AT THESE PHENOMENAL FOUR AND YOU'LL SAY

"BUICK'S THE BUY!"

TWO years ago Buick deliberately leveled its sights on 1936.

It coolly set its aim on bringing to market for that year a line of motor cars that would startle the world.

It purposed to do that, not by freak or superficial design, not by skimping quality to make a price, but by sheer merit as expressed in automobile beauty, value, ability.

It submits to you now the eminently satisfying results of that fruitful two years of concentrated endeavor.

Here are four separate series of sensational new Buick cars—cars called phenomenal by experts in the trade who previewed them.

Each is a feast to the eye schooled in mature modern styling, as you can see.

Each has under the smooth flowing planes and surfaces of its smart exterior, the solid, tough, durable, beautifully engineered chassis that underwrites Buick dependability.

And each offers you from the stepped-up power of its big thrifty valve-in-head eight-cylinder engine such safe, thrilling performance as you have never known.

These cars are big cars every one—built to almost lavish dimensions of body room and head clearance—yet they handle with the fingertip lightness of small cars.

They are literally breath-taking in power and speed and take-off, yet under their new tiptoe hydraulics and easy-steering knee-action they are almost as manageable as a telephone.

They are thewed and sinewed by that quality which springs from Buick's third of a century of manufacturing experience, advantaged by $14,500,000 worth of new tools, dies and factory re-equipment devised for these cars alone.

These things are so true and so obvious that everywhere you will soon hear the motor-wise saying, "BUICK'S THE BUY!"

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Colorful Pageant To Be Program

The opening meeting of the West Newton Woman's Educational Club will be held on Friday, October 11th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Second Church, West Newton.

A reception will be given to the president, Mrs. John Shade Franklin and the club officers, to be followed by an afternoon entertainment which has been arranged by the Garden Club members and its chairman, Mrs. Percival Waters, of Weston.

"The Shah Hassan's Secret Garden," a poem by Miss Florence B. Ross, will be read by Mrs. Joseph Otis and illustrated by a tableau given by Garden Club members and a solo dance by Miss Jean Stinson. Mrs. Edmund Wilson, of Wellesley, will sing and play Oriental music.

A competitive Exhibition of Flowers will be held, to which members of both Clubs are invited to bring displays to be entered in the following Classes: 1, Miniature Garden; 2, Potted Plants; and 3, Bouquet Arrangements. A blue ribbon is to be awarded to the winners in each class.

To Meet With Club President

The Christian Era Study Club will hold the first meeting of the year 1935-1936 on Monday, October 7th, at the home of the president, Miss Margaret Haskell. The book, "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," by Thomas Hardy, will be discussed, and a definite program will be adopted for the season

Musical Program For Com. Club

On Thursday, October 10th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Underwood School Hall, the Newton Community Club will open the meetings of the year with a musical program. The Music committee, Mrs. Ray Eusden, chairman, offers the Boston Philharmonic Ensemble in an interesting orchestral program, especially designed to suit the music lover and the layman alike. Commencing with a Bouree, by Bach, the program will follow along in chronological sequence with a Rondy, by Haydn (1732-1809); to the Overture, "Magic Flute," by Mozart (1756-1791); and the March, "Ruins of Athens," by Beethoven, (1770-1827). After these, will be played "On Wings of Song," by Mendelssohn, (1809-1847); and then will come one of the beautiful Waltzes of Brahms (1838-1897). The Ensemble will then render "The Song of India," by Rimsky-Korsakoff, (1844-1908), and bring the program to a close with a composition by a composer of the present day.

The program will be played by well-known Boston orchestral players, a group that have appeared together regularly for a number of years. It is headed by Willem Frank, Pianist, and the others of the personnel are Harry Dubb, Violinist; Ralph Smalley, Cellist; J. Whitcher, Flute; and Rudolph Toll, Clarinet.

The president, Mrs. Alfred H. Handley, will conduct the business meeting, and Tea will be served by the Social committee.

Luncheon, Talk, Quaint Exhibit

The American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, held their first fall meeting on Wednesday, October 3rd, at the home of one of its members, Mrs. Carl Thomas, 77 Davis ave., West Newton, with luncheon served at 12:30 o'clock.

The services of Mr. T. L. Roderheiser of the Johns-Manville Company were secured, his subject being "Practical Improvements for Home Enjoyment."

An interesting Exhibition of Toby Jugs was held, under the direction of Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, completing the many interesting features of the meeting.

Enjoyable Program At Highlands

Members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club crowded the Congregational Parish House on Tuesday afternoon for the first meeting of the year. The president, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, welcomed them to another year of work and pleasure, and committee chairmen outlined opening plans for the year.

Mrs. Ray S. Kelley, chairman of the Music committee, cordially invited all women who enjoy singing to join the Club Chorus.

Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director, who was in the audience, was called upon to give a word of greeting.

The State Federation secretary, Mrs. F. Lyman Wells, reported the Annual Meeting of the State Federation held at Swampscott last May, and mentioned the fact that one of the outstanding speakers of that meeting, Mr. Herbert Agar, is to be heard by the Newton Highlands Club on November 19th.

Before adjourning for tea served by the Social committee, Mrs. Robert D. Flansburg, chairman, the audience laughed and wept with Adele Neff over her "Average Family at 7:30 A. M.," "Three Generations Discussing Marriage," and "The Mountain Girl," on trial for shooting her lover, and enjoyed unrestrainedly her burlesque of a "Woman's Club Meeting" and other humorous numbers.

Club President Opens Home

The first meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Albert Proctor, of Chestnut street, at 8 o'clock, on Monday evening, October 7.

Reports of both the City and State Federations Annual Meetings will be read.

The entertainer for the evening will be Miss Esther Nelson who will give a program of several readings.

Women Voters Plan Politics School Oct. 29

Of interest to Clubwomen who may wish to secure certain political information is the announcement that the Massachusetts League of Women Voters will open its 1935-1936 program of Schools of Politics in co-operation with the Boston branch of this organization, at Perkins Hall, Boston, on October 29.

Announcing the event, Mrs. Richard Field, president of the League, points out that in conformity with its custom, this School is being planned to take place a week before municipal elections in order that its program may include clarification of outstanding problems now awaiting decisive action by the candidates who will be elected the following Tuesday.

The general subject for the School of Politics will be "Home Affairs: State, City." The School will open at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. At 1 o'clock recess will be taken for an informal basket luncheon and continuing discussion. The afternoon session at 2 o'clock will be given exclusively to consideration of city problems under the leadership of Prof. Morris B. Lambie who comes to the Government Department of Harvard University this year as an authority on public administration.

The school is open to the public.

Press Chairmen Invited to Talks

The department of Women's Clubs of the Boston Herald is inviting Press chairmen of women's clubs, and other interested club officers or members, to attend two Press Talks, for Wednesday afternoons, to be given in the Auditorium of the Herald-Traveler building, on October 9th, and 16th, at 2 o'clock.

A similar talk will be given to Junior Club Press chairmen on Saturday, November 16th, also at 2 o'clock.

There will be different speakers, among them several members of the Editorial Staff of the Herald and Traveler. An opportunity will be given to tour the building and see how a newspaper is printed. Those who attend are asked to bring notebook and pencil, as there will be definite instructions and practice given in the writing of news for publicity of club affairs. There will be a contest in writing a short and a long story of a club event, and ribbon prizes will be awarded to the winners at the Club Institute of the State Federation to be held on November 7th, at the Y. W. C. A., Boston.

Miss Grace Parker, State Federation chairman of Press and Publicity, is assisting the Herald Women's Clubs Editor, and several State Federation officers will attend the Talks. Miss Ruth Lothrop, State Federation chairman of Junior Membership, will attend the Junior meeting.

NOTE. These instructions are, naturally, primarily for those Press chairmen who are aiming at the Boston Sunday Herald for their items. Some of the may be helpful in a general way for all newspapers, city or suburban.

But Press chairmen are cautioned that these instructions will be from the viewpoint of the Boston newspaper, and even in matters of form and construction other Club Editors may have different ideas, due to their experiences, and newspaper policy. Since the Rules of suburban Editors may be quite different from the form accepted by the Boston newspaper Editor, Press chairmen should, therefore, learn the Rules formulated by the Editors of local Club Pages, and conform to them, and not rely upon the instructions given by Boston departments, if they desire publicity in suburban Women's Clubs pages, as well as in Boston.

Ideas Presented at N. E. Conference

A National University which would be to the Federal Government what West Point is to the Army was recommended by Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, on Wednesday, September 25th, in her address before the 26th Annual Meeting of the New England Conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs at the Biltmore Hotel, Providence.

Mrs. Lawson said that women must be educated along governmental lines. She spoke of the present conditions in Europe and said: "More and more because of the chaotic conditions in

Flower Show Attracts Many

Visitors from fifteen other garden clubs, even from clubs located as distant as Kent, Conn., and Pittsfield, Maine, and from Worcester and Bridgewater, Mass., as well as flower lovers from Newton and the surrounding suburbs, visited the second Annual Flower Show of the Newtonville Garden Club at the Woman's Club House on September 26th, in which the Garden Club was assisted by the Conservation committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club.

Besides the varied and beautiful displays of blooms called for in seven classes of the schedule, another group was open only to the men of Newtonville, and it was in this group that the enormous Jane Cowl dahlias entered by Mr. George A. Edmands won the State Award for the best exhibit in the entire Show. The Directors' room of the Club House, opening from Social Hall, where the main show was arranged, was given over to the Men's Contributions, and as one entered this room, a large basket of Mr. Edmands's gorgeous bronze, buff, and yellow dahlias immediately attracted interest and admiration. Most of the entries in this class were of unusually fine fruit and vegetables.

The centre table in the Main Hall was made up of Bubble and Reflected Bouquets. The bubble bouquet, in an inverted globe, is a new and difficult arrangement, and even though, to the layman, those displayed seemed beautiful and artistic, the judges considered none worthy of a first prize.

A most unique plan for the Specimen Zinnia Class was designed and executed by Mrs. Carl W. Somers. A long table covered with brown peat moss and marked into diamonds by single lines of evergreen was made to represent the Friendship pattern of a patchwork quilt. Arranged alternately in the diamonds was a zinnia leaf or a specimen bloom, the whole table presenting a very attractive and original effect.

The stage, designed as an Herb Garden by Harriette Patey Long and executed by Mrs. Horace P. Coleman and her committee, attracted much attention. Paths were laid out so that those interested might study at close range the forty-seven varieties of labelled herbs, several of them in flower. Some of the common garden plants recognized for the first time by many as herbs were shown in this particular class. At one end of the garden was an old English bee-skep, a rarity in this country. Along the wall was an espalier-trained apple tree, and these features with a sun dial and a garden bench completed a realistic garden at the front of the hall.

At one side of the room, Tussie-Mussies (small bouquets of small flowers and herbs) were made up and sold by Mrs. Horace W. Orr and Mrs. Alfred Ziegler, the first president of the Garden Club, and from 2 to 5 o'clock tea was served by Mrs. P. B. Howard and her committee.

During the afternoon, Mr. Paul Dempsey, of the Field Station of the Massachusetts State College at Waltham, conducted a large group from table to table, explaining from a judge's standpoint, the good and faulty features of many of the entries, thereby giving much assistance and information to future exhibitors. Mr. Dempsey, with Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., of Newton, and Mrs. Frederick Rising, of Newton Centre, acted as judges.

The president of the Garden Club, Mrs. Walter S. Adams, with Mrs. Horace P. Coleman, chairman of the Conservation committee of the Woman's Club, were assisted by the following committee: Mrs. Herbert L. Slade, Mrs. George A. Edmands, Mrs. Frank A. Wightman, Mrs. N. A. Hallett, Mrs Carl W. Somers, Mrs. Arthur W. Church, Mrs. J. Walter Allen, and Mrs. Charles E. Beatty.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Class I, Arrangement of Wayside Material; first, Newtonville Garden Club; second, Newton Upper Falls Garden Club; third, Needham Garden Club; and honorable mention, Arlington Garden Club.

Class II. Intimate Bouquets: first, Mrs. A. H. Decatur; second, Mrs. Thomas Stewart; third, Mrs. Herbert L. Slade; and honorable mention, Mrs. Horace P. Coleman.

Class III. Arrangement in a prune bottle for a kitchen windowsill: first, Mrs. C. P. Frail; second, Mrs. Herbert L. Slade; third, Mrs. Frank A. Wightman; and honorable mention, Mrs. Seth M. Kalberg and Mrs. Carl W. Somers.

Class IV. What's New in the Catalogues: first, Mrs. William T. White; second, Mrs. George A. Edmands; and third, Mrs. Horace P. Coleman.

Class V. Specimen Zinnias: first, Mrs. M. F. Hartshorne; second, Mrs. Edwin F. Quinlan; and third, Mrs. Horace P. Coleman.

Class VI. Arrangement of Flowers in Crystal: A. Bubble Bouquet: no first prize; second, Mrs. Walter S. Adams; B. Reflected Bouquets: Mrs. W. C. West; and second, Mrs. George Glover.

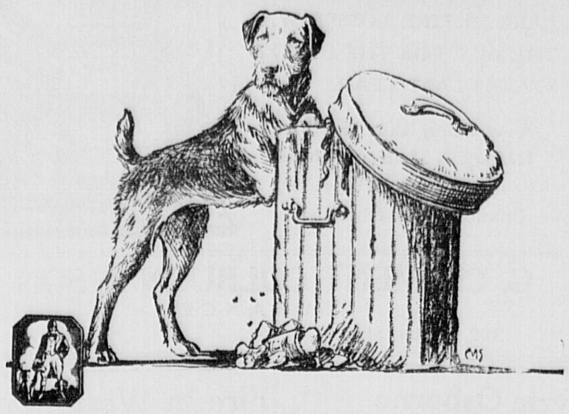

Class VII. Products of My Garden: State Award Blue Ribbon, Mr. George A. Edmands; first, Mr. Walter S. Adams; second, Mr. Albert D. Auryansen; and third, Mr. H. Philip Patey.

Class VIII. Arrangement of Garden Flowers of two or more varieties for the living-room: A. In a tall metal container: first, Mrs. Herbert L. Slade; second, Mrs. Fred Rust; and third, Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen; and B. In a low pottery container: first, Miss Elizabeth Hartshorne; and second, Mrs. Arthur W. Church.

Newton Highlights

Six Newton youths are among the 86 freshmen at Bowdoin College who reported for freshman football called by Linn S. Wells, new freshman football coach. The men are James B. Hunter, of Newton; John N. Greeley and John C. MacCarey, of Newton Centre; Louis W. Bruemmer, Jr., and Ross L. McLean, of West Newton; and Robert E. Foley, of Waban. The freshmen will open against the Ricker Classical Institute, of Houlton, Me., Oct. 18, in Brunswick.

Coach Sanborn is one of the few high school football coaches who could field a 190-lb. line. If he wanted to do so, and he may before the season is over, the Newton High coach could replace Carl Davis with Bob Whelden, play Bob Prowten at the end, and his line would scale a little over 191 on the average. No wonder the Sanborn machine has already been characterized "a very ugly nightmare to any of its foes."

George Gulian of Newton, 172-lb. junior at Harvard, was the lightest of eight guards retained on the university football and squad in the last cut made by Coach Harlow. Gulian learned football from Abner Bailey on one of the jayvee teams at Newton High six years ago. Another Harvard prospect is John C. Jones of West Newton, the biggest candidate for freshman football, who stands 6 feet 8 in. and weighs 225 lbs.

Milton Green, Captain of the Harvard track team, addressed the September meeting of the Newton Squash & Tennis Club. He spoke of his experiences when he won several first places at the Harvard-Yale-Oxford-Cambridge meet in England and also of his trip to France and Northern Africa. Green, who established a wonderful record at Newton High School in studies and athletics, also showed motion pictures of the contest in England and of his trip. The meeting and talk was followed by the club's usual good fellowship "get together" and refreshments. Major Gorfinkle, President, presided during the evening.

Jesse Hale, who used to carry 230 lbs. when broad-jumping for the Newton High track team last winter, and consistently bettered nine feet in the event, has turned to football in earnest. After working hard all summer, and losing thirty pounds in the process, Jess is playing first string tackle for the Northeastern freshmen and enjoying the game tremendously.

Three other ex-Newtonians are on the Husky freshman squad. Bob Kiley is an end candidate. While at Newton he was on the track team and on the baseball squad. Bob Daniels and Matthew Billings, who took no part in high school athletics, are the other two local candidates.

LYNN ENGLISH POWER WANES AS TWO QUIT

The lineup of the Lynn English High School football team which will entertain Newton High tomorrow is definitely unsettled. Coach Tom Phelan has been having a busy time this week trying to develop his best eleven to throw against the undefeated invaders, what with two of his regulars quitting the team.

After the scoreless tie game with Revere High last Monday at Revere, a first string guard, De Lucca and Mancinelli, a fullback, deserted the English team in a huff, for reasons which have not yet been made public. Chances are that they will be back on the field sporting the maroon and white tomorrow, however, for the team can ill afford to do without them.

Held by Revere

Last Monday at Paul Revere Park, Revere, Lynn English was nearly defeated by a lighter Revere team, and the game ended with the ball inches from the Lynn goal line. The Revere team was outplayed most of the time, but showed the will to win in the last period by driving 57 yards down the field, making all but 20 yards on running plays.

Lynn English showed a potentially strong aerial attack, with Eddie Moore, a colored boy, throwing accurately to several butterfingered receivers. Sam Mitchell, the center, did the kicking. Lynn English has five veterans in the lineup. With only this much information to go on, no observer will concede English much chance of holding Newton's attack. The Garden City team required only five stock plays to keep Cambridge on the run last Monday, and not until there is need will Captain Ernie Savignano produce the more intricate and spectacular football which the Newtonians have in store for later and more difficult skirmishes. Newton 27, Lynn English 6, is the forecast for tomorrow at Lynn.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON WEAKENED BY INJURIES FOR LYNN TILT

Football is a strange game. The Newton High eleven climbed all over their Cambridge Latin rivals for a 20-0 victory, but drew as commendation nothing more complimentary than such terms as "lethargic," "unimpressive", and "away below form". The Newton team had instructions to play conservative football, but they obeyed instructions too well. However, no team can be expected to play top-notch football against a club that plays as hysterically bad football as Cambridge did last Monday, losing the ball a number of times on fumbles.

There will be no startling changes in the lineup as the team faces Lynn English tomorrow, and what changes are made are due to injuries. Jim McEwan and Ralph Salvucci are again ready at the ends, while Allen Wilson, Bob Prowten, Howard Milner and Tiny Whelden will cover the tackle assignments. Injuries to Carl Davis and Gerry DeNapoli, regular guards, raise Howard Gross and Bill Newcomb to the first string, with McHugh and Steinsieck as reserves. Jim Packard and Brad Thompson are both fit as varsity centres.

With Burt Woodward on the sidelines with a rib injury, either Jack Herrick or Charles "Red" Callanan will start in his place at half back. John Reardon again will start at fullback, Ernest MacLeod at half, and the indispensable triple-threat, Captain Ernie Savignano at quarterback.

Daniels and Johnston are replacement quarterbacks, Al Thompson, fullback, Joyce and Paul Forte, halfbacks. Al Kinney, a new halfback, may get his break in the Lynn game. Excepting for Thompson, who was out with an injury, and Kinney, all these substitute backs saw service against Cambridge Latin and all did well. Pete Donavan and Paul Robie are first reserve ends, and others who may break in at ends tomorrow are Duane and Colantonio.

CAPITALIZING BREAKS GIVES NEWTON WIN

Capitalizing on Cambridge Latin miscues early in their postponed Saturday's game at Dickinson field the Newton High eleven clinched the game on Monday afternoon with two touchdowns in the initial period. A third tally in the third period set the final score at 20 to 0. With many second and third stringers in the game much of the time other scoring opportunities were wasted by faulty handling of the ball or the whistle. Both teams fumbled four times but Newton recovered three of the Cantabs misplays while only losing the ball once on their own fumbles. The ball was inside the Newton 40-yard stripe only once when a clipping penalty after a Cambridge kickoff set Newton back to the 25-yard line. Defensively Newton didn't give the visiting eleven a chance. Cambridge never advanced the ball beyond its 30-yard line and once received a punt on its 40-yard stripe.

Two Quick Scores

Newton kicked off and on the first play Gallagher, Cantab halfback, fumbled with Alan Wilson recovering for Newton on the 17-yard line. Newton's first chance was wasted when after two line plunges two passes were incompleted to give Cambridge the ball on its 20-yard mark. An exchange of kicks gave Cambridge the ball on its 14-yard line. On the next Cantab punt Alan Wilson partially blocked the ball and Newton recovered on the 22-yard line. Two line plunges picked up five yards. Savvy found a hole at tackle and stepped his way 16 yards to within three feet of the goal. On the next play Ernie McLeod raced around his left end for a touchdown in the corner of the field. Savvy's try for point was low. Newton again kicked off and D'Entrement, running the ball back, was jarred by a Newton tackle and fumbled. DeNapoli and McEwan covered the ball for Newton on the Cantab 28. Savignano tossed a pass into MacLeod's arms on the two yard line and then Savvy carried it over through right guard. Reardon bucked centre for the point. Cambridge kicked off and on the runback a clipping penalty set Newton back to its 25-yard stripe and Savignano's punt, to the Cambridge 40 ended the period.

On the first play in the second period Savvy intercepted a Cantab pass and got back ten yards to near midfield. The next play provided the longest run of the day when Savvy cavorted 32 yards through tackle to the Cantab 20 yards stripe. Jimmy Joyce, Newton sub back, slipped around end for 10 yards but fumbled as he was tackled and a probable scoring march was halted on the Cambridge 6 yard line. Fullback Emmenke gained 8 yards and halfback Gallagher 15 on the two best Cambridge gains of the afternoon but an incomplete pass and an offside penalty stopped any further advance and forced a kick which Joyce ran back to midfield. Newton advanced to the Cantab 25 yard line, chalking up two first downs before the half ended. Herrick, Daniels and Callanan each plunged for five yard gains during this march.

Another Blocked Kick

Opening the second half the kickoff was again fumbled to give Newton the ball deep in Cantab territory. McLeod and Savvy ground their way to the three yard line. On fourth down Savvy passed to McLeod but D'Entrement succeeded in grounding the ball just as McLeod got his fingers on it. Getting the ball on a punt just beyond midfield Newton started another march with McLeod, Woodward and Savvy playing alternate roles. Two first downs were chalked up but Cambridge stiffened to take the ball on downs on the 14 yard line. Two plays later Wilson crashed through again to block the punt and a half dozen players raced for the ball which bounded into the end zone. Jim McEwan, Newton end, reached it first, and Newton had another touchdown with Savignano adding the 20th point by a perfect dropkick. Three plays after the ensuing kickoff the period ended.

Getting possession of the ball on a Cantab punt near midfield on the second play of the quarter Newton started another march in which the many Sanborn substitutes participated. Forte showed a lot of class with two end run jaunts of about ten yards but the Cantabs got the ball on downs on their 12 yard line. A short kick and Newton started again from the 35. Herrick, plunging behind Whelden, Newton sub-tackle, bowled the Cantab line over for five yards at a clip and soon Newton was again on the five yard line. Here a pass from centre went wrong and Callanan recovered for a 12-yard loss. With Herrick gaining 3 yards and Forte 7 the game ended with Newton on the Cantab 7 yard line.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 6.

The Golden Text is: "What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 23:28).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin. And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever. If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed" (John 8:34-36).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "From first to last the supposed coexistence of Mind and matter and the mingling of good and evil have resulted from the philosophy of the serpent. Jesus' demonstrations sift the chaff from the wheat, and unfold the unity and the reality of good, the unreality, the nothingness, of evil" (p. 269).

Charge W. Newton Man With Trespass

Frank A. Wetherell of 146 Forest ave., Newtonville will be summoned to appear in the Dedham court next Wednesday on the charge of trespassing on the Newton water reservation at Needham. Last Friday Wetherell and a companion started to enter the reservation while riding horses. He was told by Special Officer John B. Sullivan that he could not enter the reservation as it is closed to the public. According to Sullivan, Wetherell stated that he is a friend of Mayor Weeks, and rode into the reservation against Sullivan's warning. The matter was reported to Water Commissioner Murray and a complaint entered against the West Newton man. As Needham is in the Dedham court district, the complaint was made to that court.

Friendship Village At Newtonville On Oct. 17th

Thursday, Oct. seventeen, Friendship Village will be seen, without a school or city hall. There'll be two days to see it all.

Its pointed roofs and little shops with wares from lace to lemon-drops will tempt those passing to explore what lies inside each open door. The young, the old, the in-between, are managing this village green. On Thursday puppets take the stage for children of most any age, and on each night, to tempt one sorely, there'll be a one-act play by Morley.

You'll find the place without a search inside the doors of Central Church,—the only town, not theoretic, completely safe for the peripatetic.

A luncheon, dainty, there will be; an ice cream cone; a cup of tea; or if your inner urge is hearty you'd better choose the dinner party where folks will eat like you and me, but only Men the cooks will be.

Good fellowship's the town's ambition,—and extra cash no inhibition. So save some pennies in your pocket and set the dates down on your docket. Come join the Friendship Village traffic! For details see your next week's GRAPHIC.

Auburndale Architect Wins Remodelling Prize

Mr. Frederic Leslie Ford of 21 Camden rd., Auburndale, has been awarded the bronze medal for the best exterior remodeling work in the state of Massachusetts, by the Good Housekeeping Magazine, in its recent national contest.

The prize winning entry is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Houghton, 22 Central st., Auburndale. The house illustrates how successfully the old fashioned type of building can be altered, at moderate cost, to meet present-day standards of beauty and grace.

Mr. Ford, who is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was one of the winners in the recent home building contest sponsored by Jordan Marsh Company.

Sunday Evening Club To Hold First Meeting

To all Newton college age young people interested, the Sunday Evening Club extends a cordial invitation to attend its opening meeting this Sunday, Oct. 6, at 8:00 in the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. A special effort will be made to get people acquainted. The speaker will be Dr. Winfred Overholser of Wellesley; his subject "The Psychology of Abnormal People." Dr. Overholser was head of the Massachusetts Division of Examination for prisoners in state penal institutions, and has made extensive studies of criminals, especially of mental defectives. He is now head of the Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases.

The combination of a full moon and Columbus day will be exploited to the full. Two trips are planned, the larger group leaving the Church Saturday morning at 8:30 for a Mt. Monadnock hike, returning late in the evening after a campfire gathering; the smaller going to Mt. Adams, sleeping out or in an A. M. C. hut, and returning late Sunday.

PARKER—BURROUGH

White gladioli, palms and smilax decorated the chancel of the Union Church in Waban when Miss Lillian Ward Burrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Burrough was married on Sept. 28th to Floyd Thomas Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas Parker of Newton Highlands. Mr. Joseph MacDonald, pastor of the Union Church, officiated. The bride, wearing an ivory satin gown, princess style, with veil of Brussels net with orange blossoms entwined, and carrying a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley, was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. John W. Adams, Jr., of Suffren, N. Y., was matron of honor and was gowned in Alice blue velvet with hat to match and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

The attending bridesmaids were Miss Helen Perkins of Pelham, N. Y., Mrs. Lyman W. Phillips of Taunton; they were gowned in sapphire blue velvet and wore hats to match and carried old fashioned bouquets. Miss Beverly Jean Ward of Framingham, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl; she was most daintily dressed in a pink Kate Greenaway frock and carried a basket of rose petals. The bridegroom's father, Mr. Thomas C. Parker, was best man.

In the usher group were Messrs Lawrence Eaton of Arlington, Arnold Burrough, brother of the bride, Stephen Black of Newton, Charles Tinker of Allston, Richard Savory of Wellesley Hills, and Stanley Gilbert of Boston.

Mrs. Burrough, mother of the bride, was gowned in purple crystal velvet and the groom's mother, Mrs. Parker wore black crepe with gold metal design.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride s parents on Dorset rd.

The bride attended Lyndon Hall School in Pennsylvania and the Copley Players in Boston.

Mr. Parker is manager of a firm of wool dealers in Boston.

After an extended trip through Texas, New Mexico and Mexico Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home in Boston.

Gardner Files Papers For Ald.-At-Large

Roger J. Gardner, a candidate from Ward 6 for Alderman-at-Large, has filed his nomination papers, which contain the signatures of many prominent citizens in the various wards.

Mr. Gardner is running as the People's Candidate and is pledged to no political machine, believing that now is the time for office holders to be thinking men, sufficiently independent to stand and speak for reforms in extravagance, waste and heavy taxation, thinking of the pocketbooks of all his constituents and not a "Yes Man" for those grasping out for more despotic power and encroaching on the Constitution of the United States.

He believes in healthy discussion of municipal finances and needs viewed from the taxpayers' and citizens' viewpoint and does not believe in making such discussions an arena for voicing personal spites and hatred.

If such personal attacks could be kept out of political campaigns, it is Mr. Gardner's belief that a much higher type and more public-spirited citizens would seek office and give of their time and efforts furthering the city's purposes, aims and government. He assures the Newton citizenry that he aims to carry these principles into his campaign and if elected into his work in the Board of Aldermen.

September Building Report

The Newton building report for September shows that 75 permits were issued during the month; the estimated cost of the work to be done was $179,495. Of the permits 16 were for single residences valued at $130,000; 37 for alterations on residences to cost $39,465; 13 for garages to cost $4,340. In September, 1934, 44 permits were issued and the cost of the work to be done under them was $107,336.

Day Jr. High School

Audiometer tests are being given this week at the F. A. Day, under the direction of Miss Seal, assisted by Mrs. Barrows. Each child listens through an ear phone to first a woman's and then a man's voice, reading numbers. The voice gradually grows dimmer, and the child with defective hearing is unable to take the numbers which he hears on the phone. Through the use of these tests the teacher is enabled to seat the pupil to his best advantage.

At the assembly last Friday morning a variety program was enjoyed. Mr. Spaulding explained registration in music classes and then showed pictures of the band and orchestra at the outdoor concert last spring.

Josephine Shardelli was chairman of the assembly on Friday. Elsie Marcell recited Rudyard Kipling's "If." Mavis Hayden recited a poem in French. Irma Rosenthal likewise contributed a poem. Inez Holman played Percy Grainger's "Country Gardens" and Claire Silva did a dance. Four boys played harmonica solos: Harold Chamberlain, Bob Hayes, Dominic Canonico, and John Kelly.

The school is proud to have been represented at the State Tennis Tournament at Chestnut Hill by Albert Evarts. Albert is now the boys' state tennis champion.

Registration for music classes has been taking place this week. There are registrants for the usual classes —drum major, band instrument, violin, and piano. A new class is in the offing which will include the mandolin, banjo, and guitar.

As a token of their affection and esteem, teachers at the F. A. Day have presented Miss Harriet Goodnow with a radio. Miss Goodnow has been teaching social studies at the F. A. Day until recently.

Enrolment at the F. A. Day has increased this year. Since the boundaries from which the pupils come cover less area than formerly, it is the more significant that there should be this increase. At present there are about 660 pupils.

The school's first assembly was held last Friday morning, with Bill Harber acting as chairman. The functioning of the Student Council and the Student Patrol was explained to the new pupils, the former conducting a model meeting. Nicholas Cedrone played a violin solo. Mr. Burkhard spoke to the school on making the most of the sixty seconds in a minute, whether at work or play.

The new study-period in the middle of the school day is proving a valuable experiment. Pupils have an opportunity for reading, when their studying is completed. The school library has increased its book circulation to twice what it was previously.

Last week-end four F. A. Day teachers were the guests of Miss Susan Doran at her summer home in Rindge, N. H. They included Miss Spelman, Miss Meserve, Miss Johnson, and Miss Gibson.

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gustavsen on the birth of a son on September 23. Mr. Gustavsen teaches practical arts at the Day and is also supervising the lunchroom at the noon hour.

Weeks Jr. High

A familiar figure at our school assemblies is the Rev. Samuel A. Lindsay of Brookline, who never fails to interest the pupils on topics of current events. At the assembly on Friday, September 27, Christine Cameron introduced Dr. Lindsay, who spoke on the "Who, Why, What, and Where of Stalin of Russia, Hitler of Germany and Mussolini of Italy." The lives, purposes, principles and predictions as to the futures of these three dictators were vividly presented by Dr. Lindsay.

At the first meeting of the Student Council, held on Friday, the following officers were elected: President, Tom Burkhard; Vice-President, Clifford Goodband; Secretary, Mary Flynn; Captain Girls' Student Patrol, Mary Ormsby; and Captain Boys' Student Patrol, Vincent Manchester.

Mr. Charles R. Spaulding spoke to the student body assembled in the auditorium on Monday, September 30, in regard to the opportunities offered in the school for instrumental music lessons. In concluding his talk, Mr. Spaulding explained the various types of instruments used in bands.

The first Parents' Day of the year was observed on Tuesday afternoon, October 1. Many parents availed themselves of the opportunity to get better acquainted with the teachers and twenty-nine different activities were listed this year in the club program of the school. Among them are several entirely new clubs as follows, together with their sponsors: Boys' Hobby, Mrs. Hastings; Chef, Miss Andrews; Confectionery, Mrs. Sandwall; Geology, Miss Jonah; Girls' Hobby, Miss Dow; Home Nursing, Miss Norcross; the Modern Dance, Miss Cook and Mrs. Dinsmoor; Outing (for seventh grade boys), Miss Russell; Projectors, Mr. Samuelson; Radio, Mr. Colvin; Science, Miss Foster; and Stage, Miss O'Brien.

The first assembly was held on Wednesday, September 25, during the regular club period. Subsequent assemblies are scheduled for Fridays. Thomas Burkhard, president of last year's eighth grade presided over the program which was in the nature of welcome to new people in the school. "Hail Our Junior High School" by the Weeks' Band was the first number on the program, during which Jean Tennant gave a demonstration of baton twirling. Thomas Burkhard then extended to the new members of the faculty a most cordial welcome to which Mr. Raymond W. Blaisdell, the new principal, responded. Mary Ruggles, accompanied by her mother at the piano, rendered a violin solo. A welcome to the new seventh graders and other new-comers to the school was given by Donald Marr, president of last year's seventh grade. Chester Sims of the present seventh grade responded for the new pupils. A trumpet solo, "Roses of Picardy" was played by Richard Means, accompanied by his mother. A talk on the duties of the Student Patrol was given by Robert Nichols, and the concluding number of the program included the singing of two school songs by the student body. The Weeks Band made its first appearance of the season when it played for the marching to and from the auditorium.

At recently held elections, the following ninth graders became members of the Student Council: James Tobin, Room 104; Allen Tailby, 204; Mary Ormsby, 208; Robert Liming, 209; Richard Kerr, 210; Clifford Goodband, 211; Fersino D'Eugenio, 213; John Dawson, 216; and Thomas Burkhard, 315. In addition to those mentioned above, Herbert Bernard, Room 104; Mary Flynn, 211; Broun Powers, 208; and Vincent Manchester, 209, were elected members-at-large from the ninth grade.

At the annual meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts League of Junior High School Publications held last may in Melrose, Dawn Eaton was elected Recording Secretary. Dawn Eaton has since moved to Brookline but the office is retained by the Weeks School and Barbara McCabe has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Robert Greene has been elected by the staff of the Weeks Junior World as Editor-in-Chief for the current school year.

The girls are this year enjoying intramural competition in sports through home-room leagues in field hockey with the following chosen captains of their respective home-rooms: Grade 9—104, Charlotte Walker; 204, Carol Tibbott; 208, Jacqueline Proctor; 209, Betty Monroe; 210, Jane Hickox; 211, Mary Flynn; 213, Anna D'Ercole; 216, Evelyn Carroll; and 315 Geraldine Basler. Europe, we are led to believe that the mind of men will never cease to think of war. It would seem that only women can end war."

She suggested very strongly education in governmental technique and diplomatic training. At a National University, such as she suggested, she said, young men and women could be properly trained.

Mrs. Lawson urged clubwomen to keep their eyes on activities in Washington, recommended thorough study of all bills coming before the next session of Congress, and specified, in particular, a study of the new Security Act.

Her discussion of motor laws and of her experiences crossing the country from Oklahoma to Rhode Island was one of the hits of her address. A concerted effort for more uniformity in motor laws and highway signals throughout the United States is one of the new measures to be launched under the auspices of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in October, she declared, as the result of her painful experiences.

"I am probably the first president of the General Federation to drive her own car," said Mrs. Lawson, "and I have just come on to Federation Headquarters in Washington from the West, driving through twelve States, and finding in that trip as many different kinds of signals.

"Every State had different driving regulations, with the result that I would hear behind me whistles blown, and be stopped by officials who told me I had violated some regulation which I could not possibly have known about, when ever I went into a new State.

"In October we shall set up an organization on Safety in the Federation, with a special chairman for that department. There should be some universal system of signals for driving throughout the country, which will be a great help in avoiding accidents that are caused by the present differences."

The presence of Mrs. Lawson at the Convention was the highlight of the event, and attracted about 700 club leaders from the New England States, including a representation of several hundred from Massachusetts. Among these were Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth and Mrs. David A. Westcott, two of the State vice-presidents. Massachusetts clubwomen regretted it greatly that Mrs. Walker, their state president, was not present.

The evening reception and banquet in Mrs. Lawson's honor were marked by gaiety, and she was presented with a handsome petit point handbag by the Rhode Island Federation. Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, Conference chairman, who presided at the meetings, and Mrs. La Fell Dickinson, General Federation treasurer, were presented with jewelled bracelets, and the New England presidents with jewelled pendants. Others at the head table received jewelled clips.

Mrs. Omeron H. Coolidge of Vermont, a former chairman of the N. E. Conference, gave the invocation. and Mrs. Henry M. Cushman, veteran past Conference chairman, was toastmaster, introducing the presidents of the State Federations who responded to the subject "Our Pioneer Women." Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, second vice-president of the Massachusetts Federation, gave the speech in place of Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, the president, who was not able to attend the Convention, on account of illness.

Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, of Wollaston, beloved by Massachusetts clubwomen, a former chairman of the New England Conference and a past president of the Massachusetts Federation, spoke Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. H. A. Mayforth, of Vermont, chairman of Art, announced the compiling of a list of all historic houses, museums and art centers of New England.

Miss Phoebe Lee Hosmer, of Massachusetts, Literature chairman, urged clubs to establish club libraries. Mrs. William C. Chapman, of New Hampshire, Music chairman, recommended that clubs "be very particular about what music is put into the schools."

"A square deal for New England can be secured by strict adherence to the Constitution of the United States" was the statement made by Wallace E. Stearns, of Boston, State chairman of the Young Republicans of Massachusetts, known as the Yankee Minute Men, one of the speakers at the afternoon meeting. He discussed "New England—Today and Tomorrow."

"These are days that demand courage, vision and vigor," said Mr. Stearns, "These are times that challenge the best that we have in resources and in ability. Yankee Minute Men are dedicated to work ceaselessly to promote all of our institutions and all worthwhile that today exists in these New England States.

"Back of all the difficulties of these times and the perplexities that confront us lies the fact that we have long been astray from the fundamentals or religion and character that were such vital factors in all worthwhile activities in New England throughout our history. No nation or part of a nation can grow truly great through material progress alone. We must exchange the policy of mere grabbing for true service to our fellowmen.

"You are molders of the destinies of those who will carry on for New England. You can educate all with whom you come in contact in the importance of practicing the Golden Rule.

"We have the great opportunity of helping in the eventual solution of these problems by doing our share in our home towns to raise the standards of human conduct in every phase of activity with which we come in contact. As we do this we are shaping the destiny of the tomorrow of New England by acting in the today," said Mr. Stearns in conclusion.

At a "Rhode Island dinner" on Tuesday evening, the 24th, the first of two major social events on the three-day program, the women of New England were urged by Governor Theodore Francis Green and by Mayor James E. Dunne to become active crusaders and make their influence felt in the affairs of state and nation.

"Do not be satisfied merely with casting ballots," he told the delegates, "be crusaders, initiators, reformers."

He exhorted the women "to see to it that your Government, be it State or local, does not let its teachers go underpaid while it fritters money away on foolish or far less necessary matters."

Along this same line of thought was the address at the closing session on Thursday, the 26th, by Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, Professor of Municipal Government at Columbia.

The importance of a trained personnel in city government was emphasized by Prof. Gulick as one of the best means of effecting economy.

Economy in government, he said, does not mean playing the miser. It means careful buying, resourceful planning and getting along without unessentials. In order to put through a program of this sort it is imperative, he declared, to have a trained personnel.

The new officers, elected without opposition, were presented to the Convention at the closing session. Mrs. Joseph S. Leach, of Walpole, Mass., a well-known and popular Massachusetts clubwoman, was the chairman of the Nominating committee making up the ballot.

Miss Emily Louise Plumley, of Greenbrook, Conn., a noted clubwoman of the General Federation Executive Board, was elected chairman. Mrs. Harry W. Smith, retiring State president of New Hampshire, was elected vice-chairman; Mrs. James C. Carmark, retiring president of the Rhode Island State Federation, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, of Reading, Mass., auditor; and Miss Marjorie Keeler, of Stamford, Conn., was elected Publicity chairman for the 1936 Conference which will be held in that State.

It is hoped to have this remedied by a ruling from the Highway Commission that all Newton exchanges should be regarded as one exchange and not as three separate exchanges. Powerful influences are at work on this problem and a satisfactory solution is confidently expected.

10 YEARS AGO

From Newton Graphic, Oct. 2, 1925

Public Buildings Commissioner Chadwick reports nearly a million dollars worth of building permits issued during September, the actual figures being $830,041. This included 42 single dwellings valued at $405,000 and 20 double dwellings valued at $185,000. So far this year 1371 permits have been issued with an estimated valuation of $9,620,178.

The trustees of the Newton Hospital are to ask the people of Newton for $1,000,000 as the minimum amount needed at present for the necessary new buildings and enlargements. Their decision was reached this week at their annual meeting after listening to the report of the special building committee made by Mr. J. H. Sellman.

Last Friday Dr. Fred M. Lowe, city physician, well known sportsman and no mean cook; Ernest Harvey of Auburndale, member of the city engineering department for the past 35 years, and Fred Dudley of Rockland, an automobile dealer, left West Newton for an auto camping trip from Coast to Coast. Their outfit included a body 11 x 6 feet mounted on a Ford ton chassis, a sleeping outfit for three; a gasoline stove and cooking equipment; hunting and fishing paraphernalia.

New Art Books At Library

With the return of the autumn there come renewed activities on every hand. Each year the Art Department at the Main Library finds itself more fully equipped to serve the public along the pathways of art. Pictures and slides as well as books have been added during the summer holiday. The head of the department is always glad to help in the selection of art material or to assist in art reference work.

Some of the books added recently are—Universal Art Series: Art of carved sculpture, K. Parkes, (2 volumes); Art of decorative painting, W. Bayes; Art of the miniature painter, G. C. Williamson; Art of still-life painting, H. Furst; Caricature, C. R. Ashbee; Design and tradition, A. Fenn; Modern English architecture, C. Marriott.

Merry Makers' Masque Tomorrow At Newtonville

The Merry Makers' Masque, a church fair in true harvest festival style, will be held all day tomorrow and through the evening in Newtonville. The Methodist churchfolk of Newtonville, hoping for balmy Indian summer weather, have set up booths along Newtonville ave. between the church and the parsonage where carnival games, bright balloons and good things to eat will be found.

Another Merry Makers' Masque, held by the same church on the same grounds nearly thirty years ago, was distinguished by the presence of an early automobile, one of the first in the neighborhood, in which a venturesome person could take a joyride around the block for a dime. Tomorrow, pony rides and street dancing will be the novelty attractions. The ponies will be imported from Stoneham, and the music for dancing will be furnished by an amplifier truck equipped with popular recordings.

The staple ingredients of the usual church festival have been prettied up for the occasion. "The Old Curiosity Shop," for example, will bulge with the familiar hodge-podge of books, breadmixers, and buttons found in every collection of white elephants. Another department, "Mother Hubbard's Cupboard," will offer for sale the choicest home baking of the church ladies, and "Mistress Mary's Garden" will contain a variety of plants and cut flowers, and a number of unusual gourds. The men of the church, draped in appropriate costumes, will operate a "Country Store."

There will be plenty to eat throughout the day. The gaily costumed Masquers will serve luncheon and tea on the parsonage veranda, followed by a bean supper in the church from 5 until 7 p. m. In case of rain, the entire Masque will be taken into the church; with the exception of dancing and the ponies.

Newtonville Delicatessen Adds Bakery Department

The Newtonville Delicatessen and Restaurant have recently added a bakery to their already extensive establishment.

The restaurant patrons are now assured of the best in rolls, puddings and home made pies.

We might mention here, that the name "Delicatessen" is somewhat misleading, because in addition to the better Delicatessen products handled there, the Newtonville Delicatessen is also a restaurant of the better type, serving breakfasts, luncheons and dinners which are growing more popular all the time.

Proof of this lies in the fact that the Newtonville Delicatessen have had to enlarge their seating capacity twice within the past year.

THE INTIMATE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Many parents and guardians can bear testimony to the fact that even normal girls are sometimes handicapped by mass methods of education, and that being removed to a school where individual care and attention are given to each student, the result is often remarkable. Such a school is The Misses Allen School for Girls at West Newton. During the thirty-odd years of its establishment, hundreds of girls — many of whom were "unsuccessful" pupils in public or large private schools — have entered college and graduated with honors, and Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, the Principal, maintains a large correspondence with former students who are now filling positions of responsibility in the business, educational, or professional worlds, and who gladly admit that the influences that moulded their lives while pupils of Miss Allen, strengthened the foundation on which their success has been built.

Miss Allen and her staff of highly trained teachers bring to their pupils a wealth of experience and knowledged gained from many years of foreign travel and wide reading, and studies that otherwise might be dry and burdensome are illuminated and illustrated in a manner that pedagogical methods in larger and public schools would not permit.

The major part of the studies of senior pupils is devoted to the college board examinations for the past ten years so that they become thoroughly familiar with college board requirements and lose most of their fear of these before they pass their final examinations before taking their college board examination.

HAPPY DOG DAYS FOR NEWTON CANINES

If you are a Newton dog owner, and upon answering a ring at your doorbell you find a Western Union Telegraph boy standing on your steps don't get unduly excited. He may not bear a message that you have just inherited a legacy, but he will give to you a message that will be received just as joyfully, by your dog.

All this week messenger boys will call at the home of the licensed dog owners of Newton bearing with them presents for those dogs, in the form of sample packages of Old Trusty Dog Food, the "food that is fit for your dog". Old Trusty is a scientifically prepared food which grew out of the love of a man for a dog. The name of this man is Waller Mowll and the name of his dog was "Pal."

In 1919 "Pal" fell sick and the problem of the right food for a sick dog was a distressing problem for Mr. Mowll. Veterinarians and kennelmen were unable to give any assistance. Recalling all that he ever knew about dogs, their physical habits and food requirements, he went to work and evolved a dog food that was different from anything then available.

Giving this new food to his sick dog, he found that it was not only consumed with evident relish but that an almost immediate improvement was to be noted in his dog's physical status. As Old Trusty brought "Pal" back to health Mr. Mowll realized that he had hit upon a food that contained all the necessary elements for a dog's health.

After repeated requests from other dog owners and kennelmen, Mr. Mowll decided to manufacture this dog food for the market and upon doing so gave it the name of Old Trusty.

Mr. Mowll says that, "Without realizing, a dog owner is all too often the cause of his dog's unhealthy condition. Dogs need certain elements in correct proportion to keep them healthy. Long experience shows that Old Trusty contains all these."

And that is why, when the Western Union messenger boy rings a dog owner's bell, this week, the many Newton "Pals" are going to be agreeably and happily surprised.

The aged woman alleges that while residing with her niece she was influenced by the latter to place her savings in a bank into a joint account and that the defendant appropriated part of the money. Delay Met in Building of Oak Hill School

The orders passed by the Board of Aldermen at its last meeting authorizing a bond issue of $225,000 to finance in part the construction of the new school at Oak Hill and the addition to the Angier School, have been vetoed by Mayor Weeks. His reason for doing so is the failure of the Federal Government to approve grants for these two school projects. A PWA grant of $169,000 for the extension of the Charlemont sewer to Oak Hill was allotted, but grants for the two school projects failed to receive the approval of PWA officials at Washington. Massachusetts cities and towns sent 340 applications for PWA grants and out of this number only about 150 were allotted. In the hope that there is still a chance to obtain an allocation for the Oak Hill school, Mayor Weeks will recommend to the Board of Aldermen on next Monday night that a new order be passed which will authorize the building of the Oak Hill school as a PWA project.

The estimated cost of the school is about $225,000. Should the Federal government refuse to largely finance the proposed school building through a PWA grant, the building of the structure would be indefinitely postponed unless the city would bear the entire cost. Should the Mayor and the Aldermen later decide to do this, action by the Legislature would be necessary to conform to State laws. This would delay until next year any start on the building of the school.

Youth Whose Car Hit Aged Man Fined $50

Edward V. Hickey, Jr., 20, of 66 Fountain st., West Newton, was fined $50 in the Newton court last Friday by Judge Quinn for driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He appealed. On Sept. 11th at 9 a. m. a car driven by young Hickey hit Albert Squier, 68, of 16 Ransom rd., Newton Centre, as Mr. Squier was crossing Commonwealth ave. near Ransom rd. Squier received a fractured leg and other injuries which caused his name to be placed on the danger list at the Newton Hospital. He is still at the hospital. According to the defendant, he was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed along the avenue, when Mr. Squire who was crossing the reservation in the centre of the avenue, was pulled into the path of the oncoming car by a dog which he had on a leash. Several witnesses who testified for the prosecution said they did not observe a leash on the dog. They made various estimates of the speed at which the car was travelling, ranging from 30 to 45 miles an hour.

Wants Coal Yard Razed

the Board of Aldermen and the Newton Building Department requesting that the buildings on Washington st. owned by the coal company be condemned as a fire menace and dangerous to health. Akins states that the buildings have not been used for a long time and as a result of neglect and the operation of the elements, they are becoming more dangerous as time passes. Akins calls attention to the fact that the buildings are opposite the property of the Church of Our Lady Help of Christians and he says to the Metropolitan Coal Company—"I am making this request at this time because I feel certain that if you wish to co-operate with those most interested, that it would be the most appropriate time to level the property. No doubt the Welfare Department would co-operate so that needy families could obtain the wood for the coming cold weather. I am giving you this notice in the form of an open letter so that you will have an opportunity to take the initial step if you desire. I will withhold my petition to the legal authorities so that you may have a reasonable length of time to make this much needed civic improvement voluntarily, and in co-operation with your many friends who feel that you would be adding immensely to the prestige of your company, and at the same time aiding the needy families of the city who would receive the wood."

Jewish Citizens Organize To Aid Needham

A. C. Webber Heads Group For Campaign Activities

Prominent Jewish property owners of Newton were organized last night for the purpose of aiding in the election of General Daniel Needham, candidate for Mayor of Newton to succeed Sinclair Weeks, who has declined to be a candidate again. The meeting was held in the home of Albert Hurwitz, 29 Mayflower rd., and was largely attended. Every ward in the city was represented and the committees selected for registration work, rally arrangements and the task of getting out the vote on election day were instructed to begin work at once.

A. C. Webber of Chestnut Hill, who is a member of the State Public Utilities Commission, was selected to head this group. He will be actively assisted by Major Bernard L. Gorfinkle and Mr. Hurwitz. In his talk to the members of the new organization Mr. Webber declared that there are 1800 residents of the Jewish race who are voters in Newton. "These men and women are loyal to Newton," he declared, "and are proud of the city which boasts the lowest tax rate of any in Massachusetts. General Needham is a trained executive of the highest calibre and is pledged to maintain an efficient and economical administration with resulting low taxes just as Sinclair Weeks, who endorses him, has done. I believe that the Jewish people of Newton are 100 per cent for the election of General Needham. It is our purpose to tell them about him and what he stands for."

I thank the many friends who have so kindly supported me in the past and tell them all what a great pleasure it has been to serve them in the city government the past 12 years. I trust that the younger men and women will take a greater interest in their city government. I find that the ideas of the young people are quite necessary in bringing a proper balance to the city government."

Aldermen Appropriate Much Money

Appropriations totalling nearly three quarters of a million dollars were made by the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night. These included $376,336.93 for a continuation of the sewer from the Charlemont district at Newton Upper Falls to the site of the new school at Oak Hill; $28,370 to rebuild about 2200 feet of the sewer which was built at Upper Falls some months ago, and which collapsed; $200 for a water main in Richfield rd.; $223,000 for the new school at Oak Hill and $2000 for the land at this school site; $2500 for administrative expenses on ERA and WPA work in Newton; $15,000 for Welfare aid to poor; $3000 for mothers' aid; $419.44 for interest on water bonds; $2500 for workmen's compensation; $225 for Health Department automobile expense; $125 for office expenses of the Assessing Department; $20,000 for construction of water mains.

Bond issues were authorized to finance the projects for which the large appropriations were made. In connection with the work of rebuilding the sewer at Upper Falls an issue of $30,000 was authorized; and to finance the Oak Hill School, a $225,000 bond issue, and for the new sewer project a $250,000 issue. The sewer extension from Charlemont to Oak Hill will be about 9000 feet long. Metcalf & Eddy have been engaged as consultant engineers for this project. A Federal grant of $169,000 has been allotted to help finance the cost of this section of sewer.

Mayor to Control Beano Parties

Persons who conduct Beano parties in Newton hereafter will be required to have a permit issued by the Mayor of the city. This is in accordance with the law and the police have been instructed to prevent the playing of Beano and all similar games unless written permission has been obtained from the Mayor's office. This was in accordance with an announcement made today at the Executive offices at City Hall.

Up to the present time Beano parties have been conducted without permit, because of the fact that they have been infrequent and conducted on a small scale. Recently they have become so numerous and complaints have been received as to irregularities with a result that it was decided to regulate the conduct of such games by the issuance of permits.

Under the law the game of Beano, or substantially the same game under another name, in connection with which prizes are offered to be won by chance, may be played provided that the proceeds of such games are donated solely to charitable, civic, educational, fraternal or religious purposes under a license to be granted by the Mayor of the city, upon such terms as the Mayor may prescribe.

Many Favor Gas Station at Hlds.

A public hearing was held before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night on the petition of Anna P. Delany for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at the corner of Walnut and Floral sts., Newton Highlands. A previous petition from Mrs. Delany for such a permit was refused by the Board several months ago because of alleged traffic hazards which such a station would create. Subsequently the rules of the Board were suspended to allow a second petition to be presented within one year.

James P. Gallagher appeared as attorney for Mrs. Delany. He said the building at the proposed station will be attractive and he presented a petition signed by 57 owners of nearby properties to prove that there is no community objection to the proposed station. He said Mrs. Delany has owned the property for 28 years and it is not now profitable. He contended that the station will not create a traffic hazard. Mr. Gallagher presented three owners of adjoining properties who stated they would prefer a gasoline station on the Delany property rather than stores.

Hearing At City Hall on Changes In Ward Lines

Next Monday, Wednesday and Friday Nights

Next Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, October 14, 16 and 18 public hearings will be held at Newton City Hall at 7:45 p. m. to discuss the proposed redistricting of Ward lines in Newton. These changes have been suggested by Alderman Colby of Ward 7 and details were printed in the NEWTON GRAPHIC on September 13.

Briefly, the most drastic change would be the merging of Precinct 2 of Ward 1 and part of Precinct 1 of that Ward with Ward 7. Most of Precinct 1 of Ward 1, (Nonantum) would be added to Ward 2. That part of present Ward 2 west of Lowell ave. and South of Washington st. would be shifted to Ward 3. That part of Ward 3 bounded by Cherry st. on the East, River st. on the South and the Waltham line on the North would be shifted to Ward 4. A small section of Ward 4 contiguous to Waban and South of Washington st. would be shifted to Ward 5. Ward 6 would remain largely as it is. A new Ward 7 would be created which would include Newton Upper Falls and the area south of Boylston st. now included in Ward 5.

On Monday night the hearing will be on the proposed changes in Wards 1, 2 and 7. On Wednesday night the changes in Wards 3 and 4 will be discussed. On Friday night the hearing will be on changes in Wards 5 and 6.

Pay Tribute To Retiring Chief Of Fire Dept.

Herbert W. Boothby, Assistant Chief of the Newton Fire Department, who retired from active duty on Oct. 9th after 37 years service, was honored on Wednesday night when more than 150 of his associates and friends assembled in Engine 1 House at Newton to show their esteem for him. Chief Clarence Randlett presided at the affair, and following a dinner Chief Boothby heard himself praised by a number of speakers. Prior to these tributes Chief Randlett, in behalf of Asst. Chief Boothby's friends, presented the guest of honor with a gold badge, an easy chair and ottoman upholstered in leather, and a purse of money.

Among those who lauded Mr. Boothby were Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Sena-

INCREASE THE NUMBER OF WARDS

On three evenings next week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, the legislative committee of the Board of Aldermen will hold public hearings at city hall on the matter of changing ward lines. There seems to be little disagreement of the desirability of changing the ward lines in order to provide a better balanced representation of the various sections of the city. At present, as we have previously stated on several occasions, the two wards on the south side of the city with nearly twice as many voters as in the two wards on the north side of the city have but half the representation of the other wards. The first question the voters of Newton and the legislative committee will have to decide is whether or not seven wards is sufficient or whether it might not be more desirable to increase the number of wards.

Since the present form of government was adopted in Newton some forty years ago there have been seven wards. The population in that time has grown tremendously and the continued growth has meant that each alderman or school committee member represents a larger and more widely spread constituency. The normal course of sound government is to provide for growth by an increase in the number of wards.

Furthermore, a continuance of the seven-ward set-up means that some of the present wards must be consolidated in order to provide for additional representation from the south side of the city. Any such consolidation will unquestionably meet with a certain amount of objection from those sections of the city where consolidation is necessary. Provisions for an increase in the number of wards will mean less change in the character of the present wards than is brought about by a consolidation or changes for a new seven-ward set-up.

We have previously suggested a nine ward plan which we feel has considerable merit and which provides for no increase in the membership of the Board of Aldermen and but two additional members of the school committee. It is our belief that Newton has grown sufficiently to make a nine ward plan preferable to the seven ward plan and that it must be readily conceded that revamping of the present seven ward condition at the present time will need attention in the future much sooner than the introduction of a nine ward plan.

We believe that the legislative committee has made a mistake in deciding to hold the hearings on this important question at city hall instead of conducting hearings in various parts of the city. There are many who would doubtless express their views, make valuable suggestions or point out various weaknesses of the proposals that will be under discussion were hearings held locally and the committee should do its utmost to obtain all available information. However, with the hearings scheduled to take place at city hall we can only urge that interested citizens make it a point to attend and give their views on the problem of new ward lines.

CONTROL OF SENATE AT STAKE

Citizens throughout the state are watching with much interest the coming special election in the second Essex Senatorial District next Tuesday when the existing vacancy in the State Senate will be filled. With Governor Curley having succeeded in attempts to control the Boston Finance Commission and the Governor's Council the results of Tuesday's election will determine the control of the State Senate during the legislative session of 1936. The 1934 elections gave the republicans a membership of twenty-one as against nineteen for the Democrats with the resulting election of Senator James G. Moran as president by the unanimous vote of Democratic members and one Republican vote. Should the Democratic candidate win in Tuesday's contest the Senate will be virtually controlled by the Governor while the election of a Republican will make it possible for the Republican members to block undesirable legislation similar to laws of such character that were enacted last spring and summer.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST NEEDS YOU

In less than four weeks the Community Chest campaign of 1935 will get under way. For many weeks officials of the campaign have been making plans, organizing committees, and preparing publicity for the fourteen agencies which are members of the Community Chest. Their efforts will not be in vain. Every resident will have the opportunity to know the needs of the Community Chest, the workings of the agencies, and the responsibility which lies upon every individual to make the coming drive for funds a success. Make up your mind now to support the Community Chest in every way possible and to the utmost. The Community Chest needs you—you need the Community Chest.

A critic asserts that no notable American fiction has been written lately. But just wait until next year's campaign gets going.

An expression of appreciation is more satisfying than a sack of gold, if you already have a sack of gold.

Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday—and all is well.

Many Newtonians have hobbies of one sort or another. Forty-five residents who have the hobby of cabinet making are gathered together as the Newton Craftsmen's Club. On Monday evening the club held an exhibition of the various articles made by members at the home of Charles G. Schirmer, 59 Wachusett rd., Newton Centre. The amateur spirit was evident, not in the crudeness of the work which so frequently characterizes an amateur job, but in the care and attention given to details that can only be achieved by the painstaking efforts of leisure hours and the zest for a hobby. The beauty of the articles of furniture made by the hands of these individuals in the cellars or workshops of their homes is never excelled by the mass production of present day industry.

Tables and chests are made for the fun of the making and the display on Monday night typified the spirit and enthusiasm which is characteristic of the club members. There was a splendid tip-top table made by William Hahn; a handsome chest by Frank Schirmer; a large intricate desk by Ernest Fuchs. There were artificially fashioned boxes with inlaid decorations by V. P. Sabian and C. W. Lawrence. The most spectacular exhibit was contributed by F. A. Ryder whose model locomotive was perfect in detail. A violin by C. F. Cashman, wooden plaques carved by Dr. W. D. Bridges, and a doll's house made by W. L. Remick were among the odd exhibits on display. Other contributions were a two-piece orchestral director's baton by Charles R. Spaulding, a lamp, table and an upholstered seat made by W. A. Wight, a lamp and table by Everett C. Lewis, an ornamental model of a Spanish galleon made by Fred Ross, and a table by Samuel B. Paul.

That interest in the work of the club is widespread was demonstrated by the large crowd that attended the exhibition and the large number of automobiles that crowded Wachusett rd.

Richard C. Harlow, coach of the Harvard varsity football team, was the principal speaker at the Newton Country Day School father and son dinner last night following a reception to the fathers and sons by the faculty. Coach Harlow was introduced to the gathering by William Bingham, head of the Harvard Athletic Association, whose son is a student at the school.

Speaking of Harlow, many of the spectators at the Harvard-Springfield game in the stadium at Allston last Saturday went over to size up the team being developed by the new Crimson coach. Quite a number of Newtonians, however, went over to see Warren Huston, former star Newton High athlete, now a junior at Springfield Y. M. C. A. Training College play. Huston is the sparkplug of the Gymnasts' eleven and while Harvard saw to it that he had no opportunity to perform spectacularly by playing two men against him throughout the game the Newtonville youth was in the thick of almost every play. His punting was outstanding with several boots from near the Springfield goalline travelling well beyond midfield. Several times he brought Harvard ball carriers to earth by knocking their feet from under them by a blocking tackle instead of the harder method of grasping their flying legs. Newton is watching Huston's athletic career with much interest.

About two years ago the Albemarle Golf Club as a private organization went on the rocks and subsequently came into the possession of Percy M. Woodward of Newtonville. An offer was made to the city to take it over as a public golf course but was rejected on the grounds of economy. Rather than have the property subdivided and cut up into building lots Mr. Woodward decided to reopen the course to the public at a nominal fee. The golf season, now approaching an end, is the second season the course has been so conducted. It is surprising to learn that some 24,000 people have patronized the course bringing a small profit on the investment. One of the greatest benefits such a public course offers is the opportunity for many young men and boys to make use of their leisure time. A considerable proportion of those playing on the course might otherwise have occupied themselves with less desirable and less beneficial forms of recreation.

At Deerfield Academy in the foothills of the Berkshires an event somewhat out of the ordinary took place this week when Clifford W. Dow, Jr., of Newton Highlands received a medal presented by the Mass. Humane Society. Last July thirtieth, young Dow, who graduated from the Newton High School in June, and is now a student at Deerfield Academy, rescued two young men from drowning a half mile off the shore at Humarock Beach. The pair were caught by the undertow while swimming in a choppy sea. The rescue by Dow, according to observers, was one of the most thrilling of the summer at local beaches. The Mass. Humane Society interested itself in the heroism of the Newton lad who is only seventeen years old and arranged for the presentation of the medal. The award is of bronze suitably engraved with the youth's name and date of the daring rescue. A button with similar engraving accompanied the medal. The Dow residence is at 56 Columbus st., Newton Highlands and their summer home is at Humarock.

More Community Chest Plans

The Speakers' Bureau, of which Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson of Newton Highlands is chairman, is made up of Mr. George White of Newton, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold of Waban, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken of Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe of Newtonville, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane of Auburndale, Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Quincy W. Wales of West Newton, Mrs. Walter Hartstone of Newton Centre, and Mrs Grosvenor Calkins of Newton. A Manual has been prepared to furnish the speakers with information relative to the number of residents served by the fourteen agencies which make up the Chest, and the number of volunteer workers who freely give much time to the service of their neighbors.

The Village Chairman, Majors, Captains, and Team Members, some 1500 of them, are being enrolled and a Directory of the Member Agencies has been issued for their instruction, so that they will be able to inform the public with considerable detail as to the service of each agency and the amount of funds it is necessary to raise in order to continue these activities.

School Department Co-operating

Mr. Julius E. Warren, the Superintendent of Schools, has appointed the following committee to work on homeroom programs in correlation with the annual Community Chest Campaign: Miss Barbara Dow, Miss Gertrude Hasty, Miss Janet Spencer, Miss Mary Cleveland, Miss Eunice Auger, Miss Gladys Bigelow, Mr. Frank Tanner, Mr. Edward Tanner, Mr. Armine Laughton, Mr. Horace Kidger, Mr. Haydn Pearson.

This committee has met several times to discuss ways and means of effectively co-operating in this community enterprise. Through this central steering committee ways and means are being devised to assist each of the program committees of the individual junior high schools and the senior high school.

It is planned to have one series of programs for the seventh grade during the week of the Community Chest Campaign; there will be another series for the eighth and ninth grades of the junior high schools; and a series for the senior high school.

The committee is working on the following projects to dramatize and increase the effectiveness of these daily programs; 1. An assembly to dramatically present the work of one or more agencies of the Chest. 2. Most effective use of the school display cabinets. 3. A possible radio broadcast by pupils of the junior high schools to which the junior high schools and the senior high school might listen. 4. Delegations of pupils fro each of the schools might be taken on a tour of the agencies, these pupils to then report to various groups in their own school. 5. A possible special issue of a school paper, perhaps in mimeographed form, to emphasize the place of the Community Chest in our civic setup. 6. The visiting nurses may be able to speak to groups in various schools to bring home to the pupils the work of the several agencies.

The purposes and work of the Community Chest Campaign will be made a project in the Social Studies classes. The committee feels that this is a cooperative enterprise whose value should be experienced through the entire school system.

60 YEARS AGO

From Newton Republican, October 14, 1876

The friends of Woman Suffrage gathered in goodly numbers on Monday night at City Hall to listen to Wendell Phillips, Lucy Stone and H B. Blackwell. Phillips, in his finished oratorical manner, told the voters how to escape from the political corruptions which have so demoralized the nation. The solution was to give the ballot to woman, who, with her refining sense of justice, would bring the same influence to the political world that she does to society at large.

The Hayes & Wheeler Guards (Republican marching club) have completed their organization. About 40 are already enrolled as members. They have adopted a uniform of white cap with red band, red blouse with white trimmings, white belts and white leggings. They propose to have a parade next Tuesday night when they will throw out a fine flag, 30 feet long. Other organizations will join in the parade and about 800 will be in line. The Newton City Band will furnish music. Speeches may be expected from our best local talent. Citizens are invited to illuminate their residences and places of business.

The reservoir on Waban Hill is complete and ready to receive the water for the supply of the city. It is supposed to be proof against all the pressure of the water when it shall be full. The outside of the embankments is to be covered with nice sod.

Mayor and Mrs. Charles E. Hatfield's 25th wedding anniversary occurred on Saturday last. Mrs. Hatfield and daughter, Margaret, are travelling abroad.

Congressman John W. Weeks of West Newton was renominated as the Republican candidate for Congress from the 12th district at the convention held in Wesleyan Hall, Boston, last Saturday noon. The convention was marked by enthusiasm, harmony and unanimity. Captain Weeks was named by acclamation and received with hearty applause when he accepted the nomination. The convention elected a district committee. The members from Newton are—Seward W. Jones, Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, Frederick Johnson and William F. Garcelon.

There can be no criticism of the movement to consider the city of Newton as one telephone exchange in settling its status in the new schedule of rates to be placed in operation in the near future by the Telephone Company. With Cambridge, a city of 100,000, Somerville with about 80,000 population, Malden and Chelsea with about the same population as Newton (40,000) all having but one telephone exchange, it is no more than fair that Newton should not be discriminated against by treating it as three exchanges.

Judge C. H. Donahue in the Middlesex Superior Court has handed down a decision in favor of the Newton Centre Woman's Club in its petition against the city of Newton for an abatement of taxes on club property. In its petition the club claims to be a literary, charitable and educational corporation, and therefore exempt from taxation.

The Claflin Guard Veterans Association observed its 30th anniversary on Wednesday evening by holding a banquet at Brae Burn Country Club. At the annual meeting, which preceded the dinner, Richard Cunningham was elected president; Bernard Early and Sinclair Weeks, vice-presidents; Dr. Allan R. Barrow, secretary, and F. G. L. Henderson, treasurer. Hon. C. E. Hatfield presided at the banquet and Hon. Samuel L. Powers was toastmaster.

Under the efficient direction of a committee of which Wilfred Chagnon was chairman, the family outing and basket picnic of Newton Lodge of Elks was held last Sunday at Danforth Farms Country Club in Saxonville. Over a 1000 Elks and members of their families were taken in automobiles to the outing.

Powers' Paragraphs

It would not be reasonable to expect Governor Curley or his assistants to give any of Newton's thousands of Republicans a job on the "work and wages" projects which this State is financing. But, there are many good Democrats in Newton who voted for Governor Curley. Have they been given employment on the sidewalk job which is in process along the turnpike? Not so you would notice it. Eighty or more men are working on the project (or are drawing wages for supposedly working on it) and out of this large number you can count the Newton men on the fingers of one hand.

A lovable little Italian woman passed from this life last Friday when Mrs. Conchetta Mascia of Nevada st., Newtonville, died. She spent 36 of her 75 years in this city and during all those years manifested her sublime faith by attending a religious service every day. Though frail in physique, she went to her church early each morning, even on winter days when zero temperature prevailed and deep snow covered the ground. Her kindly face, framed with an old fashioned shawl will be missed.

Members of President Roosevelt's family are a big help in the efforts being made to reduce the number of automobile accidents and to lessen speeding and reckless driving.

The three public hearings to be held at City Hall on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings of next week on the plan submitted by Alderman Colby of Ward 7 for redistricting the city by Wards, will, in our opinion, not afford sufficient opportunities to citizens of Newton to become conversant with details, or to express their views on this matter. We believe that such an important question as this should be thoroughly advertised and that hearings on it should be held in the various villages of the city, similar to the hearings held about 10 years ago on the matter of selecting a site for the new city hall.

The most drastic change suggested in the plan is the consolidation of Wards 1 and 7. All of Precinct 2 of Ward 1 and part of Precinct 1 of that Ward would be merged with Ward 7. This proposed change does not meet with the approval of the majority of Ward 1 residents. This Ward is and for many years has been the only Democratic Ward in the city. For two nearly score years it has been able to send to City Hall the Ward Alderman wanted by the people living North of the B. & A. tracks. At the State election last November Ward 1 cast 1059 votes for Gasper Bacon for Governor and 1372 for James M. Curley. This did not represent its full Democratic strength as a considerable number of Democrats voted for Bacon. Precinct 1, Nonantum, gave Bacon 133 votes and Curley 679. Precinct 2 gave Bacon 926 votes and Curley 693.

The plan proposes to leave about 25% of the area of Precinct 1 of Ward 1 in the new Ward 1. Last year there were 368 voters in this section and about 50 of them were Republicans. This number, added to the 693 in Precinct 2 who voted for the Democratic candidate last November would total slightly over 1000 Democrats in the present Ward 1 which would be joined with Ward 7.

Ward 7 has consistently been one of the strongest Republican Wards in the city. At the State election last November it gave Bacon 1776 votes and Curley 740. So, the new Ward 1, according to the plan, would have about 2750 Republican votes. There would be about 1750 Democrats in the new Ward. If the Republicans residing south of the tracks wanted to elect the Ward alderman and the two aldermen-at-large they could easily do so, and the people residing north of the tracks would be without representation.

Next comes Ward 2. This Ward has a large Republican majority. It has rarely elected a Democrat to the Board of Aldermen. We realize city elections in Newton are supposed to be non-partisan, but party politics have been increasingly injected into them in recent years. At the State election last November, Ward 2 gave Bacon 3190 votes and Curley 1704. That part of Nonantum which is proposed to be added to Ward 2 would bring about 90 Republican and 400 Democratic votes to the Ward, resulting in the proposed Ward 2 remaining safely Republican even though it would lose to Ward 3 the area west of Lowell ave. from Commonwealth ave. on the south to Watertown st. on the north. In this area Democrats are few and far between, so Ward 3 would have a larger Republican majority than it now has. At the last State election Ward 3 cast 2527 votes for Bacon and 1693 for Curley.

Many of the Democratic votes now in Ward 3 would be shifted to Ward 4 if the plan were adopted. The area changed from Ward 3 to Ward 4 would include the territory bounded by Cherry st. on the east, River st. on the south and thence to the Waltham boundary. There are few Republicans in this area, but Ward 4 would continue to be safely Republican. At the State election last No-

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Moving-In

A strange child appears on your sidewalk, a strange dog runs across your lawn and a strange cat ambles past your back door. What does it mean? Merely that there's another family moved-in and that the customary October shifting of places of abode has brought a change. Well, get ready to be gracious and courteous, remembering that the "new" family is up against the trying problem of getting settled and of finding itself and that the best way to make good neighbors of them is by showing what good neighbors surround them.

"Have Some More?"

Possibly it might have been called a "Fall foliage fete," alliteration and euphony appeal to me, but whatever its designation a recent automobile drive through the White Mountains proved a delightful experience. There is something in change of air, change of scenery, the colors of autumn and majesty of the hills that makes me hungry.

All caution is tossed aside when I sit down to an attractive table at one of those charming mountain inns. Instead of obeying the rules of discriminatory feeding I become a glutton. Frankly, I would never have made this admission except that my traveling companion threatened to publish the story of my gormandizing. In order to prevent any misunderstanding I desire to state the facts myself. The dispute arose over one meal. He charged that I was exceeding all rules of reason. I maintained I was merely indulging in a sensible meal. That you may judge I give in detail the food I consumed on that memorable Saturday night. Here it is: a cup of tomato bouillon, four or five saltines, some sharp cucumber pickles, some mustard pickles, chicken pie, watermelon fritters, peas, mashed potatoes, two muffins, two generous slices of brown bread, dish of pecan ice cream, slice of chocolate pie, cup of tea and glass of milk.

Just as I sat back and viewed the empty dishes with a smile of appreciation my companion summoned the waiter and said, "Please remove this vase of flowers I think he's getting ready to eat them."

Laugh and Behave

A diplomatic traffic policeman can do as much as the local chamber of commerce or any other agency to favorably advertise his city or town. Motorists passing through frequently form their impressions by the conduct of the cop on duty in the center of things. If he is efficient and at the same time considerate, the travelers will almost invariably speak of it. Furthermore, if he has occasion to reprimand them and does it with tact they usually report the incident to their friends. And that's just what I am up to when I tell you what I saw in Rochester, N. H. A friend, in whose company I was journeying, had stopped his car that we might eat our evening meal. When he started off north my friend forgot to switch on the head-lamps. The omission was noted by the big, jolly officer, who waved his hand in our direction and with a chuckle, called out, "Put on your lights and you'll see better."

Merely a Suggestion

Not to be dragged into a discussion of local politics, much less to drag myself in, but merely to take up the matter of campaigning in a strictly academic way, I desire to say that the admonition so frequently observed, "Vote for Soandso" is likely to arouse in me a feeling not intended by the candidate's managers. Often I have read the phrase and remained cold and indifferent. At other times I have asked myself churlishly, "Why should anybody order me to vote?" Now, you and I may not agree on this example of political strategy but I leave it to you if the campaign banner I saw this week in Concord, N. H., didn't express a pretty good idea. There was the candidate's picture and the statement that he was seeking the office of assessor, apparently an elective one in that State. The only other message was, "Your vote and support will be much appreciated."

All in a Day's Work

Next time you read of the Italo-Ethiopian clash, and that no doubt will be when you pick up today's edition of your favorite daily newspaper, think of the struggle of the correspondents to obtain material for dispatches. No courage or daring displayed anywhere, except by those in actual fighting, exceeds that of the news writers in the field. Discomforts that are difficult to imagine are but part of the task. Great personal risks, fatigue, hunger and whatnot have to be encountered. All are endured that you and I may have "spot" news or extended articles. If it were that these men sought only the money paid them one could say they more than earned it. But a deeper motive exists—eagerness to get the actual details for suitable presentation to the millions of peaceful citizens of the United States. It happens to be my privilege to know some of these intrepid men and I can vouch not only for their sincerity and skill but for their ability to overcome obstacles and their perseverance. With all this you would find them modest in the extreme, making light of their labors and insisting they were merely "covering" as best they could "just another assignment."

"Friendship Village" At Newtonville Church

A real story-book town with pointed roofs and arched doorways is being built for Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, which will stage a two-day "Friendship Village." Doors will be open on Thursday, Oct. 17, from 2 to 10 p. m., and on Friday, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

All the church organizations are joining forces for this affair, from a unique grab feature under the care of the Young People's Society, to a six-thirty dinner on Friday which will be prepared, cooked, and served by the men of Central Club. The shops along Main st. will offer merchandise in great variety, and there will be continuous service of light refreshments.

On Friday, at four, a matinee for juniors will feature music; Stubby, a trained dog; and Curtis Beach's marionettes. Christopher Morley's one-act play, "Thursday Evening," will be presented both nights.

General chairman of the Village is Mrs. Charles Stewart, and collaborating with her are Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, president of the Woman's Association, and Mr. W. P. Phillips, president of Central Club, with other church group officers.

rode, and the fifth member of the gang, remained in the car, preparatory to the successful getaway.

It is alleged that Smith is the man who hired a car from the Brookline Auto Rental Company on the day of the robbery. The car was found abandoned the next day in Cambridge. Smith was arrested by Boston police on October 2nd as a suspicious character. He was turned over to the Brookline police, charged with the larceny of the car, arraigned in the Brookline district court and released in $2500 bail last Saturday. He was at once rearrested by Captain Goode of the Newton police. In the Middlesex Court on Monday he pleaded not guilty and was held in $2500 bail. In default of obtaining it he was remanded to East Cambridge jail. He is a native of Framingham and the only police record against him was in 1923 when he was charged with violations of two automobile laws.

Jewish Citizens Organize To Aid Needham

Short talks were also given by George Alpert and Major Gorfinkle after which Daniel Needham, the candidate, was introduced. He outlined conditions in Newton, praised the advancement that has taken place in Newton under the Weeks administration and announced that he proposed to follow the broad general policies which of recent years have proved so successful.

Ward One workers for Needham met on Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Centre st. The meeting was in charge of Richard Lee, and was attended by 100 ward and precinct workers. Plans for the active campaign during November were discussed. Gen. Needham and his campaign manager, Charles B. Floyd, spoke.

Nonantum Boy Hit By Auto

Robert Norton, 7, son of Edward Norton of 315 California st., Nonantum, was hit on California st. last Saturday morning by a car driven by Roslyn Phillips, Jr., of Lexington st., Waltham. The boy received slight injuries and Phillips started to carry him to the Newton Hospital. En route one of the tires on the car went flat and the injured boy was taken from police headquarters to the hospital in a police cruising car. Phillips' car carried no spare tire and did not have an inspection sticker, as required by the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

Speaks In Observance Of Anthracite Week

Frank C. Walker, director of the National Emergency Council, whose close association with President Roosevelt led Washington newspapermen to bestow the title "assistant president" upon him, made one of his rare public appearances in Scranton, Pa., last night, when he delivered the principal address at a mass meeting featuring the observance of Anthracite Week, Oct. 7-12.

Walker's desire to spur national recovery, together with his natural interest in the success of a movement so vital to the region of his birth—he is a native of Plymouth, Luzerne County, Pa.—prompted him to accept the invitation to speak at the Anthracite Week mass meeting in Scranton it was announced by the committee in charge.

Walker's appearance climaxed a remarkable community effort to hasten the return of prosperity by promoting the recovery of Northeastern Pennsylvania's basic industry.

Another important feature of Anthracite Week was the dramatic presentation at the White House by a group of unemployed mine workers of a protest against the unfair competition of Russian Coal. It is in the form of a petition, signed by upwards of a half million citizens of the anthracite region, urging President Roosevelt to increase the tariff on Coal imported to this country from the Soviet Union.

The petition informs the President that the annual importation of thousands of tons of Russian coal, allegedly mined by forced labor, has resulted in the curtailment of production or the cessation of operation of Pennsylvania colleries. The proposed tariff boost would bring about the employment of several thousand Pennsylvania mine workers now on relief rolls, the petition points out.

LONG PASSES FEATURE EVERETT WIN AT SALEM

Everett High, Newton's football opponent of tomorrow, defeated Salem 13-12 last Saturday at Salem, and did it by dint of long-range forward passes. Russ Opderbecke, quarterback for the red and blue eleven, threw touchdown passes to his left end, Cardone Falzone, in the third and fourth periods. The first was a forty-yard toss that Falzone carried forty yards more to the goal line, and the second was a twenty-yard throw to Falzone in the end zone.

The kicking of Dick Conley was a feature of the game. One of his punts carried from his 35-yard line across the Salem goal, and he gave Everett a precious one-point margin with a good place kick after the first touchdown. But his place kick, after the second Everett touchdown was wide of the mark, and on another occasion, a Conley punt was blocked and converted into a Salem touchdown.

Open Attack In Prospect

Al Romboli, the Everett speed merchant, took the Salem kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown in the last quarter, but a clipping penalty reduced the run-back to 61 yards. Salem's second touchdown, incidentally like both Everett scores, came on a long pass. Everett was unable to gain through the Salem line, and may be expected to throw a succession of end sweeps, reverses, laterals and forward passes at Newton tomorrow.

The Everett offense will be of the "punt, pass and prayer" variety, not because the team is undermanned or outweighed, but because the open style of attack is best suited to Gildea's material. Conley and Savignano will have an interesting punting duel, and there is a place reserved in the N. H. S. hall of fame for the Newton lineman who first crashes into an Everett kick.

Aldermen Grant Varnolene Permit

A permit to store 750 gallons of varnolene, a fluid used for cleansing purposes, at the rear of a building owned by Daniel O'Connell at 227 California st., Nonantum, was granted on Monday night by the Board of Aldermen. The petitioners were O'Connell and the Blue Jay Cleansers and Dyers. Alderman Cronin asked why this permit was recommended by the Licenses Committee in the face of several protests from the Suburban Home Laundry and owners of nearby properties. Alderman Hill said the laundry has rented the second floor of the building and the committee believed the objections were not valid. Alderman Akins said that the women who objected to the granting of the permit at the previous meeting thought that gasolene was to be kept at the place. He said the tanks of varnolene will be underground and there will be no danger of an explosion.

Cronin said that the petition was made on the understanding that the Blue Jay Cleansers were to occupy the second floor of the building. Hill replied that the petitioners will occupy the first floor, but the varnolene will be used in a separate building about 15 feet at the rear of the main building.

LYNN ENGLISH AERIAL THRUST BEATS NEWTON

Lynn English defeated Newton High 6-0 last Saturday in the Lynn Stadium, thereby winning their first football game since Nov. 19, 1933. The Newton team showed no great improvement over their mediocre play of the Monday previous, and were outrushed, outpassed, outkicked and generally outplayed by the Lynn boys.

Lynn proved much stronger than pre-game reports indicated. The line was as heavy as Newton's, charged lower and harder, and tackled well. The backfield combination of Harold Hegan, Eddie Moore and Eli Fishman ran and passed their team to a sudden score late in the first half, and harassed the invaders with end sweeps and passes the whole game.

Moore Pass Wins

The play that won the game for Lynn English was a pass thrown by Eddie Moore, the air-minded Negro halfback. Fishman received Ernie Savignano's punt late in the second quarter and was dropped on the forty-yard line.

Moore ran the right end for a gain of twelve yards, then threw a long forward pass to Jim Murphy, an end, who carried to the Newton five-yard line. Moore was replaced by Hegan, a clever running back, who scored on a cut-back through the left side of the Newton line. The try for point, a forward pass by Hegan, failed.

Pessimism Routed

The temper of the Newton players after the Lynn English game, probably shared somewhat by Coach Ralph M. Sanborn, was definitely pessimistic. Sanborn regarded the defeat as "a sorry exhibition," but was unable to account for the failure of the husky orange and black machine.

But the spell is broken, now that Newton has left the ranks of the undefeated, and the setback by Lynn English has really bettered their morale. The pessimism that followed defeat has quite left the squad in the brisk workouts preparatory for the Everett game. Measures have been taken to improve radically the defense against passes and end runs, and the team ought to look like something different tomorrow.

It was found on Saturday on Islington rd., Auburndale. Other thefts reported to Newton police last Friday included—a spare wheel and tire from the car of Mrs. E. Douglas, 44 Chapin rd., Newton Centre, while the car was parked in the yard there; a spare wheel and tire from the car of Charles Burgess, 29 School st., Waltham, taken from the car in the parking space on Beacon st., Newton; a generator from the car of Bradford Champion of Weston, stolen while the car was parked on Dalby st., Nonantum.

Break Auto Laws And Pay Fines

Sessions in the Newton court on last Saturday were largely taken up with cases of autoists who violated various laws. Among those fined $5 for speeding were—Gildo Caruso, 295 Boylston st., Newton Centre; S. J. Angilini, Leominster; Charles Mize, Park Drive, Boston; Calvin Plympton, Brookline. Irwin White, 380 Boylston st., Newton Centre was fined $25 for speeding. It was his second conviction within a year for such an offence. Harry Peavey, Jr. of Hemenway st., Boston was fined $5 for driving without a license. He was operating on a Maine license. George Maloomian of 50 South Gate Park, West Newton was fined $5 for not slowing down at a street intersection. The case of Eugene Higgins of 4 Hovey st., Newton, charged with driving to the left of the center of a street, was placed on file.

Fined For Drunken Driving

Margaret Jordan of Chase st., Newton Centre was fined $50 in the Newton court last Friday by Judge Weston for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Patrolman Hammell was the complainant.

In the Newton court the same day Stuart Shepard of 80 Rawson rd., Brookline was found not guilty of drunken driving by Judge Allen, but was found guilty of drunkenness and fined $5. Patrolmen Condrin and Walker testified that at 4:40 a. m. on September 17 while near Engine 1 station on Washington st. they heard a crash when a car hit the B. & A. bridge at Centre st. Running to the scene they found a broken headlight, and then saw a car parked nearby on Elmwood st. Shepard was standing a few feet from the car and had received a broken tooth in the crash. He told the policemen that he had hired a stranger in Cambridge to drive the car for him and denied that he had been operating the car.

Religious Education Week at Second Church

The Committee of Religious Education of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton has set aside the week of October 13th as Religious Education Week. It is expected that the program will acquaint the members of the parish with the educational aims of the church school and the ways by which those aims are obtained. Mr. Herbert C. Mayer, the Chairman of the Committee of Religious Education, announces the following events of the week:

Sunday, October 13th. Religious Education Sunday. There will be a service of consecration of the church school teachers and officers by Dr. Boynton Merrill, minister of the Second Church, during the morning service of worship. Dr. Merrill will preach a sermon appropriate to Religious Education Sunday.

Monday, October 14th. Dr. Cheney C. Jones, the superintendent of the New England Home for Little Wanderers, will speak on the subject, "What is the Parents' Responsibility"? Dr. Jones is well known throughout New England, not only because of his unique work in the New England Home for Little Wanderers, but also because of his striking manner in presenting the needs of children and young people. This meeting is open to the public without admission charge.

Tuesday afternoon, October 15th. The first fall meeting of the preschool parents of the church school will be held in the church parlor. Mrs. Esther Colby Sweet, the principal of the Second Church Nursery School, will speak on the subject, "What Can Church Mean to Your Preschool Child?"

Tuesday evening, October 15th. The teachers of the church school will join other church school teachers at the opening session of the Community Training School which will be held in the Newtonville Methodist Church at 7:30 o'clock. This training school is sponsored by the Norumbega District Council of Religious Education.

Wednesday evening, October 16th. This night has been set aside as Home Night. It has been suggested by the Committee of Religious Education that parents and children devote this evening to a discussion of the home and means for the improvement of a happy, wholesome, and religious homelife. It has been also suggested by the Committee that stories be read or told, and an opportunity be afforded each member of the family for his expression or contribution to the welfare of the home.

Thursday evening, October 17th. On this evening the teachers of the church school will call in the homes of the church school pupils. This plan has been followed for several years and has proved to be a very valuable enterprise in bringing parents and church school teachers into a better understanding of their common tasks.

Friday evening, October 18th. The Minister's Reception will be held in the Parish House at 7:30 o'clock. At this time the members of the parish will have an opportunity to meet Dr. and Mrs. Merrill. Following the reception, there will be dancing for the members of the church and parish.

MacMillan, Arctic Explorer, Heads "Y" Program

Glee Club, Orchestra, Debate At Annual Club Night

Countess Elektra Rosanska, internationally noted coloratura soprano, will conduct the American Legion Glee Club in its concert at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, Oct. 16th. This famous glee club, composed of members from many Legion Posts in Suffolk County, is appearing at the "Y" as one of the features of Annual Club Night.

The "Y" is to be open house that night to men of eighteen and over, and men from Newton and environs are invited to attend.

The Legion Glee Club is composed of more than forty male voices, the famous conductress, who was formerly with the Chicago Civic Opera, being the only representative of her sex.

The evening's program is replete with interesting events. The famous Arctic explorer, Donald MacMillan, is to speak at 8 p. m., his subject being "The Truth about the Arctic." Orchestral music for the evening will be furnished by Newton ERA Orchestra. Another event, the debate between Harvard Varsity Debating Team and the Newton "Y" Team, is expected to attract much interest. The subject, "Should There Be More Government in Business," is extremely pertinent at the present time and should interest male voters of all ages. In the main lobby, where exhibits by the various Club Groups, Hiking, Stamp Club, etc., will be on display, a checker contest is to take place with Saul Weslow, New England checker champion, engaging ten or more opponents in simultaneous play.

The whole affair is under the direction of the Men's Program Committee and will mark the opening of the season for the various clubs and groups, which embrace a wide range of interesting activities.

While enrollments in the various clubs will be accepted that evening, the event is entirely free to citizens who wish to enjoy the evening's entertainment.

Truck Burned On Turnpike

A truck owned by O'Malley & Delaney of Boston and used to distribute kerosene flares along the Worcester turnpike in connection with the sidewalk job now in process there, was badly damaged by fire Friday afternoon while parked on the turnpike near Oldfield rd., Newton Centre. The truck was in charge of Fred Barret of Waltham, and the fire is thought to have been caused by one of the flares. Two alarms were pulled for the fire; one from Box 91 and the other from Box 754, bringing much of the fire apparatus in the city to the scene.

TO REACH SOMEONE QUICKLY — TELEPHONE.
It takes minutes — not miles

You want to reach a friend in Newville (or elsewhere). But that is fifteen — twenty — twenty-five miles away, and you cannot make the trip yourself.

Yet you want to talk to that friend.

It may be about something that needs an active two-sided conversation. Or possibly time is most important — a quick question and answer is all that's necessary. You might have good news or reassurance to give. Maybe it's only a hankering to hear again a loved one's voice.

Telephone!

Reach your friends in a minute or less, with no effort at all, and say the same things in the same way you'd say them if you were there in person.

Newton Presidents To Be Guests

The Community Service Club of West Newton will open the 1935-1936 season on Wednesday, October 16th, at the Unitarian Church, with a talk by Mrs. Lulu Kent on "An Old New England Cupboard," which will be illustrated with slides. Mrs. Kent is well-known as an editorial writer for the Boston Herald.

This will be Presidents' Day, and presidents and one member of each Club in the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs are to be guests.

Special attention is drawn to the fact that the meetings of the Club this year are to begin promptly at 2 o'clock, instead of at 2:30 o'clock.

Club members are asked to bring bundles for the Mayor's Relief Committee to this meeting.

Mrs. Robert H. Garritt is to be in charge of the tea.

Annual Reception Opens Club Season

The activities of the fifty-second season of the Newtonville Woman's Club will begin with the Annual Reception on Tuesday, October 15th, from 2:30 until 5 p. m. Some of the older members of the Club may recall that in 1888 they voted to try to secure the Parlors of the Universalist Church for a public lecture, little thinking that the church would become in time the permanent Club Home of thei rorganization. Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, the new president of the Club has invited Mrs. John F. Capron, director of the Twelfth District; Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation; the three vice-presidents of the Newtonville Club, Mrs. George H. Tracy, Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, and Mrs. Charles J. Trowbridge; and the chairman of the House committee, Mrs. Henry M. Weidner, to receive with her. Members of the Executive Board will serve as ushers.

A Trio, members of the All-Newton Music School, will play during the reception, and refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. James D. Elliott and her Social committee.

During the afternoon there will be an Exhibition, in the Gallery, of oils and water colors, etchings, sketches, and wood carvings, by local artists, arranged by the Art committee, under the direction of Mrs. Frederick W. Ried, chairman.

Having in mind that some of the club afternoons in recent years have offered entertainment and sociability until quite late, the committees in charge of programs for the coming season have endeavored to make the meetings of more uniform length, and generally will not include musical numbers on the afternoons when a tea and social hour follow the program. Also for those who can spare time more conveniently early in the afternoon, the Hospitality committee is substituting dessert coffee at 1:30 o'clock in December and January in place of the later afternoon tea.

Members for the Classes in Spanish and French are now being enrolled by Mrs. Frank M. Simmons, (Newton North 3343-W) of the Education committee. Mrs. Salvador Cornejo will conduct Beginners' and Advanced Classes in Spanish, and similar Classes in French will be conducted by Madam Marzin. These classes are open to others than Club members.

Recipes for the proposed Cook Book, which Mrs. Raymond Tucker and her committee hope to offer for sale at the Armistice Bazaar on November 13th and 14th, must be received by Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, 35 Calvin rd., by October 15th.

Study of Newton By Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will meet on Tuesday, October 15th, at 10 a. m., with Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, of 324 Central street.

Continuing the study of "The City of Newton," the program will be a paper on "Elections," by Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger; one on "The Board of Aldermen," by Mrs. Ernest F. Drew; and one on "The School System," by Mrs. Frank F. Davidson.

The Auburndale Review Club held its first meeting of the season on Tuesday, October first, with Mrs. William P. DeWitt, president, who gave a cordial welcome to Club members, as hostess. After the regular routine of business, each member responded to the roll-call, telling of some interesting adventure she had had during her summer vacation.

The general topic for the first two meetings being "The City of Newton" the first paper read was on the "History of Newton," by Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle. She first showed a map (in color) prepared in 1700, explaining very carefully all the divisions, and the location of many old landmarks. She considered the outstanding work of the early settlement was that of John Eliot among the Indians.

Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, on "The Chief Executive," said the duties of the Mayor are manifold. He is responsible for the enforcement of the laws of the city and keeps a record of all official acts. It was a very interesting and instructive paper.

Miss Alice N. Dike told of the many departments of the city and the duties of each.

With the box luncheon, the hostess served coffee and ice cream.

Automobiles were provided to take the Club members to the New City Hall, where the Custodian showed them through the building and the Memorial Hall, a further event of an interesting day. Then Mr. Grant, the City Clerk, met the visitors in the Aldermanic Chamber, where he had placed the old records, from 1700 on, on the desks for their inspection, while he gave a number of interesting facts about the building, calling special attention to the teakwood floor. He also explained preferential voting and answered many questions.

Speakers At Press Conference

Any member of a Federated Club of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs is invited to enter the prize-writing contest to be sponsored by the Press and Publicity department of the Federation, of which Miss Grace Parker is chairman, held in conjunction with the Press School, being conducted in the Auditorium of the Boston-Herald Traveler under the supervision of Mrs. Frances Blanchard, Woman's Club editor of that newspaper. Details and rules for the contest will be explained on Wednesday, October 16th, at the close of the meeting which is at 2 o'clock, and the prizes will be awarded at the Club Institute, on November 7th, when Grace Morrison Poole will be the guest speaker.

Such well-known editors will be heard October 16th in the Auditorium, as Howell Cullinan, Radio broadcaster for the Herald; Mrs. Pauline Warren, Society editor; John Claire Minot, Literary critic; and Margaret Ford of the Children's Page. Jack Frost, whose "Fancy This," is a daily feature, will exhibit some of his pictures. Mrs. Joseph Thorley, of Medford, a newspaper woman of wide experience, will explain what she considers the best technic for writing a long advance notice for a local newspaper; as well as a story of a past event. Mrs. Seavey P. Swan, a member of the State Press and Publicity committee, will disucss the advantages of having a Club Bulletin. Club Scrap books, as well as pictures that have appeared in the newspapers, will be exhibited. Assembly singing will be ler by Miss Parker, who will give some publicity hints.

There will be an opportunity to visit the building.

Mrs. Poole Is Dean Of Woman's College

Massachusetts clubwomen especially will be interested to know that Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, retired president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, was appointed dean of Stoneleigh College for young women at Rye Beach, New Hampshire, just before she sailed for Europe on the Scythia, on Saturday, August 31st. Mrs. Poole returned to Boston on October 7th and will take up her position as dean of Stoneleigh on October 10th. While abroad she visited London, Paris, Berlin, and Vienna where she was the guest of the leading women's clubs. The purpose of her trip was to bring herself up-to-the-minute on world affairs, preparatory to her lecture work at Stoneleigh College and elsewhere during the coming season.

A bit of the history of the college where Mrs. Poole is to be dean is timely. Stoneleigh is a new type of college, which was founded a year ago by Richard D. Currier, of Newark, New Jersey, who is its president. Its educational program is the result of several years of joint planning on the part of Mrs. Poole and T. Lawrence Davis, dean of the College of Practical Arts and Letters of Boston University. Its curriculum carries out the educational ideas and ideals of Mrs. Poole and of Dean Davis in providing a two-year course of cultural studies and occupational training, orientation courses, and occupational guidance under the direction of Fred Smith, of the Harvard University School of Education, and vocational projects directed by Dr. Elmer D. West, of Rutland, Ohio. Training in secretarial studies is offered every student and this training is helpful in leading to an eventful vocation.

A General Training Course will be given for new and prospective leaders, committee members, and mothers and friends of the organization. This course will be given at Newton Girl Scout Headquarters, 297 Walnut st., Newtonville. The Newton Village Committee of Girl Scouts entertained scout mothers and friends at tea on Wednesday afternoon in Channing Church parlors. There were four round table discussions, Leadership with Mrs. Harlan Ballard, Brownies with Mrs. Harold Jenks, Camping and Out-of-Doors with Mrs. Graig Pattengill, and Badges and Awards with Mrs. Theron Walker, presiding. Mrs. Walton Redfield, Commissioner of Newton, gave an interesting talk on International Scouting. Tea was in charge of Mrs. Louis Hunter, assisted by Girl Scouts chosen from the four Newton troops.

The following resolution on Peace adopted at the sixty-first annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union held in Atlantic City, Sept. 6-12 was presented to the Newton Union by Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens: "More than fifty years ago upon recommendation of Frances E. Willard, the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union adopted the Department of Peace and took its stand for setting difficulties between nations by arbitration, not war.

"We hereby declare that our attitude has not changed, and appeal to the State Department at Washington, to the League of Nations, and to the peace-loving people in all the world to invoke all possible measures to sustain the Briand-Kellogg Pact. We also appeal to the intelligence of this troubled age to prevent another World War."

Tea was served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Grace W. Martin was hostess. Mrs. Katherine L. S. Goddard, poured.

Day Jr. High School

A radio broadcast last June over 83 stations was instrumental in helping found the Fingerprinting Club, a new organization, under Wendall Thornton, at the F. A. Day. The members of the Radio Club were broadcasting an interview on fingerprinting with General Daniel Needham. It happened that J. Edgar Hoover, Director of Division of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, was listening in, and since, he has expressed his interest in the program. Fingerprinting is a comparatively recent art, yet one with many possibilities for the future.

Pupils in two of the mechanical drawing classes, under Mr. Hammond, are focusing their work on a definite interest center. One class is working on a project of houseplanning. The house is to be modern, attractive, practical, and economical. Plans are being drawn up, and the wisest and newest constructions being developed. In this way, the native abilities of the pupil may be uncovered.

Another interest center in one of Mr. Hammond's classes is that of yacht building. From Maine to Pennsylvania, there are more amateur junior yachtsmen than in any other part of the world. The problem before the pupils in mechanical drawing is one of constructing the most hardy, seafaring, yet economical sail-boat that a junior yachtsman could wish for.

The members of the Student Council, the student governing board of the F. A. Day, include:

Seventh Grade: Frank Brimblecom, Elizabeth Sherman, Virginia Kyle, John Saunier, Paul Harriman and Thomas Dargan.

Eighth Grade: Jacqueline Wilcox, John Langlois, Philip Birmingham, Charles Bova, Donald Abbott, Barbara Daniels and Samuel Thompson.

Ninth Grade: Miriam Cronan, Florence Pine, Joseph Mascia, Daniel Needham, Gloria Martines, Howard Thomas, Arthur Hughes, Doris Martines, Ernest Colarullo and Albert Everts.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

After an exciting campaign the Ninth Grade elected the following officers: President, Gerard Callanan; vice-president, Allene Crissey; secretary, Genevieve Hanson; treasurer, Janet Smith.

Eighth Grade officers elected were: President, James Blue; vice-president, Albert Tashjian; secretary, Jean MacNeil; treasurer, Donald Colligan.

At 3:15 on Tuesday, Oct. 8, Dr. Jesse B. Davis, newly appointed Dean of Boston University School of Education, addressed the faculties of all the junior high schools of the city. The subject of his address was "The Aims of the Junior High School."

The assembly on Wednesday, Oct. 9, was adapted to the observance of Columbus Day. Janet Smith was chairman of the program, which included orchestral selections, the Governor's Columbus Day proclamation, a talk on Italian art by Virginia Weston, a story of Italian music by Betty Hall, a review of famous Italians by Robert Greer, a poem by Genevieve Hanson, and the story of Columbus by Bernice Applebaum.

Weeks Jr. High

The "216 Playhouse," a Ninth Grade drama club under the direction of Mrs. Blake, presented a one-act play, "A Pan of Fudge," at the Oct. 4 assembly. Carolyn Cooke announced the cast, which included Katherine Andersen, Peggy Sullivan, Jacqueline Proctor, Ruth Tennihan, Betty Vose, Mary Ormsby.

The skit depicted the escapades of a group of girls in a boarding school and their strained relations with the French teacher.

On Saturday, Oct. 5, several members of the faculty journeyed to Mansfield, Mass., to attend the wedding of Miss Alice Gray and Mr. Bailey Sherman. Miss Gray was formerly associated with the Weeks faculty as office assistant and teacher of English.

Damon Hall School Opens With Large Enrollment

Damon Hall Junior College in Newton, opened recently the largest enrollment in its history. The phenomenal growth of the school necessitated many changes and among them were included a number of new classrooms, several additions to the faculty, a modern oil heating plant and new courses of study.

Frank Hardy Damon, president of the college announced the new members of the faculty who include, Phillis G. Bradbury, B.A. of Wellesley, prominent in scholastic and social circles at that college. She will head the Executive Secretarial Department. In addition to her academic training Miss Bradbury brings to the school the benefit of a broad business career with practical experience in present day executive problems. Florence Hasting of Maynard has been appointed her assistant.

The course in English Novel will be conducted by Sylvia Chase, A.B. and A.M. of Smith College and the University of Michigan. Priscilla Wales will have charge of the field of Geological study and research. Miss Wales is a graduate of Radcliffe.

Lisette Henderson, Counsellor at Law, a graduate of the University of Chicago Law School, will conduct a series of lectures on legal relations. In addition to fifteen years practice as a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association, Miss Henderson is a Director of the Women's Association of Lawyers and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Honor Retiring Asst. Fire Chief

tor Arthur W. Hollis, Chiefs Johnson of Waltham, A'Hearn of Watertown, Allen of Brookline, Quinlan of Needham and Slamin of Wellesley, and Aldermen Akins, Barwise and Guzzi. Mr. Childs stressed the desirability of promoting deserving and competent members of the fire and police departments, as exemplified by Chief Boothby's advancement. Senator Hollis said that it is public servants like Boothby who are largely responsible for a city's progress. Chief Allen said that Boothby was a real fireman and not one who had obtained his knowledge from books. Allen facetiously commented that he had read in the Boston papers the preceding night that Newton police cars are to be heated in a very economical way and he offered to present three old milk cans to be used as hot water containers.

An entertainment program was provided by Joe Delaney, pianist; Louis Champagne, dancer; Joe Champagne, stories; Bernie Lyman and John Barwise, songs.

Drunken Driver Sent To Prison

Francis Frango, 27, of 108 Oak st., Newton Upper Falls, was arrested last Saturday by Patrolman Hammell charged with drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday and his case was continued to October 10. It was the second time within a week that Frango had been arrested on such charges. The preceding Sunday night he was arrested by Patrolmen Smith and Greeley. He was tried on this case on Wednesday and found guilty by Judge Weston.

On Thursday Frango was found guilty on the second charge and received a sentence of 30 days in jail on each charge.

Refuse Protest On Gas Rates

The resolution offered by Alderman Guzzi of Ward 3 protesting against the proposed increases in gas rates by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company was turned down by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Those who voted in favor of the protest were Aldermen Akins, Cronin, Guzzi and McCabe. The other members of the Board voted against the measure. Alderman McKay stated that it is not the function of the Board to protest against increases when the Gas Company had not been given an opportunity to present its side of the case. Aldermen Inches and Walker concurred with McCabe.

Public Lecture On Italian-Ethiopian Controversy

At the Myrtle Baptist Church next Thursday evening, Oct. 17th, at eight o'clock, there will be a public lecture on the Italian-Ethiopian controversy. The lecturer will be Simeon Bankole-Wright, a native of Africa, who has spent some time in Ethiopia. Mr. Bankole-Wright is now a senior at the Andover Newton Theological School. Among the questions which the speaker will try to answer will be: will Italy win? will the controversy lead to a war between the white and black races of the world? will Great Britain aid Ethiopia? will there be war in Europe? what is the position or place of the American Negro in this complex situation? and what can Christians do to make the Ethiopian people know that they are sympathetic in their present national crisis? There will be a question period following the lecture.

The program is sponsored by the Daughters of Myrtle.

Rotary Club

The speaker at the meeting last Monday was the District Governor of the 31st District of Rotary international, Henry Porter. Prior to the luncheon, he conferred with the various officers and committee chairman, distributing both advice and appreciation. At the luncheon itself he sought to interpret Rotary anew to the membership, likening it to a "great wheel that turns the best side of a man to the light." Founded as it is on Goodwill, Rotary has been able to merge individual differences and the prejudices of race and creed and color in the common interests of Service and Goodwill. The extent of its growth during its thirty-six years of existence is ample proof that it is really something more than a weekly meeting ground for fellowship and that its motto of Service does have tangible expression in the life of the community, of the nation, and of the world.

vember it cast 1916 votes for Bacon and 901 for Curley.

The political complexion of Wards 5 and 6 would undergo no changes under the new Ward lines proposed by the plan and the new Ward 7 to include Upper Falls, Oak Hill and the remainder of the area south of Boylston st. would be strongly Republican. So, the new Ward lines to be discussed at the hearings next week ought to be quite satisfactory from a partisan consideration to Republicans, but they certainly do not give cause for enthusiasm to citizens in Ward 1 and the north side of Ward 3 who have had representatives in the Newton Board of Aldermen for the past generation. It is true that the majority of voters in Ward 3 for many years past have acted magnanimously by according the minority north of the B. & A. tracks the privilege of selecting the Ward Alderman. Perhaps this liberal attitude would continue, even though the plan were adopted. And probably the voters of a revised Ward 1 would also be liberal and allow one of the three aldermen from that Ward to be chosen from the area north of Washington st. and west of Centre st.

It is our belief, however, that the best interests of the city will be served in the future by retaining Wards 1, 2, 3, 4 and 7 practically as they now are, and create two new Wards by dividing Ward 5 and Ward 6. By doing this the various social groups in the city would continue to have fair representation in our City Government. Under the Colby plan we believe there would be a strong probability that the present small minority in the Board of Aldermen might be wiped out. The best minds in both the Republican and Democratic parties agree that a minority, even a small minority is very desirable. And this holds true in municipal governments conducted on a non-partisan basis. It is improbable, however, that the Aldermen are seriously considering the adoption of this plan, or that they intend this year to make any changes in the existing Ward lines.

Don't Want Shop Near Cemetery

H. Wilson Ross, Treasurer of the Newton Cemetery Corporation, appeared at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night to protest against the petition of Truman S. MacLean of Winslow rd., Waban, for a permit to conduct an automobile repair shop in the building owned by Mrs. Mary O'Connor at 873 Walnut st., Newton Highlands. Mr. Ross said that the building is located between the entrance of the Newton Cemetery and Beacon st., and an automobile repair shop would be a detriment to the cemetery.

Would Zone Newton Land

Amendments to the Newton zoning ordinance are being prepared which will zone land as well as buildings in this city. A large percentage of Newton residents suppose that land is now zoned, but this is not the case. It is proposed to prohibit gravel pits in residence zones, existing pits cannot be extended, the stripping of loam off land would be prevented and dumps would be controlled. Measures are also being considered which will restrict further private hospitals and sanitariums in residence zones.

Fined $70 For Drunken Driving

Frank Cunningham of Charles st., Auburndale, was fined $50 in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Allen for driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and $20 for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. On Sept. 16 a milk truck driven by Cunningham hit a car at Commonwealth ave. and Melrose st., Auburndale. Half an hour later the defendant was arrested on Charles st. by Serg. Leehan and Patrolman Dowling. Judge Allen told Cunningham that he received a break by not being charged with a second offence for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Juniors Support Newton Forum

Showing a keen interest and enthusiasm in the program of the Newton Community Forum, the younger element of this city have already perfected plans to render effective and valuable assistance to the senior steering committee. In a meeting of a committee of 25 at Newton High School, Norman Whitney of West Newton, President of the student body at Newton High School, was elected chairman. Representatives of Newton High School, Sacred Heart High School, Newton Trade School, Newton-Andover Theological School, Boston College, Lasell Junior College and Newton Country Day School are on the committee.

Plans were formulated to assist the adult Steering Committee by advertising the Forum among the many young people's clubs and organizations throughout the city, and by aiding wherever possible with the work of the senior committee. Two members, Chairman Whitney and Miss Cornelia Brown of Newton Highlands, secretary of the Junior Committee, are representing the junior group on the senior Steering Committee.

Already the junior group has arranged to usher when Margaret Slattery addresses the Forum in Janu-

He was graduated from the Newton High School in 1922, Dartmouth College in 1926 and Harvard Law School in 1929. Since that time he has been practicing law in Boston and has been active in civic and political affairs in Newton. He was a delegate to the Republican State Convention in Worcester in 1934 and is a member of the Republican City Committee and the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association.

Donald Hill, who has been Ward Alderman for the past four years, is a candidate for alderman-at-large to succeed George W. Grebenstein.

Manning To Run For Alderman

James M. Manning of 12 Pearl ct., Newton has announced that he will be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7. He will oppose George E. Rawson the present occupant of the office. Mr. Manning is a lifelong resident of the Ward and is employed at the First National Market in West Newton. He has been a candidate for Alderman the past two years.

Pays $25 For Not Stopping

Harry Davis of Worcester was fined $25 in the Newton court on Friday for not stopping his car when signalled to do so by a policeman. Patrolman Lawrence Murphy testified that Davis was speeding along the turnpike and failed to stop when he whistled. Murphy gave chase in a police car and caught Davis near the Brookline boundary. Davis claimed he did not hear the whistle.

Open Needham Campaign With Large Meeting

Newton's city government must continue to improve, General Daniel Needham, candidate for Mayor, told an audience of more than 500 citizens at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse when the Needham campaign was opened. He stated he will strive for more efficiency and lower taxes in an effort to surpass the record made by Mayor Sinclair Weeks, his friend and supporter.

Needham's platform also aims to advance the high standards of the public schools; insure courteous and fair treatment by all departments and employees; fairness and equity to all less fortunate citizens in the Welfare department; steady employment for city laborers; and efficient and economical operation of the health and safety departments.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks, who is voluntarily retiring from the Mayor's office, was present and urged the election of Gen. Needham as a trained executive who will maintain the high standards which the present city government has insisted upon. Other speakers included A. C. Webber, William F. Garcelon, and William J. Doherty. Reports on the progress of the campaign work in the various wards and precincts were made by leaders in the seven wards.

Catch Alleged C. Hill Burglar

George Allen, 29, of New York, a former Brookline resident, was arrested Sunday afternoon at Chestnut Hill by Patrolman Carley who observed Allen prowling around the residence of Samuel Eliot at 70 Suffolk rd. A number of burglaries have been committed at Chestnut Hill and policemen in plain clothes have been on watch. The Eliot home has been twice burglarized. Patrolman McCormick identified Allen as the man who fled from the home of Thomas Woods, Jr. at 15 Lee rd. the preceding Tuesday. Allen had been arrested on similar charges at Boston and Concord. Allen was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday and his case continued to October 18.

Mrs. Scribner Found Not Guilty

Mrs. Helen M. Scribner of 12 Scribner Park, Auburndale, was found not guilty of the charge of larceny from her aunt, the late Mary Hargedon of 51 Noble st., West Newton, in the Middlesex Superior Court yesterday by Judge Nelson P. Brown.

Few Attend Hearings On New Ward Lines

Plans For Seven and Nine Wards Discussed

Hearings held before the Legislation Committee of the Board of Aldermen on Monday and Wednesday nights of this week on the proposed changes in Ward lines brought but few citizens to City Hall. At the hearing on Monday night relative to Wards 1, 2 and 7, apart from the Aldermen in attendance only a dozen citizens were present.

Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Legislation Committee explained that the plan submitted by Alderman Colby would be discussed and he also read a letter and editorial written by Representative Warren Brimblecom advocating a nine Ward plan, the two additional Wards to be created by dividing Wards 5 and 6; the other existing Wards to be retained largely as at present. Joseph P. Dargon, chairman of the Newton Democratic City Committee objected to the Colby plan which would split Ward 1 by consolidating most of it with Ward 7 and the balance with Ward 2. Mr. Dargon said Ward 1 has been Democratic for many years and it is not beyond possibilities that party designations may again be used in city elections in Newton. He said in such a case a Democrat would not have a ghost of a show. He stated that even under our supposedly non-partisan elections, any candidate branded a Democrat ordinarily goes down to defeat. He favored the nine Ward plan.

Edward H. Powers said that he did not believe Mr. Colby intentionally planned to wipe out the only Democratic Ward in the city, Ward 1, but such a result would follow under his plan and minority representation in Ward 3 would also be jeopardized. Powers said that heretofore residents of Newton whose economic and social interests are akin, and who reside in well defined sections of the city, have had representation in the Board of Aldermen, but, under the Colby plan this representation might be wiped out. He also favored the nine ward plan. Philip Jamieson said that Newton Corner has always been divided into two Wards, but these two have worked together as one community. He said party politics should not be brought in, and he favored the Colby plan, because he contended the nine Ward plan would cause additional election expenses.

John W. Murphy, chairman of the Board of Assessors said he is not interested as an individual in Ward lines but as a public official. He said something should be done to

Chest Agencies Serve A Third Of Residents

Nearly Two Thousand Families Contacted

The remarkable statement that the fourteen institutions that are members of the Newton Community Chest served one-third of the population of the city, or 24,112 men, women and children last year, was given out at the Chest office this week. There were 1793 families touched directly by these community organizations.

Healthful as Newton is known to be, 18,237 individuals were treated or received health instruction by the four agencies devoted to the care of the sick and aged—more than one-fourth of these entirely free of charge.

It is proven that by the very nature of this service responsibility for such care must rest on the community itself. A Directory of the agencies will be in the hands of every campaign worker, giving in detail the number of citizens each institution served, the number that were free and the character of the service as well as the financial requirements to continue the work in 1936. The generous people of Newton will know what their contributions do for them, why the money is needed, and the names of the men and women who direct the work of these service agencies.

No less remarkable is the number of good neighbors in the city who give freely and voluntarily much time to aid these institutions in the work they do. Besides the Officers and Directors, there were 1043 volunteers assisting the four institutions for the sick and aged. The total number of volunteers working with all of the fourteen members of the Chest is 2068. No one knows better than these friends how much these institutions do to make the community safe and the effect they have upon the welfare of all.

At the meeting of the officers of the Chest and the various campaign committees held Tuesday evening at the City Hall, it was decided to put out the posters and other Campaign material next week so that every one will be informed of the campaign which will run from November 5th to 15th.

It is greatly desired that citizens as far as possible do not plan entertainments or gatherings during this period that will interfere with the 2000 workers who will give their services, or prevent their finding those at home who are to be called upon. This is generally observed in the 428 cities where Community Chest campaigns are carried on.

THE AWAKENING

Massachusetts, there she stands! So proclaimed the voters of the second Essex Senatorial district on Tuesday at the special election held to fill a vacancy in the State Senate. It is not necessary to go into the details of the pre-election campaign or the results of the election. The issues, stated from the platform by the successful Republican candidate, were clear—first: opposition to the New Deal—second: a return to safe, sane and honest government. Senator-elect William H. McSweeney stated that he considered his election not a tribute but a "mandate from the people that they are through with the type of personal, political government and false economic government that they are receiving today from state and national administrations." Further issues in the campaign he states were "encouragement to industry and less governmental interference, more independence and freedom from the control of a demagogic form of government." It is clear that the voters are awakening. Essex County is showing the way. Other counties throughout the state will follow.

OUR NEXT GOVERNOR

We have frequently indicated that we would earnestly support Speaker of the House of Leverett Saltonstall when he became a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts. It is hardly necessary to reiterate our previous endorsements now that he has definitely announced that he would seek the office of Chief Executive. With the indications that his candidacy will be enthusiastically received by thousands of Republicans throughout the state and with the voters awakening to the necessity for a return of good government we look forward with great pleasure to the inauguration of Governor Saltonstall in January, 1937.

THE END OF A PUBLIC SERVICE CAREER?

For thirty-seven years William E. Hurley served the United States Government and the people through various positions in the postal service, culminating in that as postmaster of the Boston district. Throughout these years Mr. Hurley made many, many friends who regret the political sequences which resulted in his retirement from service this week. Here is a man who gave the best years of his life to serving the needs of millions. He rose from the ranks and in his career became thoroughly familiar with the requirements of his position. He not only knew what to do but how to do it. He not only knew how to handle difficult situations but how to solve knotty problems, justly and tactfully. It is not the fact that he has retired that is of the greatest import. Mr. Hurley has the ability to handle any executive position which requires knowledge of men and how to handle them, of organization and how to operate it. Neither is the appointment of a successor to Mr. Hurley the most important. The essential point as we see it is the weakness of a system which permits the ending of a career of public service of any person who has proven his fitness, as Mr. Hurley did, upon political grounds.

ADVERTISING MASSACHUSETTS

This week we had the pleasure of hearing Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook explain how Massachusetts advertised itself throughout those states north of the Mason and Dixon line and east of the Mississippi river. The program for this advertising campaign was authorized by the 1935 Legislature through the appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars. The Secretary of State with the advice and counsel of an unpaid advisory board of men well known in advertising circles as buyers and not sellers of advertising developed a campaign which undoubtedly attracted a great many tourists to this state. While the details of the campaign make an interesting story it is most interesting to learn that more than fifteen million persons had placed before them something or other about the advantages Massachusetts offered in a recreational way and to some extent in an industrial way. From other sources we learn that hotels, historical places and recreational centres experienced a more prosperous summer than for several years. Such prosperity means increased business in many other lines by a more or less direct connection. With industry decreasing in this state as it has done, Massachusetts is forced to find methods of developing its second largest business, recreation, as an offset. We hope that this first year's program is only the start of further methods that can be developed along these lines.

THE EXPECTED HAPPENS

The State public works department last week started the project along the Worcester turnpike under which nearly four miles of sidewalk and curbing will be constructed. Between eighty and ninety men are being employed on this job and with few exceptions none of these men are Newton residents. Despite the request of Newton officials that Newton men be employed as far as possible the jobs apparently were handed out through the state employment bureau which is under the jurisdiction of Governor Curley's former Secretary, Francis J. Kane. Two weeks ago we predicted that there would be few Newton men to receive employment as similar conditions have existed on projects in various parts of the state during the past six months. Newton residents deplore conditions such as these and will remember it at the 1936 elections.

WANDERINGS WITH THE EDITOR

The increased interest in pitching horseshoes which has been spreading everywhere has not overlooked Newton. During the past few years one of the most enthusiastic groups has been gathered together as the Charlesbank Horseshoe Club in the Charlesbank road section of Newton Corner. The annual meeting of this organization was held recently and reports showed that the membership totalled twenty-seven. Most of the members live in the neighborhood although a few come from a considerable distance. Walter L. Morrisey was elected president; A. J. Jardine, vice-president and secretary; A. F. Manley, treasurer, and M. McNeil, manager. The membership committee is comprised of C. Blood, holder of the city championship, T. Crough and T. Harney. The club had a most successful season leading the Newton City League to annex team honors. When interest in the sport was created, a vacant plot of land became the site of the practice pits. With continued interest the club soon prepared several of the new type of pits that are used on playgrounds. They are of cement with an area of clay around the "ringer" post. The Charlesbank members take up the sport as soon as weather permits in the spring and are still at it when the first snow begins to fly in the early winter. In summer the long evenings give them additional time to indulge in a competitive sport which is both recreational and healthful.

Many residents on the northerly side of the city in Newtonville and Nonantum have been bothered recently by a disagreeable smoky odor. When the wind is in the right quarter it is extremely unpleasant and when the wind is strong enough the scent of burning rubbish is wafted as far away as West Newton hill. The cause of the nuisance is the burning of refuse in the dump at Watertown on Pleasant st. above the Bemis bridge. For many years this dump has been a nuisance at various intervals and once again residents of the section affected are forced to complain. There has been a fire there most of the time for the past several weeks and much of this seemingly is intentional as it is surface material. We have been informed that the attention of the State Health Department has been called to the situation and possibly some action will be taken in the near future to abate this nuisance.

Just as though the nuisance at the Watertown dump were not enough for Newton residents now comes word that Waltham will shortly begin to dump rubbish in swamp area near Forest Grove, Auburndale. Residents of Auburndale and West Newton are considerably agitated over the prospects of a disagreeable situation developing there. The city of Waltham has been forced to abandon one dump after another because of the annoyance created and has had considerable court litigation in its latest experience with a dump towards the Waverley line. Owners of swampy land used by the Waltham Gun Club near what is known as Pine Island recently offered the city of Waltham the opportunity to dump rubbish and other fill there and the offer has been accepted. While it has been stated that there will be no burning of rubbish many fires have broken out spontaneously in dumps. With the dump being on the Newton side of the river there is a further likelihood that rats may prove to be considerable of a pest in that vicinity. However one of the planks in the re-election platform of Mayor MacDonald of the Watch City is an incinerator project which may prove the solution to Waltham's problem. Meanwhile Auburndale residents are looking into the dump question.

Our thoughts turn to more pleasant scenes. During the past two or three weeks many persons have told us how glorious they have found the White Mountains, the Mohawk Trail, the Cape and other distant points of interest that are particularly exhilarating at this time of year with the ravaging beauty of the fall foliage. In wandering around the city one can find many colorful sights where the trees are of a scarlet red, a brilliant yellow, a blazing orange or any of the other gorgeous hues. But the outstanding spot in Newton where the foliage is at its best and the picture one of the prettiest that can be imagined is in the vicinity of city hall. The pleasing architecture of the city hall and memorial building with its extensive landscaping amidst a spectroscopic background make a picture that could only be transferred to canvas by the magic touch of the master artist.

There is renewed agitation for a shelter near city hall at the corner of Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st. so that persons waiting for busses will not be exposed to the wet and cold. It will not be long before the chilly winds will be sweeping across Bullough Pond and drifting snow will add to the discomfort at this point. If any shelter is erected here it should of course be in harmony with the surroundings and should not be permitted to develop into an ugly eyesore. There is a possibility that such a building could be erected by WPA labor and the ultimate cost of the project be kept down to a minimum.

GIRL SCOUTS

Twenty-seven Newton women met at the Newton Girl Scout Headquarters on Tuesday, October 15th, for the first meeting of a general training course for Girl Scout leaders. Mrs. George Fernald, Chairman of Training and Personnel for the Newton Council, welcomed the group and spoke of the opportunities which Girl Scouting affords adult leaders. Miss Margaret Adams, Assistant Director, is in charge of the course, assisted by Mrs. Harland H. Ballard of Newtonville, and Miss Eloise Barber, Newton Field Captain.

The course, which will continue on Tuesday mornings for eight weeks, is to be conducted as a Girl Scout troop. Leaders will discuss the various methods for presenting program material to the girls, and will have an opportunity to practice Girl Scout techniques. The recreational and educational significance of the movement will be considered and the means of making Girl Scouting a community asset will be discussed.

Those attending the course on Tuesday were: Mrs. Samuel E. Cutler, Mrs. Sterling Loveland, Miss Margaret Mansfield, Mrs. Joseph D. Richards, and Miss Minnie Spiers of Newton; Mrs. Amos J. McDuff and Mrs. Weimande Ross of Newtonville; Mrs. John C. Duff, Mrs. Lawrence Dungan and Miss Elizabeth Smith of West Newton; Mrs. William W. Edson, Mrs. Earle Pearson, Mrs. Ruth Ryan, Mrs. Leonard Simmons, and Mrs. George Wilson of Auburndale; Mrs. Richard Favorite and Mrs. Arthur Nelson of Waban; Mrs. Alexander Standish and Mrs. Kenneth Crafts of Newton Centre; Miss Madeleine Barrett of Newton Highlands; Mrs. John Corcoran of Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. Albert Davis of Newton Upper Falls; and Mrs. Irving Hull, Mrs. C. K. Johnson, Mrs. Gertrude Moore and Mrs. Walter Ritz of Watertown.

The mothers of Newtonville Girl Scouts are learning much that is interesting and profitable about the organizations these days and also growing better acquainted. A series of teas are being held in the different homes at which the Girl Scout mothers are honor guests.

Last Friday, October 11th, Mrs. Robert C. Kelley was hostess to the mothers of Troop 1 at her home at 503 Walnut st. Captain Ballard spoke and Miss Freeman and Miss Barber from Headquarters were guests.

On Monday, October 14th, Mrs. John C. Duff graciously opened her home at 216 Valentine st. to the mothers of Troop 33. Miss Margaret E. Adams was the speaker and gave a most interesting talk. Captain Linberg assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Norman Southworth of 607 Watertown st. is entertaining at tea on Monday, October 21st, for the mothers of Troops 22 and 28. Captains Doten and Wheeler expect a large representation from their troops and promise an enjoyable afternoon with a representative from Scout Headquarters to speak.

The next tea to be given will be that for Troop 10 with Mrs. Louis J. Steitz as hostess.

NEWTON In The Past

60 YEARS AGO

From Newton Republican, October 21, 1876

The snowstorm of last Sunday morning took everyone by surprise. How the eyes of the little ones sparkled as they saw the ground white with snow for the first time this season. The trees laden with green leaves, fruit and snow at the same time presented a strange contrast. So did plants and flowers and you could see the beautiful color of the flower peeping out under its covering of snow.

Mr. W. S. Tilden, who has charge of music in the public schools of this city, has been engaged to teach music in the schools of Brookline two days in the week.

The cool weather has brought the football into use among the boys and every afternoon on the baseball grounds at Newton may be seen exciting games. An "eleven" calling themselves the "Waverlys" has been formed with Henry E. Bothfeld as captain and Ed Holmes as secretary.

On account of a disturbance between the firemen of Engine 1 and those of the Pequosette (steam fire engine) of Watertown at the fire on Monday night, Chief Engineer Whipple has notified the Chief of the Watertown fire department that the services of that steamer will not be required at fires in this city unless solicited. The Newton steamer will not go to Watertown in the future unless asked for.

The new grocery store of Richards & Carter at Newton Highlands supplies a want long felt in this village. There is no longer need of the daily transport of big baskets to and from Boston.

The barbers of West Newton have agreed to close on Sundays after November 1. This is a good example for other sections to follow.

Monday a pair of horses attached to a hack containing Miss Call and Mr. Quimby took fright and ran down Highland ave. and Walnut st. to Otis st., where the hack was overturned. The occupants, fortunately, escaped injury.

Levi C. Wade, president of the Mexican Central Railway, is at his home in Oak Hill. He has a number of men and teams engaged in the task of laying out paths and driveways on the land at the rear of the house.

People in Thompsonville and Oak Hill have been annoyed of late by persons gunning in the woods at that locality. Four young men were recently arrested for that offence and fined in the Newton court.

Ward 6 is not modest. She has had two Mayors and now asks for another. Newton Corner with nearly double the population of Ward 6 has never had but one Mayor, and Wards 3 and 5 have not as yet been honored with even one.

Thursday evening the ladies and gentlemen who made the excursion to Mount Washington last September under the guidance of Dr. J. F. Frisbie met at his home for a social good time. John V. Sullivan of Newtonville in behalf of those who accompanied the doctor on that excursion presented him a complete set of Chambers Encyclopedia bound in morocco.

25 YEARS AGO

From Newton Graphic, Oct. 21, 1910

The annual fall outing of the Board of Aldermen and city officials took place yesterday, and notwithstanding the dubious weather was a most interesting occasion. The party met at City Hall at 9 o'clock and under the lead of Mayor Hatfield automobiles were quickly filled. The first stop was at the truck house in Newtonville to inspect the new fire truck. The route then led through Waltham st., West Newton, which had recently been repaired. The extremely bad condition of the Charles River from the Waltham line to Weston was called to the attention of the Aldermen. The river was in vile condition and it is imperative that some action be taken promptly if health conditions are to be respected.

The artesian well to supply water for the swimming pool at the new Y. M. C. A. building was blown out with dynamite Saturday, in order to start the water flowing. The well of 8-inch iron pipe has been driven to a depth of 408 feet and there is a good supply of water but no pressure to make it flow. A test charge was blown the previous afternoon. The charge sent the water into the air to a height of about 125 feet.

Julius Lucht has been appointed librarian of the Newton Free Library to take up his duties the first of November. Mr. Lucht is of Dutch origin. His father, a Lutheran clergyman, came to this country just after the Civil War and settled in Davenport, Iowa. Mr. Lucht received his A.B. degree at Harvard in 1899.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

We are not condoning Italy's action in invading Ethiopia, but has it occurred to you that England and France, now condemning and threatening Italy, permitted Japan the past couple of years to invade and seize Chinese territory without taking any measures to stop the cocky Oriental nation. Why the discrimination?

The founders of this country purposed to establish a nation where men might enjoy political and religious freedom ,and where racial enmities would not prevail. These tenets of true Americanism have happily been characteristic of Newton. It is to be regretted that a racial or religious issue would be injected into any Newton mayoralty campaign. Those who do so certainly are not persons trained in Newton traditions; not products of Newton. The people of Newton in the past have not organized politically on the basis of affiliation with this or that religious group. Of course there are exceptions. Some persons who profess to be tolerant and liberal, have uttered narrow sentiments in private, or at small gatherings where they thought they could give vent to their real feelings. But, bigotry, like murder, will out, and narrowness has never taken root in Newton.

May we suggest to the gentlemen who are comparatively newcomers to Newton and who proclaim that their co-religionists in Newton will be 100% for any candidate, that they are more apt to hurt than help by such mouthings. If they will take the trouble to interview those of their faith who have been born in Newton, who have been educated in Newton, they will learn that no candidate for Mayor of Newton will receive 100% of the Gentile or Jewish vote, the Protestant or Catholic vote, the Christian, deist or agnostic vote. They will become aware that citizens of this city, on the whole, vote as Americans, and without unsolicited advice from self constituted leaders.

Several weeks ago we had an interview with Commissioner of Public Safety Kirk and Captain James Mahoney of the State Police. We told these gentlemen, who are the executives of the Commonwealth's uniformed police force, that for some years we have been commenting adversely on what we believed to be a lessening in the amount of traffic patrol service performed by the State police on the State highways. We started such criticisms long before General Needham or Col. Kirk assumed heads of the Department of Public Safety. Col. Kirk and Captain Mahoney both impress us as men of ability and high character and they courteously gave statistics to disprove our contention. We remarked that the only State highways on which we regularly observed State police performing motorcycle traffic duty were the Taunton pike and at Cape Cod. These highways are patrolled by police from Troop D with headquarters at West Bridgewater.

To correct our ideas regarding the traffic patrol activities of the State Police we were shown an official report which gave the following statistics: For the first six months of 1934 traffic violations reported by Troop A of the State Police totalled 4219; Troop B, 3958; Troop C, 3851; Troop D, 3816, A total for the four troops of 15,844. For the first six months of 1935 Troop A reported 5564 violations; Troop B, 5088; Troop C, 6376; Troop D, 3189, A total of 20,217 and an increase over 1934 of 5000. Arrests and summons into courts by members of the State Police were as follows: For the first 6 months of 1934, Troop A, 1780; Troop B, 653; Troop C, 1268; Troop D, 1290, A total of 4991. For the first 6 months of 1935 the toals were: Troop A, 2267; Troop B, 630; Troop C, 2079; Troop D, 1006; a grand total of 5982 and an increase over 1934 of 991.

Troop A has headquarters at Framingham and serves Middlesex, Essex and Norfolk counties. Troop B has headquarters at Northampton and covers the four western counties of the State. Troop C has headquarters at Holden and covers Worcester county. Troop D West Bridgewater covers Barnstable, Plymouth, Bristol counties, Marthas Vineyard and Nantucket.

We were informed that ordinarily about 150 men are assigned to traffic duty, but are not always on this work. To prove the effectiveness of highway patrol by motorcycle policemen late this spring six State policemen were assigned to duty on the Southwest cutoff starting at Shrewsbury. Two men have been constantly on duty over a 15 mile stretch for 24 hours daily. On this stretch of State highway during the first 6 months of 1934 there were 59 automobile accidents causing 6 deaths and injuries to 73 persons. As a result of the patrol being assigned there the accidents for the first 6 months of 1935 totalled only 29, deaths 2, and persons injured 27.

We still believe that there should be more State policemen patrolling the highways, even if it is necessary to enlarge the force. Last Sunday we motored to Peterboro, New Hampshire. Motor cars by the thousands were along Route 2 from Concord to Littleton, but we observed no policeman doing motorcycle patrol duty. Returning, we stopped, started and crawled in slow progress from Nashua to the bridge at Tyngsboro, where a khaki clad policeman was observed detouring traffic around the small circle at that place. From Tyngsboro to North Chelmsford practically the same traffic tie-up was encountered, but no traffic officer was observed.

Police departments are maintained at large expense to taxpayers to protect life and property. Automobiles cause most accidental deaths today. Deaths caused by crime are few in comparison. It would seem therefore, that the most important duty of State and municipal police today is the control of traffic, the prevention of reckless operation of motor vehicles, and the prosecution of those who violate automobile laws.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

So There!

As if it were necessary for the 1935 Administration and Legislature of Massachusetts to provide you and I with something to remember them by, we find a surtax statement that reached us Columbus Day of all days. The inference, I suppose, should be that this additional ten per cent is a sort of "discovery tax" and merely to remind us we are lucky to be living in America. Well, if such there be who disapprove they must wait until the 1936 election to show resentment. Unless—and I've spent a good deal of time thinking out this one—we disregard what the surtax bill says in large letters ("Never Send Cash by Mail") and do just that. I mean, send the amount in cash by mail and make 'em give a receipt and like it.

The Rights of Woman

If you happen to have started to read a good book only to find some pressing duty calls and you must put it down, you'll sympathize with this Newton woman. She was one of the borrowers at the main building of the Free Library and quite astonished the young woman at the desk by asking to have two copies of the same writing charged to her card.

"Surely you don't want both," came the query, "they're just alike."

"O yes, I do," the woman replied. "You see, I take a good book home and get well into it when the time comes to prepare the evening meal. Then I put it aside and my husband picks it up. While I'm washing the dinner dishes he's reading my book and won't give it back to me. This time I'm bound to get an even break with him."

Another Mystery Solved

When you pick up a book borrowed from the Newton Free Library and find a cryptic symbol on one of the pages don't be alarmed. It doesn't mean that some mysterious organization has designs on the public reading matter. The truth is that some borrower has marked the book to remind him that he has read it, or at least that it has been taken out previously by some member of the family.

The most common mark is a cross in the upper felt hand corner of the first page. The next popular is the same kind of a cross in the upper left hand corner of the back page. Some readers make what may be called a check mark—one of those things that look like a one-sided "V." This is a joke on them as it is a symbol used by the library officials to indicate one of the branches.

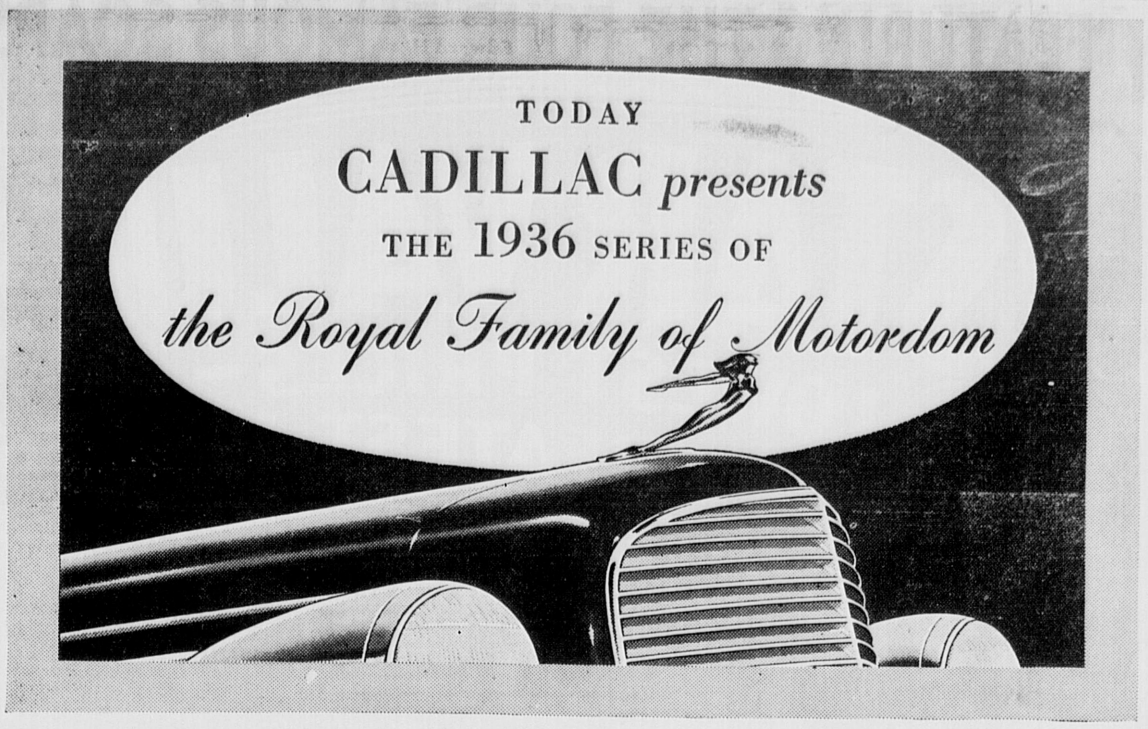

The whole thing is a bit silly as the assistant librarians look the books over and erase everything, providing the mark hasn't cut into the paper. In that case they go through the somewhat laborious but nevertheless accurate process of finding out which borrower defaced the book and then he hears from it.

One reader, apparently using more ingenuity than the others, puts a letter "T" on page 319 of every book he takes out. Another, not quite as clever, marks a cross on page 13, while in Newtonville there is a reader who uses a red pencil to decorate the back page. Several go in for rings or circles here and there.

If there were only one copy of each book the system might accomplish its purpose but as there are frequently in circulation as many as twenty-five copies the hieroglyphics are usually written in vain. The library, with fairness and reason, suggests that such readers keep a list of books they have borrowed and will go as far as providing them with free paper and pencils. The most faltering memory should be impressed by that magnanimous offer.

It Can't Be Done

Having exhausted every reasonable method for preventing youngsters from tearing across his lawn, a Ward 7 resident resolved that if he could afford it he would have a fence erected. He wanted something serviceable as well as ornamental. That, of course, meant money. From a carpenter he obtained an estimate as to a wooden fence and from a manufacturer that for a metal one. Both ran into money and ran pretty far. Taking a friend into his confidence he showed him the figures, saying, "I wish I could afford it but in my position it's a lot of money to spend just to keep children from tearing your grounds to pieces." Thereupon the friend, not ordinarily bloodthirsty, sniffed and said, "Oh, take $10 and buy a shotgun."

NORTON-GRIFFITHS—SCHRAFFT

Miss Kathryn Schrafft, daughter of Mrs. George F. Schrafft of Newton, was married to Sir Peter Norton-Griffiths of London, England, and Mexico City, Mexico, at four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, October fifteenth, in Grace Episcopal Church, Newton. Rev. Laurens MacLure performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of ivory imperial satin, Greek inspiration, with a very long slightly rounded train which was cut in one with the skirt. Her veil of tulle was held in place by a diamond tiara, the gift of the groom's mother. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Winslow H. Adams of Brookline was the matron of honor and Elisabeth Schrafft, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Phoebe Norton-Griffiths, sister of the groom, of London, England; Miss Augusta Hallett, Miss Alice Scofield and Miss Faith Foster, all of Newton. All of the attendants wore dresses of cream and gold lame. The matron of honor and maid of honor wore small bonnets of jade green velvet and the belts and trimmings on their dresses were of jade green velvet. They carried bouquets of Token roses. The bridesmaids wore bonnets of Capuchin velvet with belts and trimmings on their dresses of the same velvet. They carried Souvenir roses. The train bearers, Robert B. Lovell, Jr., and James Watson Flett, Jr., wore suits of ivory white satin.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 885 Centre st., Newton Centre. Lady Norton-Griffiths and Mrs. George F. Schrafft assisted the couple in receiving. The home was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and autumn foliage.

FORBES—BOURNE

On Saturday evening, Oct. 12th, at the Union Church in Waban, Miss Phyliss Bourne became the bride of Mr. Curtis Forbes. Candlelight prevailed, shedding its soft glow over the pews and white pompon chrysanthemums at the altar, where the bridal couple took their vows.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Austin Bourne, wore a gown of white satin, princess style, with long tulle veil. Her bouquet consisted of gardenias mingled with lilies of the valley.

Miss Bourne was attended by Miss Marion Shipp of East Orange, N. J., as maid of honor, who wore a green velvet gown with tulle hat to match and carried light yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Pedler of Cambridge, sister of the groom; Miss Clare Morse of Sandwich, Mrs. Robert Hoadley of Berlin, N. Y.; and Miss Sylvia Mather of Hartford, Conn. They were gowned in rust color velvet and burnt orange velvet with tulle hats to match and carried bouquets of chrysanthemums combining the Fall colors.

Mr. Forbes was attended by his brother, Sherman A. Forbes of Arlington. In the usher group were Thomas Pedler of Cambridge, Earle Bourne, brother of the bride, of Newton Highlands; Herbert Mosley of Brookline, and Charles Stearns of Newton.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Brae Burn Country Club after which dancing was enjoyed.

Walter F. Kelly, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Robert J. Dunne, brother of the bride, and Paul J. Reilly.

Music was by Mrs. Ellen Passananti, organist, and George Wilson of Ayer, was the baritone soloist.

A reception was held for the immediate families of the bride and groom at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left on a motor tour to Canada.

Waban Improvement Soc. Wants Better Bus Service

The Waban Improvement Society's officers and directors held their October meeting last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. Lawrence Allen, President of the organization. Valuable reports were presented by the several chairmen. A proposed letter and questionnaire to the residents of Waban was approved. The letter covered the work of the Society for the first six months' period to October first. The questionnaire is in relation to the bus line service and looks to a recommendation for improvements which should benefit the bus line as well as the citizens of Waban. Membership in the Society is higher than at this period last year and it is expected that the total will reach nearly 400 families before the year closes. The criticisms and suggestions of those who live in Waban are desired on any subject of a helpful nature. They should be addressed to any of the following officers or directors: President, Lawrence Allen; Vice-President, Edmund S. Whitten; Secretary-Treasurer, Lewis E. Day; Directors, John Underhill, Mrs. Wellington Rindge, Mrs. A. S. MacMillan, John M. Powell, Philip Ver Planck, Mrs. Vernon Durbin.

N. E. Far Behind In Airport Development

"New England is way, way behind the Western states in the proportion of WPA funds devoted to the development of aviation facilities and some day will have to pay out of its own pocket for the things the West is now gaining from relief grants." The cause lies not with the government but with the lack of air-mindedness in New England, Hervey Law explained to the Newton Rotarians last Monday; and while the rest of the country is developing airports among other things we are content with a few major projects and a great deal of fence-painting and leaf-raking.

Mr. Law is Regional Advisor of the Department of Commerce in direct charge of all airport development in New England and he was speaking on The Operations of the Bureau of Air Commerce. He feels very strongly that we are missing a golden opportunity to obtain the benefits that this newest mode of transportation even now is bringing. Illustrative of the growth of the industry, American Airways are reporting increases over last year's business as follows: passenger business, 70%, air express, 300%, and air mail 25%. In a very short time, long range express planes will criss-cross above the continent, making but one or two stops on the journey to pick up business fed in by a host of minor lines; and because of this "feeder" business the smaller municipal airports achieve an importance not recognized here but fully realized in the West.

WPA funds can be expended only on state, county or municipal ports. The West is dotted with these but here in Massachusetts we are content with but 3—Boston, Lawrence and Provincetown and municipalities are loath to take over the starts that private interests have made. For instance, the Framingham field stagnates and the fine Bowles field in Springfield has become a race-track!

One thing Massachusetts has done, however, is to bring all pilots for intra-state flying under the same licenses that are required by the Dept. of Commerce for all inter-state flying so private pilots have the same supervision as the transport fliers. Mr. Law went on to detail the work of the Bureau of Air Commerce which operates through three branches: The Air Regulations branch handles the licenses for all pilots on inter-state business and it has the inspection of the air transport planes. A Dept. of Commerce "dispatcher" is located on every field to handle the arrival and departure of planes and planes can land or take-off without his O.K. The Air Navigation branch maintains the system of field lights, radio beacons, and "air light-houses" and is working to secure a uniform system of lighting and signals throughout the country. At the present time one of the important activities is the development of "blind" flying even in pleasant weather to the end that pilots may become accustomed to using the radio beacons and their own instruments, thus becoming independent of weather conditions. The third branch, with which Mr. Law is directly connected, is concerned with the development of efficient air-ports throughout the country.

Indicating the possibilities of aviation in New England, he paid high tribute to the Boston and Maine-Central Vermont planes which have been operating for several years without a serious accident in spite of the fact that they have had to utilize a great variety of fields which are little better than cow pastures when compared with the standard type towards which the Department is working. On the other hand, the Boston airport is one of the best in the country in spite of the poor approach to it via automobile.

After a very interesting technical description of the light-houses, radio beacons, and "blind flying," Mr. Law renewed his plea that New England awake to the possibilities before it, take more properties under municipal control, and share in the allotment of WPA funds before they are all exhausted by the Western States or utilized for local projects of relatively minor importance.

Police Captain Hurt In Fall

Captain Richard J. Goode, veteran head of the Inspectors Division of the Newton police was seriously injured on Tuesday morning when he fell from the rear steps of the residence of Roger Hodges, 105 Waban Park, Newton and tore the ligaments of both his knees. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in the police ambulance and was operated on yesterday by Dr. Broderick. Goode had gone to the Hodges home to investigate a burglary which was committed there the preceding night. A rear window at the house was forced and some cash stolen. Inspector Goode's injuries will keep him off active duty for a considerable period.

Pre-School Clinic Being Conducted by Nursing Ass'n

One hundred and thirty-eight little tots in various parts of Newton had a new experience during the week of October the seventh. They had all, as babies, attended the Well Baby Conferences held by the District Nursing Association in four centers. After their graduation, at the age of two, few of them had been back, unless they accompanied their mothers when new babies were brought to the Clinics.

Now the one hundred and thirty-eight are nearly old enough to enter school, so the District Nursing Association planned a new service, a Pre-school Clinic. With the help of the nurses and volunteers, four Newton doctors gave the children a thorough physical examination. They were Drs. Theodore Brown, Margaret Blair, Randall Rutherford and Theodore Clark. It was very gratifying to the nurses to see the results of the health instruction which they had been giving in the homes. The number of physical defects in the children was much less than had been anticipated.

This Pre-school Clinic is but one feature of the varied work carried on by the District Nursing Association. When the rooms, at the headquarters in Newtonville, are open to the public on the occasion of the Women's Crusade planned for October 28 and 29, visitors will have an opportunity of learning about some of the other services rendered to the community by this Association.

Legion Auxiliary Elects New Officers

At the annual meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Newton Unit No. 48, held in the Memorial Building on Wednesday evening the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Catherine Rogers; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Sylvia Hudson; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Anne Beattie; Secretary, Mrs. Esther Faherty; Treasurer, Mrs. Janet Paterson; Chaplain, Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis; Historian, Mrs. Jessie Drew; Sergeant at Arms, Miss Catherine Quinlan; Executive Members, Mrs. Nona Kearney, Mrs. Mary Foran, Mrs. Francis Cannon.

The new officers will be installed in November.

Annual reports covering the activities of the past year were given by Officers and Chairmen of Committees.

POPULAR DANCING SCHOOL OPENS SEASON

The International School of Ballet Dancing, five years at the same address, Harvard Square, Cambridge, has found a progressive system for quick developing of natural talent in children.

Due to the fact that many children are grouped into one class, they are automatically relieved of their shyness and timidness, which paves the way for self-expression, personality, charm and most of all their natural gestures for grace, poise, and balance. This system will be helpful in many ways in giving children a physical education and develop their natural talent from time to time as the opportunity affords.

Drake Announces His Platform

Paul Harris Drake, candidate for mayor, announced this week the platform upon which he will campaign. Mr. Drake takes issue with the statement made some time ago that "there are no issues in the present campaign — only personalities." Mr. Drake's statement says "let those candidates who have nothing to offer in the way of a program or an issue stand aside and permit people of Newton to have in the mayor's chair a man whose record is above reproach, and one who, if elected, will be the means of compelling our sleepy city officials to wake up and go places and do things."

His platform includes, "the ending of unemployment in Newton by establishing a 6 hour day for all city employees with a minimum daily wage of $5 and a public works program of unlimited scope including new streets, sewers, sidewalks and public buildings wherever needed throughout the city; the reorganization and humanitization of the public welfare department by paying each welfare recipient a minimum cash allowance for reasonable human needs including common luxuries, abolishing the commissary system now in vogue and ceasing to attempt to make and save money for the taxpayers at the expense of human suffering and need of the weakest and most defenseless members of society; the equalization and distribution of the tax burden more equitable by reassessing all property by employment of a corps of experts and engineers; the cleaning up of all public gambling devices such as betting schemes, beano and bingo parties and slot machines; making Newton a relatively 'dry' city by withholding liquor permits to saloons, taverns, and bottled goods stores."

Discuss Matters Affecting Newtonville at Meeting

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association was held on Monday evening, October 14th, at the home of Mr. George W. Taylor, 30 Foster st.

In regard to the hearing at City Hall on that same evening to discuss the proposal changes in Ward lines, it was voted to send a delegate to this meeting, who should state that on account of the shortness of the notice given the Association was not prepared to approve or disapprove of the plan. The District Representatives of the Association in the parts of Newtonville affected will canvass the citizens there and report the results to the Association.

No definite action was taken on the billboard situation in the village, pending the decision in the courts.

The committee is following with interest the proposed change in the zoning ordinance controlling changes in the grade of land in the city.

The committee for the new library building in Newtonville reported that no regular soliciting of funds would be done until after the Community Chest campaign, and that there was every prospect of success in the project.

The committee passed a resolution condemning the smoke and odor nuisance from the town dump across the river in Watertown and voted to see what could be done to correct this.

A sum of money was appropriated for the Community Chest and definite steps were planned not only to increase the membership of the Association but to bring its activities to the attention of the citizens of Newtonville.

Ask For Hospital On Bellevue St.

A petition has been filed by Margaret Mathieson and Jane Scott asking for a permit to conduct a convalescent home at 65 Bellevue st., Newton. It specifices that the number of patients be limited to seven. A permit for such a use of the building, located in a single residence zone, was granted in 1933. A permit for another 3 years is desired.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

EVERETT MARGIN 14-6 ON CONLEY'S LONG RUN

Everett High defeated Newton by 14-6 last Saturday at Newtonville in one of the cleanest-played contests ever staged in the long series of Columbus Day games between the two teams. Newton was handicapped by injuries to Captain Ernie Savignano, versatile halfback, on the third play of the game, but gave a very good account of itself throughout.

The Newton line proved a marvelous defensive unit from tackle to tackle, but yielded 80 yards to the fast Everett backs around the ends in ten plays. Each team scored one touchdown by passing, and the margin of victory was Everett's on a spectacular 80-yard runback by Dick Conley of Red Callanan's punt in the first period.

Conley Scores on Long Run

Newton kicked off to Everett facing the sun. On third down, Conley got off his only perfect punt of the day, a fine 60-yard spiral, and Newton lost 15 yards on the exchange when Jack Herrick's 50-yard punt was returned to midfield. A balked buck and a fumbled lateral pass forced Conley to kick again to MacLeod at the Newton 25. Newton lost ground, so Herrick lifted another good punt to the Everett 40.

Opderbecke's fine passing arm advanced Everett 22 yards on a pass to Falzone, and another first down came three plays later. But two passes failed, and Conley kicked outside. Newton was a yard short of first down in three plays, and Red Callanan punted, standing almost on the 20-yard mark. It was a marvelous kick, all of 55 yards and high, but Conley gathered it in at the Everett 20-yard line under the noses of three Newton players, and galloped down the left sideline eighty yards to a touchdown. His placekick was perfect, and Everett led 7-0.

Everett was to score again only nine plays later. MacLeod returned the kickoff fifteen yards to the Newton 25. Savignano went back into the game, willing enough but obviously below par. Newton advanced to the 40-yard line on an exchange, Conley's kick carrying out of bounds. Savignano's kick was short. On the next play Romboli, the Everett sprinter, raced through Savignano's zone to take a pass from Opderbecke, outran the Newton defenders easily and scored standing up. Conley again kicked the extra point and Everett led 14-0. The second period continued with a kicking exchange, while Milner Davis and Wilson looked good against the Everett line plays.

The third period did not produce a score, but was the best of the four for sustained action. Newton received the kickoff, made a first down, lost ten yards, gained eight, in four plays, then kicked. Everett returned the kick shortly. Newton lost the ball on a fumble, and Everett at once fumbled to give the ball back to Newton. Callanan's second running pass to MacLeod went for 13 yards, but a longer toss was gathered in by Romboli. Everett again returned the compliment, Opderbecke firing a long one to Newton's Captain Savignano.

After an exchange of short, wobbly kicks, Everett took the ball on the Newton 36-yard line on another fumble. An end sweep and a 20-yard aerial brought the ball within ten yards of the Newton goal line. Then three consecutive Everett passes were foiled, two by official's rulings and the third by Ernie MacLeod. Newton took the ball at the twenty, Callanan kicking about to midfield on third down.

Salvucci-Callanan Pass Clicks

Everett made twelve and lost ten on end sweeps, yielded the ball on downs, then retreated to their 35-yard line on Callanan's punt. Newton again retrieved the leather when the Everett attack slowed up at the Newton 35. Callanan's first pass was blocked, and another went wild, but the third produced Newton's consolation touchdown.

Cal faded to his twenty-yard line, hoisted a well-timed 45-yard pass to Ralph Salvucci, who was 45 yards away, and the Newton right end cut sharply down the left sideline and ran 35 yards further into the Everett end zone. The attempted drop-kick was wide, and the score stood Everett 14, Newton 6. Everett took the ensuing kickoff and made 35 yards in two plays, sweeping the Newton left end and right tackle territories, but these were the last plays of the game.

Feeling between the two teams was excellent. Everett players were slapping Howard Milner on the back when the big Newton tackle left the game, and the Everett section in the stadium seats chorused an Everett cheer for Ernie Savignano when he was replaced for the second time. There was no trace of the bitterness and tense feeling that has characterized other Everett-Newton contests, and yet the game was as hard-fought as any, and took a heavy toll in injuries.

EVERETT GAME HITS NEWTON VARSITY HARD

Coach Ralph Sanborn has been digging deep into his Newton High football squad the last few days, searching for fresh recruits to fill in for battered veterans of the Everett game. No less than eight backs and several line players have taken light workouts or none at all since the bruising encounter with the Gildea eleven.

Ernie Savignano, Captain and quarterback of the orange and black, is virtually on the sidelines already as far as tomorrow's Brockton engagement is concerned, having incurred a painful bruise above the ankle that only rest can heal. The other Ernie of the Newton backfield, MacLeod, was out of school two days with a cold, but will probably be fighting to get on the field tomorrow.

The big Newton tackles, Wilson and Milner, have been on the sick list, and Wilson will be off the gridiron for weeks with a bad knee. Bob Whelden, with a shin bruise, and Prowten, with an injured heel, are other big linesmen who are due for light work for a while. Jack Herrick has a bad knee, and replacement quarterbacks Bill Daniels and Bill Johnston are also out. Johnston got by the Everett game in good shape, only to sprain his ankle in a gym class Monday.

As a result, Sanborn's first eleven at Brockton will line up roughly as follows: l.e., McEwen or Donavan; l.t., John Rechel; l.g., Davis or Steinsieck; c., Packard or Brad Thompson; r.g., DeNapoli; r.t., Milner; r.e., Salvucci; q.b., Woodward; l.h.b., Callanan; r.h.b., Al Thompson; f.b., Reardon. Woodward has played quarterback in other years, and will be drafted to play there in the absence of the first three ranking quarterbacks. John Mazzazo's shoulder and Bill Kinney's charleyhorse bruise will keep these coming backs out of the Brockton game, but John Joyce, Paul Forte, Al Cormier and Seth Fitchet are ready.

Sanborn gave the squad contact work Tuesday and Wednesday, trusting that there would be no more injuries, and followed with lighter workouts during the week. Defense against passing was again stressed, and a good defense against the high-scoring Shoe City raiders is anticipated. With their first team intact, Newton would be the one local team with power enough to set back Brockton, but with the team as riddled as it now seems, Newton can hardly hope for a victory. Louis Montgomery, Brockton's brown bomber of the gridiron, is said to be out of the game tomorrow with minor injuries, but his loss is trifling compared to what the Newton team has suffered.

Day Jr. High School

At the assembly on last Friday morning the secretary of the American Association of Foreign Missions, Dr. Wynn Fairfield, addressed the school. He was introduced by his son, John Fairfield, who was the chairman of the Assembly. At the close of the talk Mr. F. Tanner led the school orchestra in the "Victory Overture."

Dr. Fairfield spoke on the situation in the Orient today, pointing out parenthetically that war is a symptom, not a disease, and that in trying to prevent war, we must find out what is going on in men's minds. He traced the ideas behind the political philosophy of Japan in some detail.

On Friday the new student patrol went into action. The new members include: Grade VII, Room 10, Raymond Hunting; Room 12, Elizabeth Barrow; Room 13, Francis Leone; Room 17, Kathryn Meyer; Room 20, Robert Benes; Room 27, Alice Birmingham; Grade VIII, Room 11, Maxine Gaddis, Helena Doucette and Richard Moller; Room 14, Polly Donovan and Kenneth Cox; Room 18, Mary Benedict and Vincent Antonelles; Room 19, Berry Bonynge and Paul Hines; Room 25, Jean Duff and Daniel Cedrone; Room 28, Jane St. George and William Gallupe; Room 29, Betty Southworth and George Picirillo; Grade IX, Room 21, Thomas De Simone, Hope Wheeler and Mary Welch; Room 22, Frank Mason, Robert Halfrey and Catherine Bagley; Room 23, Jack Holter, Barbara Swan and Madeline McDuff; Room 24, William Paine, Edwin House, Viola Norcross and Marjory Miner; Room 26, John Kelley, Robert Gleason, Mary Pescosolido and Virginia Johnson; Room 30, Jules Smits, Curtis Drury, Ruth Putnam and Irene Barry.

The Aviation Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Murray, made an excursion on Wednesday, October 9, to the Squantum and Dennison Airports where first-hand information was obtained relative to the construction and flying of planes.

The entire school was invited by Jane Hickox at the October 11th assembly to join in a conducted tour of many national parks. Paul Edmonson acted as chauffeur and planned the route. The first stop was at Mt. Desert Island in Maine, where William Hill pointed out many spots of interest. From there, a long trek across the country to Yellowstone National Park, where the party was met by the guide, Larue Ford. Glacier Park, with Dorothy Walter as guide, was the next stop. Marjorie Wood conducted through Mt. Rainier National Park, following which Eugene Raphaelian guided to the edge of Crater Lake. Heading south to Yosemite National Park in California Ida Kellaway showed the points of greatest interest, geysers. Headed homeward, the itinerary included the Grand Canyon of Colorado, where the guide was Gertrude Rowell. A safe return concluded a most enjoyable and instructive journey. Others who assisted in making preparations for the excursion included Jack Lane, Dorothea Kent, George Hausman, William Thompson, Irene Batten, Marjorie Brown, Patricia Smith, Dorothy DeLong, Robert Greene, Philip Jeffrey, Bill Ellingwood and Richard Dinner.

Mr. Andrews, principal of the Perkins Institute for the Blind, spoke at the assembly on Wednesday, Oct. 16. He brought some of the boys from the Institute to tell about their training in academic subjects, handwork and music.

The display in the Exhibition Cabinet for this week features the work done at the Perkins Institute. There are samples of their leather work, weaving, basketry, and typing as well as one of their arithmetic slates, wax pad with its stylus, and sheets of writing in Braille. Mrs. Gillespie, who is in charge of the exhibit, was also loaned a copy of the Reader's Digest in Braille. Each small Reader's Digest when written in Braille requires three thick volumes and costs twenty-five dollars.

The first school entertainment of the year will be given Friday evening, October 25, at 8 p. m. The proceeds from the entertainment will be used for necessary equipment for the stage, orchestra, and other musical activities of the school.

The program will include a black-faced clog dance by Clinton Wilson, drawings of well-known characters by Virginia Weston, musical selections by the Girls' Glee Club, orchestra, and a play by the 9th grade Dramatic Club.

Warren Jr. High

School and class officers of the Warren School Community were inaugurated at a very impressive assembly last Friday. Mr. Paul C. Scarborough, Principal of the Warren Junior High School, conducted the assembly until John Hay, the new president of the school community, took his oath of office. Other school community officers installed were:

Boys' Vice President, Donald Forte; Girls' Vice President, Jane Ansley; Secretary, Lillian Railsback. Junior III Officers:—President, Ruth Lucas; Vice President, Anne Cady; Secretary, Harold Fisher; Treasurer, Walter Imrie. Junior II Officers:—President, Brooks Heath; Vice President, Edith Alexander; Secretary, Betty Holbrook; Treasurer, John Kellar.

Mr. Spears, an executive of the Boy Scouts of the Norumbega Council, appealed to the student body to cooperate with the outside patrol on every occasion. Miss Juliette Harvey, president of the Warren School Community last year, returned to give a welcoming address to the new officers.

The chief speaker of the assembly was Mr. Walter Amesbury, chairman of the Newton School Committee. He paid tribute to the seriousness of purpose he had noticed among the school officers and the evident confidence of the school in their officers. Mr. Amesbury based his talk on the quotation "Act well your part; there all the honor lies." He emphasized the fact that honor worth having must be earned by proving that one is worthy of it. "School officers can only merit honor, by acting well their part (1) by taking their office seriously, (2) by being sure they are right, then going ahead, and (3) by acting their part so well that their conduct may set an example for all." He addressed his last statement to the student body, warning them that the best officers in the world cannot succeed unless they have cooperation from those under them.

At the suggestion of Dr. Payson Smith, Commissioner of Education in Massachusetts, students are learning a new salute to the flag. At the words "I pledge allegiance" the right hand is placed over the heart and extended to the flag at the words "to the flag of the United States of America."

The following girls have been elected school color leaders in all sports: greens, Ruth Lucas; reds, Anne Cady; yellows, Jean Hamant; blues, Thelma Blackey.

The faculty of the school has presented Mrs. Gerald Swartz, formerly Miss Jean Epstein of the English department, with an hors d'oeuvre dish as a wedding gift. Mrs. Swartz was married last summer.

At a meeting of the Newton Jefferson Club held on Friday night, Oct. 11th, at the Newton Public Library, the following officers were elected for the coming year—President, James P. Akins; Vice-President, Eleanor Mulcahey; Treasurer, Katherine Grant; Secretary, James Flynn. Plans were made to run a non-partisan rally about the 1st of December and also to run a series of Beano parties in the various Wards for the purpose of creating a campaign fund for 1936. It was decided that under a reorganization no dues will be expected and a larger membership thus be obtained. The club adopted as its slogan for the coming year—"Make Newton Democratic in 1936."

HENRIETTA P. WHITNEY

Miss Henrietta P. Whitney of 33 Prince st., West Newton, died on Monday, October 14, in her 89th year. She was born in Deerfield, the daughter of James Scollay Whitney, and for over 40 years had lived in West Newton. Her life was, however, a very full and useful one for her eager and unselfish spirit drew to her many who will cherish her memory most tenderly. Her devotion to the Second Church was very great, and almost always on Communion Sundays the white roses or Easter lilies on the altar were her gift. A brave, generous and lovable woman, has lived nobly, and now, full of years and quiet content has laid down her life and entered into rest.

Miss Whitney is survived by two sisters—Mrs. Henry F. Dimmock of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Charles Tracy Barney of New York. She was a sister of the late William C. Whitney of New York, Secretary of the Navy under President Cleveland; and of the late Henry M. Whitney of Boston.

Pageant Of Brides At Newton Highlands

On the night of October 10th, the Parish house of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church was crowded at the "Pageant of Brides." On the stage was an improvised altar, with pulpit, ferns, candles, etc., all that was lacking, was the minister in his flowing robes.

At the appointed time, the brides' attendants, the Misses Alice and Mary Parker, of Newton Highlands, who were charming in their gowns of pink and blue, unrolled the white silk on which the brides were to walk, and then to the strains of music of that era, the first bride came down the aisle, wearing a gown which had originally been worn in the year 1811.

Down the years they came, from 1811, until the present year of 1935. Many of the gowns of the earlier years were worn by direct descendants of the bride; a few of the gowns of the later years were worn by the brides themselves.

Even the men had a chance to see how they might have looked in earlier years, as there were two wedding suits displayed, one of the year 1883, and the other of 1911.

Altogether there were modeled thirty-seven gowns and suits. At the conclusion of the pageant, the participants received in another room, giving the guests a chance to examine the gowns at close range which clearly showed that young ladies of the earlier days, when preparing for their marriage, were satisfied with only the best of materials, and the finest of needlework for their wedding gown.

All of the gowns displayed were in a remarkable state of preservation. The Pageant was given under the direction of Mrs. Donald D. McKay, assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Allingham, who collected the gowns.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Attention of Presidents

The Editor of this department of THE GRAPHIC asks that every Club in the Newton Federation be represented at the Press Round-Table at the Fall Meeting at Waban, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, the 21st. If the Press chairman can not attend, the Club president is asked to see that some one is sent to her place to take notes on important instructions. Due to certain changes, this information is imperative; also due to confusion caused by instructions issued by Boston Club Editors that DO NOT APPLY, either in subject matter or Form, to this paper.

The Editor, although Monday is her busiest editorial day, is giving her time for this assistance to Club Press representatives. Clubs who do not send someone to take notes may find their notices do not appear, because they do not conform to instructions. She asks co-operation in this worthwhile work of publicity for the activities of the Newton clubs.

Fall Meeting Offers Valuable Program

The fall Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Monday, October 21st, at the Union Church, Waban.

Round-Table Conferences will open at 10 a. m.

The Art committee, Mrs. Edward D. Wallace, chairman, will have as speakers, Mrs. Ernest Weaver, of Newton Highlands, on "Christian Art and the Creche"; Mrs. Herbert Stetson, of Newton Centre, "on "Making a Creche"; and Bertha Ashley Searle, on "Russion Icons".

Mrs. J. Porter Russell, chairman of International Relations, will conduct a "Conversation Piece," with guest speakers, Mrs. W. O. Little, chairman of International Relations of the Massachusetts State Federation; and Miss Irene Armstrong, executive secretary of the Boston Branch of the League of Nations Association.

"Bits of Local and General Motion Picture Work," with five-minute speakers, will be in charge of Mrs. Ernest Cobb, chairman of the Motion Picture committee.

The Educational committee, Mrs. Raymond A. Green, chairman, will have as guest speakers, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, chairman of Education in the State Federation; and Mr. Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of Newton Schools, who will discuss "What Newton Clubwomen Can Do to Help the Educational Program in Newton."

Dr. Harold Chope, formerly of California, and recently appointed public health officer for the City of Newton, will conduct the discussion at the Public Health Round-Table, of which committee Mrs. Arthur H. Shannon is chairman.

The Press and Publicity representatives of every Club in the Federation should be present at the Round-Table conducted by that committee, of which Mrs. George R. Loud is chairman. Miss Emma D. Coolidge, editor of the Women's Clubs Department of the NEWTON GRAPHIC will give detailed instructions on the desirable press item for that paper, with correct form, incorporating some changes this year.

At 12 o'clock, in the Church Auditorium, ten-minute talks will be given by Mr. Harold F. Young, ERA administrator and executive secretary of the Mayor's Relief Committee; Miss Harriet Parsons, executive secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, and Mr. James Reynolds, of the department of Public Welfare, City of Newton.

The luncheon at 12:30 p. m. will be in charge of Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, chairman of the Social committee. Luncheon tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Miller or from any member of her committee up to Thursday, October 17th. Luncheon speakers will be State Commissioner Samuel A. York on "Conservation and the CCC in Massachusetts"; and Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, chairman of the division of Correction in the State Federation, on "Prevention Work for Newton."

Welcome will be extended by Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president, and business at 2 p. m., followed by music, consisting of Miss Louise L. Came, of Waban, Harpist, and Mrs. Charles B. Jones, Organist; and an address by Miss Helen Cleaves, on "Creative Art as a Means of Education," will make up the afternoon session.

A very instructive and entertaining program has been arranged by Mrs. Fred G. Sandford and the Federation hopes a large number of club women will attend the meeting.

Community Club Announces Plans

"Hunting Big Game with a Fountain Pen" is the clever title of a talk to be given by Rev. Cornelius Greenway at the meeting of the Newton Community Club, on Thursday, October 24th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Underwood School Hall. Mr. Greenway, minister of Brooklyn, N. Y., has made a hobby for many years of collecting autographs of famous people. One of his recent acquirements is an autograph of King George of England, which was obtained after many years of effort. In his collection are autographed photographs of Einstein, and autographs of all of ex-President Hoover's Cabinet, of ex-President Coolidge, and of General Gaifi Nagaoki. His experiences are said to be told in a humorous, as well as interesting manner, and one hundred and fifty slides of his trophies will be shown.

The chairman of the Program committee, presenting this speaker, is Mrs. George E. Rawson. Refreshments will be served.

Committee plans that were announced at the meeting of the Club on October 10th, for the coming year, included a notice given by Mrs. Royal C. Warring, chairman of the Literature committee, asking all members who intend to join the Book Club to do so promptly. The dues are $2, and a very satisfactory selection of books is promised.

Mrs. Edgar G. Lehmann, chairman of the Art committee, stated that plans are underway for Classes in Pottery, and in Arts and Crafts. If enough interest is shown, the Museum lectures, such as have been in vogue for several years, will be continued again this year.

Mrs. David Black, General chairman of the Community Service committee, and her committee are sponsoring a Bridge Party to be given at "The Hollis," 47 Hollis street, on Thursday, October 31st, at 2 p. m. The admission is 50 cents, and the proceeds will be used to purchase yarn, which will be made into socks and afghans for the Veterans, by members of the Club.

Mrs. LeRoy P. Guion, chairman of the International Relations committee, announced the first meeting of the International Study Class, which will be held at her home, 159 Oakleigh road, on Monday, October 28th, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Harold L. Higgins, a member of the Club who has recently returned from Russia, will talk on "Russia Today."

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge announced a Rummage Sale, the date to be announced later.

Attractive Program For American Home Day

The American Home committee, co-operating with the Garden and Antique committees of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will hold an All-Day meeting at the Club House on Friday, October 25th, from 10:15 a. m. until 3 p. m. The American Home committee will present, at 10:15 o'clock, Miss Maria Wells, Home Demonstrative agent of the Middlesex County Extension Service, who will give a talk on "Household Management." At 11 a. m., a lecture will be given by Miss Marcia Lou Hosford, presented by Macey-Morris Company. This lecture outlines how to build the decoration of the home around the personal individuality of the home-owner and of her family.

At 12:15 p. m., a luncheon will be served, tickets for which, at 50 cents, may be procured from Mrs. T. Broun Powers (Tel. Centre Newton 1248-J), not later than October 22nd.

At 1:15 p. m., a Caribbean Cruise to "Banana Land," with the assistance of colored lantern slides, will be presented by the Educational department of the United Fruit Company.

The Antique committee will present, at 2 p. m., H. Bradford Clark, of Brewster, Cape Cod, who is a collector of American Antiques. He will bring a chest of old-time treasure, such as specimens of pewter, porcelains, prints, fabrics, and glassware. Each will be displayed separately, and their origin, process of making, age, use, and general information, in regard to them, will be explained.

The Antique committee will be in charge, also, of an Exhibit of Old Pewter and Glassware. Club members are requested to bring specimens of such antiques for the Exhibit, of which Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher (Tel. Centre Newton 4855), will be in charge.

The Garden committee will feature competitive table-setting, with flower decorations, including breakfast, lunch, dinner, tea, and buffet service. Each unit will be a card table set for four. Any Club member wishing to compete should consult Mrs. Charles Nevin (Tel. Centre Newton 4578), or Mrs. Willis G. Parmellee (Tel. Centre Newton 3126-M), before October 21st. A prize will be given for each class in the competition.

Club members will be admitted to these attractive sessions on presentation of their membership cards, and guests for a fee of 25 cents.

The reading of a poem entitled "The Shah Hassan's Secret Garden," by Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, was illustrated by pantomime, with musical accompaniment, there being three episodes: 1. Welcoming the Bride. Evening in a Persian Garden. 2. Harvest of the Roses. Dawn of the following day. 3. Presenting the Family Jewels to the Bride. The Flask of Attar of Roses.

Shah Hassan, Mrs. Percival Waters; Zuleika, his Bride, Miss Dorothy Brackett; Gardener, Mrs. James Messenger; Perfumer, Mrs. Harry S. Wells; Slaves, Mrs. H. William Birgfeld and Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones; Rose Gatherers, Mrs. George Stone, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, Mrs. Chauncy A. Stimets, Mrs. Herman R. Place, Mrs. Carl Thomas, and Miss Ruth Filene; Spirit of the Rose, Miss Jeannie Stinson.

The very realistic make-up was due to Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard and Miss Ruth Filene.

Mrs. Louis A. Myers and her committee made the hall garden-like by the use of pine trees and colorful autumn leaves.

Tea was served in the candle-lighted parlors by Mrs. Louis W. Bruemmer, Mrs. June Chipman, and Mrs. Harry C. Brock. Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald and Mrs. John S. Morgan presided at the tea table.

Mrs. John R. McLean was in charge of the attractive display of Potted Plants, Winter bouquets, and Miniature Gardens placed about the Hall. Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation, and Mrs. Albert Hutchinson presented, in an interesting dialogue, information as to the work, needs, and advantages of the Newton Community Chest.

Mrs. Ernest F. Drew opened her home for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, the 15th. Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, in a paper on "Elections" in the City of Newton, stressed the duty of every citizen to vote, and she explained clearly the preferential ballot. Mrs. Drew gave in detail the duties of the Aldermen. Mrs. Frank F. Davidson in describing the "Newton School System," traced an interesting story of the growth from the first little school house, 16 by 14 feet, built in 1699, to the present-day with its fine equipment and excellent training which make the Newton schools rank high.

Those in the receiving line for the Annual Reception of the Newtonville Woman's Club held at the Club House on Tuesday afternoon were the new president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson; the guest of honor, Mrs. John F. Capron, director of the Twelfth District, and Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation; and three vice-presidents, Mrs. Charles J. Women's Club Activities

West Newton Club Plans Entertaining Events

On October 25th, the program for the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be a lecture by Mr. A. H. Wilson, whose subject will be "Hoop Skirts and Horse Car Days." Mr. Wilson gives a most too serious view of American Life in "the good old days," illustrated by colored slides of Godey Prints.

The Club is forming Classes in Contract Bridge, which will be held every two weeks, beginning Friday, October 18th, at 8 p. m., at the home of the Club president, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, 45 Islington road, Auburndale. Mr. Earnest A. Dockstader and Mr. Edward Bender, who are partners in a Bridge Tournament at the Boston City Club, are to be the instructors. There are to be six lessons, at 50 cents each per person. The Classes are open not only to Club members, but to their friends.

The Garden Club meeting scheduled for Monday, October 21st, has been CANCELED, due to the all-day meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Club on that date.

A request has been made for members to read to the blind students at Perkins Institute, in Watertown. All those willing to contribute their services should get in touch with Mrs. Putnam, the superintendent.

Mrs. June Chipman, chairman of Public Welfare, announced at the recent Club meeting that Club members were invited to join a group that would attend meetings at the Newton Hospital to sew in the interest of this department, meetings to be held at the Hospital on the second Tuesday of each month at 10:30 a. m., beginning in November. Members are asked to bring their own box luncheons, and coffee will be served by the Hospital.

Holyoke Club Hostess To State Federation

Clubwomen from every club in Massachusetts will take the opportunity of motoring into western Massachusetts, during the height of brilliant foliage, to attend the Fall Meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held in Holyoke on Wednesday, October 23rd. The Holyoke Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Walter E. Thompson is president, is hostess for the gathering, and there has been arranged for clubwomen who arrive in Holyoke on Tuesday, the 22nd, a delightful automobile tour, starting at 3 o'clock, to visit the Massachusetts State College at Amherst, Smith College, and Mount Holyoke College.

Headquarters have been secured at the Hotel Nonotuck, which is near the Victory Theatre, which the Hostess Club has engaged for the meeting.

The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock, with a greeting from the Mayor of the city, and from Mrs. Joseph P. Brown, the director of the Fourteenth District. Miss Marie Driscoll, of the Federal Housing Commission, and Mr. Clifford Fadiman, commentator and book critic for the "New Yorker," will speak at this session.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock, and continue until 4:30. The guest speakers have been assigned to this session, including Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and now dean of Stoneleigh College, at Rye, N. H.; Dr. Mary E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke College; and S. Miles Bouton, who has come recently to this country from Germany. The General Federation will be represented by Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, director.

Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, president, will preside; and other State Federation officers who will attend are Mrs. David A. Westcott, third vice-president and editor of Federation Topics; and Mrs. Herbert F. French, fourth vice-president and adviser to the Junior Membership chairman, Miss Ruth Lothrop.

Any one desiring to attend the meeting who is not a member of a Federated Club may do so by paying the registration fee of 50 cents for the entire day, which is charged to all persons attending. The Registration and Credential committee will be at the Victory Theatre from 8:30 a. m. until the close of the meeting.

Organizing Classes At Stearns School Centre

Clubs and classes are being organized at the Stearns School Centre, a member agency of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., and the winter's work is getting well under way. Girls have registered for cooking, dressmaking, sewing, dramatics, etc. A new club has been started for Junior High School Girls called a "Hostess Club." In this the members will learn how to invite each other to parties, to each other's homes, how to greet a visitor, how to entertain and serve.

The Live Wire Girls, a club of High School pupils, has planned a party for Hallowe'en at which time they are planning to scavenger hunt, games and refreshments in order to entertain their young men friends.

The Mothers' Club, meeting every other Monday evening, has outlined an interesting program, including a Harvest Supper, a Bridge party, a musical evening, a lecture, which will carry them through the month of January. On October 21st, they have invited the members of the Wenecocemo Club of the West Newton Community Centre to be their guests at an Aunt Jemima Party.

These many activities are due to volunteer work. Some of the leaders are Miss Evans of the Emerson School of Oratory, The Misses Wood, Wetherbee and Esson from the Garland School, Mrs. Max Colligan, Miss Filomina Schipani, Mrs. Florence Pillion.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., will meet at the home of Miss Madeline Foster, 1058 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, Tuesday, October 22nd at 2:15 o'clock.

The Summer in Review will be given by two minute responses to Roll Call by members.

Interior Decorating Is a New Interest

Many ladies have become keenly interested in gaining authentic knowledge of just how to make their homes more attractive because it adds to their happiness and that of their family and friends.

J. Murray Quinby, founder of the Boston Professional School of Interior Decorating and the International School of Interior Decorating, is giving a series of lectures on Period Decorating at 26 Arlington rd., Wellesley Hills, Mass., where those interested will learn how it is possible to remodel and redecorate an old house or to build the house they have dreamed of owning at comparatively small expense. They will see the atmosphere created by using the correct combination of wall papers, rugs, draperies and furniture true to type.

Mr. Quinby invites those interested to a Free Lecture on Monday, Oct. 21, at 10:30 a. m., where detailed information of this sort will be available for use in the home or as a paying profession through the years to come.

Illustrated Booklet is given those attending lecture. For further information telephone Wellesley 0372-W.

Personalities

from 1906 to 1910; Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, president from 1912 to 1915; and Mrs. Willard S. Higgins, president from 1915 to 1917.

Several members who have belonged to the Club for many years were present, notably Mrs. Robert C. Bridgham, a charter member in 1884.

The Social committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. James D. Elliott, served refreshments.

Members of the Executive Board ushered, directed by Mrs. George I. Whitehead.

During the Reception, Anna Kovitz, Violin; Dorothy Kovitz, Piano; and Norman Olson, 'cello, of the All-Newton Music School, played pleasing selections.

The Art chairman, Mrs. Frederick W. Ried, was assisted in the Gallery by members of her committee, and in response to many requests, Mrs. Reid arranged to have the Gallery open to visitors through the evening.

An added pleasure was the presence of some of the artists. Those exhibiting were: Hoyland Bettinger, landscapes in oil; Rosamond Coolidge, portrait and oils; Duna Asburg, portraits in oil and water-color sketches; Judith Andress, portraits in oil; Fred H. Daniels, landscapes; Mrs. Henry Chadwick, landscapes, among them a painting in oils of Newton City Hall, being most strikingly arranged against a beautiful striped red hanging, with gorgeous branches of autumn foliage below; Mrs. Clifford Steacie, oils and miniatures; Donald Robb, water-colors; Charles J. A. Wilson, etchings; Bertha T. Ried, landscapes in oil as well as an unusual picture entitled "The Dolls' Tea Party"; Mrs. Ralph G. Hudson, oils and flowers; Kay Peterson, water-colors of the Gaspe country; Margaret Wilkins Davis, portrait; Charles Connick, two richly-colored medallions in Sandwich glass; Phyllis Wild, commercial art drawings and paintings; and Charles N. Sladen, drawings and wood-carvings.

The committee in charge of the Gallery, following the color scheme of its stencilled decorations, used a profusion of deep-colored oak leaves, which, relieved by the Fall flowers, made an ideal setting for the lovely handiwork which they were privileged to display.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The resident students of Bragdon Hall were at home in their rooms yesterday afternoon to students of the other college houses and to members of the Faculty.

Last evening a group of students attended Admiral Richard E. Byrd's lecture in Symphony Hall.

Trithena McFarland of Martin City, Missouri has been appointed chairman of the Junior Class until elections in December.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised.

But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.

Few Attend Ward Hearings

equalize the Wards as the city is now lopsided, with Wards 2, 5 and 6 being out of proportion in population and size. He explained that the assessors hope to have all houses in the city plotted on plans, and they want the Ward lines changed so that they can be stable for many years, before the assessors plot plans are made. He said he is not interested in any political aspect, but wants the Ward lines well defined. Mr. Murphy said there will always be hard feeling, no matter what changes are made, but some Board must have courage to take the step. He thought the Colby plan good.

Adam Haug, speaking for the Newtonville Improvement Association said this organization had passed a resolution protesting against any definite action being taken on the matter of changing Ward lines in view of the short notice given and the need of more time to allow citizens to study the situation. He was assured by Alderman Gordon that no action will be taken by the aldermen for some weeks. Alderman Colby read statistics to show the size of the average city Ward in Massachusetts cities and the number of Wards each city has. Harry Bryant, a member of the School Committee from Ward 2 said the committee has had no serious discussion on the proposed change of Ward lines. He favored a seven Ward plan.

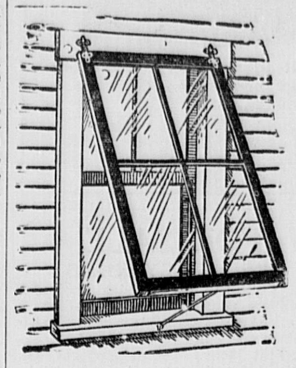

Alderman Rawson of Ward 7, speaking as a citizen, said that while the Colby plan is good from a seven Ward basis, there is nothing sacred in seven Wards, and such a number was set up in Newton when the city was much smaller in population. He said the rapid increase has been and will be in the South side, and additional Wards should be created to care for it. He said that by creating two new Wards, present village divisions by Wards need not be disturbed. Mr. Rawson said he sympathizes with both Ward 1 and Ward 7 citizens who wish to preserve their Wards and he called attention to the fact that seems to be no popular demand to disturb the present Ward lines. He called attention to the fact that two-thirds of our Aldermen are elected at large, and so represent all the city.

Alderman Cronin asked Mr. Rawson if he does not think the time has come to abolish the village idea in Newton and have people regard the city as a whole? Mr. Rawson said he thought Waban people can well answer Cronin's question. He commented that Newton has got along well for many years under the village plan.

On Wednesday night several residents of Ward 3 appeared to protest against shifting part of that Ward to Ward 4. Ex-Alderman Bernard Farrell of West Newton said the proposed change would rob West Newton of a Democratic alderman in the Board. He asserted that West Newton people will not stand for the changes. West Newton women who protested against being placed in Ward 4 included Mary Gannon of River st., the Misses McCarthy of 20 Auburndale ave., and the Misses Troy of River st. Alderman Guzzi concurred with Farrell's views.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter of the D. A. R. was held on Monday afternoon, Oct. 14. The newly elected regent, Mrs. J. Walter Allen, presided. Reports were given of the Fall conference at the "Peace Party House" in Pittsfield, which was attended by six members of the Chapter. Notice was given of the annual card party to be held Oct. 23, Mrs. W. E. Holden, chairman. The Bachrach book of photographs of Chapter members has been completed and was shown in the Regents' Room. The painting of the house was discussed and it was decided that cream white with green blinds should be used. The fund for this purpose will be aided by the "paint boxes" distributed to the members in which dates of patriotic holidays will be commemorated.

A letter was read from the Mayor's Relief Committee, asking for furniture, including beds and stoves. Also men's shoes are much needed and can be repaired by skilful workmen. Mrs. Edward O. Woodward read an article on Constitution Day. Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond gave an inspiring talk on "Literature and Life." Quoting from Arnold Bennet, she said, "Literature is first and last the directing force in learning how to live." Human nature is unchanging and we turn to ancient writers because of their understanding of life. The scene shifts but men and women are the same today as in the time of the writers of antiquity.

Tea was served, Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown, chairman of hostesses. Mrs. H. H. Haskell and Mrs. Richard Cunningham presided at the table.

Ford V-8 Streamlining Steps Ahead

THE IMPROVED streamlining of the front end of the Ford V-8 for 1936 is well illustrated by this camera shot. Note the horn set into the fender apron behind a chromium grille and the way the graceful contour of the fender is carried to the edge of the new radiator grille. A glimpse of the new hood louvres is caught behind the headlamp. The V-8 insignia on the prow of the car is of new design.

Long Recess At Meeting of Aldermen

Many Appropriations Rushed Through

The constantly growing tendency of Newton Boards of Aldermen in recent years to interpose committee meetings at regular meetings of the Board was again evidenced on Monday night when a recess was taken at 8:35 (after the Board meeting had been in session for a half hour) and the open session was not resumed until 11:15. The rules of the Board of Aldermen specify that no committee shall sit later than 6 o'clock on the afternoon of any day on which the Board meets, unless previously authorized by said Board or by the president. This rule has been a dead letter for some years, and the recess committee meetings of the present Board are growing longer. At the meeting Monday night the members of the press, who had sat patiently for nearly three hours while the ap-

War Veterans Plan Rally For Needham

Plans for a mammoth rally of War Veterans in support of Major General Daniel Needham, candidate for Mayor of Newton, who is at present commanding officer of the Massachusetts National Guard, were made last night at a meeting of ex-doughboys in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton.

Harold D. Ames of Newtonville, past commander of the Newton Post 48, American Legion, presided and outlined the plans. Various groups were sub-divided into ward units for the purpose of localizing their activities in wards and precincts. Among the speakers were the candidate, Daniel Needham, William F. Garcelon, James Dempsey, secretary to Mayor Weeks and Alderman Charles B. Floyd.

The Veterans League for Needham now has a membership of over 200 and the various ward leaders were urged to increase the membership materially before the next meeting.

Refreshments were served at the social hour which followed the political meeting.

Start Active Campaign For Edwin O. Childs

The campaign for the election of Edwin O. Childs as Mayor of Newton was actively started yesterday when a statement was filed at the office of the City Clerk (in conformity with the statutes of Massachusetts), giving the names of a committee organized to work for Mr. Childs' election. Contributions are being solicited for a campaign fund.

The statement filed at the City Clerk's office reads—Under the provisions of Chapter 55 of the General Laws, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition and amendments thereto there has been organized "The Childs Volunteer Political Committee" for the purpose of endeavoring to bring about the nomination and election of able, earnest, conscientious and progressive persons to public offices of the city of Newton; to promote good government in the city by the reduction of the cost thereof, the reduction of taxes and the expenditure of city revenues on necessary maintenance instead of unnecessary, extravagant improvements; to restore the highways of the city to their former condition and to promote the election of Edwin O. Childs for mayor as a step in the accomplishment of these purposes.

The members of the committee are as follows: Chairman, Herman F. Wells; Vice Chairman, William A. Sproat; Vice Chairman, Charles W. Henderson, Jr.; Secretary, Herbert M. McGill; Treasurer, Thomas W. White; Edward H. Powers, Arthur W. Blakemore, William E. Earle, W. Clarence Lodge, James DeAngelis.

Franklin Is Aldermanic Candidate

Announcement was made this week by Rev. John Shade Franklin, formerly pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton and editor of a local newspaper, that he would be a candidate for alderman-at-large from Ward 4. Last spring it was intimated that he would enter politics but reports since that time have been indefinite. Mr. Franklin states that his decision to become a candidate was the result of the urging of many friends who believe that he is fitted for the office. He is the third candidate to seek the aldermanic seat being vacated by President John H. Gordon who will retire at the end of the year. The other candidates already in the field are Ward Aldermen Dennis A. Cronin and George A. Bacon. Mr. Franklin resides on Islington rd., Auburndale.

Electric Pad Kills Boy At Waban

Francis X. Rohmer, Jr., 17, of 887 Chestnut st., Waban, was electrocuted about 3 o'clock Monday morning in his bed by an electric heating pad. The boy, who was a student at Newton High School, had slightly injured one of his knees in a scrub football game the preceding day and was using the electric pad to ease the pain. During the night the pad worked up until it was under young Rohmer's back and it is supposed that moisture from his body caused a short circuit. Members of the Rohmer household were awakened by screams from the boy and rushed to his room to find him in agony and his body rigid. He exclaimed that the pad was under his back and burning him before he became unconscious, the electric pad was at once disconnected by the boy's aunt. The boy's father telephoned police headquarters for aid and the police ambulance was sent to the house, together with a police car and a squad of officers under Serg. Cleary. Ladders 1 and 2 of the Newton Fire Department also responded and Dr. W. O. Blanchard of 465 Centre st., Newton, the family physician, also speeded to the Rohmer home. The policemen, firemen and physician worked on the boy with an inhalator until nearly 6 o'clock in a vain attempt to resusitate him.

Young Rohmer was born in Philadelphia and his mother died when he was a baby. He is survived by his father, Francis X. Rohmer of the Rohmer Wool Scouring Company, Nonantum; a brother, Edward; two sisters, Margaret Rohmer of Waban and Mrs. Caroline Druding of Philadelphia; and several uncles and aunts, including Mrs. Anne Apeler who had reared the boy since his mother's death. His funeral service was held yesterday morning at Mary Immaculate Church, Newton Upper Falls. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Childs Denies Rumor He Will Give White Job

Edwin O. Childs will not, if elected Mayor of Newton, appoint Thomas W. White to a salaried position. In the accompanying statement, Mr. Childs refutes a rumor that he intends to reward Mr. White for his support. He also outlines his plan of campaign. Mr. Childs says:—

As my campaign for Mayor of Newton progresses, I intend to answer completely all erroneous charges and inaccurate statements which are being made about my official record at house visitations and parlor gatherings now being conducted by the opposition.

I wish, at the present time, to dispose of one rumor which has been called to my attention, namely, that Thomas W. White, a member of my campaign committee, is to receive a paid position in the city if I am elected. This is unfair, both to Mr. White and to me, because there is no truth in it. When Mr. White wrote to me tendering his support, he made one reservation as follows: "Under no conditions will I accept any position in city service."

My campaign will be conducted on facts, not fiction. If the voters of Newton wish facts, surely they are entitled to them, and I shall be glad to talk with them at any time.

After November 29th (the last day for candidates to withdraw) we shall know the actual setup and who the candidates really are. Public rallies will then be held.

Mrs. Spear, when interviewed, said she was very much gratified with the enthusiasm shown and the progress already made, and was optimistic for the success of Mr. Holden's campaign.

Community Chest Campaign Making Good Progress

Various Committees Perfecting Plans

The 1935 Campaign of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., for 1936 funds for its member-agencies, fourteen in number, is making rapid strides ahead, due to the splendid co-operation of all workers engaged in it. With that also went strip tickets to the Women's Crusade, headed up by Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Campaign Vice-Director. The Crusade is scheduled for October 28 and 29 and all the women of Newton are cordially invited and urged to take part in this program to learn about the activities and program of each of the Chest's member-agencies.

STARTING OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT

With the Republican party gaining considerable hope in the forthcoming battle to regain political control of Massachusetts, from the victory in the special election in Essex County last week comes the announcements of the candidacies for state wide office from several individuals. Speaker of the House Leverett Saltonstall indicates his intention of seeking the governorship. The Haigis forces renew efforts to gain an indication of their strength. Henry Cabot Lodge, 2nd, announces he will seek to replace Senator Marcus G. Coolidge in the U. S. Senate. A trial balloon is launched by friends of Mayor Sinclair Weeks for the same position. Former Attorney-General Joseph E. Warner climbs onto the "peoples' platform" as a candidate for Governor. Former State Senator Cavanaugh reaffirms his intentions to seek party endorsement for the Republican nomination for the Senatorship against Lodge and other potential candidates. Other candidacies of prominent Republicans are rumored. With these announcements and reports of willingness to aid in bringing the old Bay State back to Republican principles it is certain that the greatest difficulty the convention will face is in selecting a slate that will meet the necessary requirements. There apparently will be no dearth of candidates. It is also quite apparent that success cannot be achieved unless the party is in harmony. And this harmony can only be achieved by the self-sacrifice of candidates in setting aside their personal ambitions for the good of Republican success. The early announcement of these candidates, however, is helping to start the campaign off on the right foot. The longer the voters have to discuss the untold possibilities that exist the easier it will be for delegates to the convention next June to decide what is best for Massachusetts Republicanism.

CURBING RECKLESS DRIVING

A possibility that the Federal government may attempt to assume control of the automotive industry in order to compel action to curb reckless driving is seen in a recent letter to the National Safety Council. Such an attempt seems to us even more futile than attempting to enforce prohibition. Automobiles today possess almost every known safety device although it cannot be denied that many developments in the industry have been towards obtaining greater speed. Once the automobile comes into the possession of an individual, however, the driving of it is in the hands of an individual. Everyone who drives is not a reckless driver by any means. Reckless driving cannot be curbed by the mere passage of laws. It can only be curbed by enforcement of existing laws and by bringing home to the driver of an automobile that he alone is responsible for the safe operation of that particular vehicle. The only possible benefit that could be obtained from Federal intercession in an attempt to curb reckless driving is through the relief of unemployment in the addition of thousands of persons to the governmental payrolls. It would require many inspectors and enforcement officers to make such an attempt anywhere near productive of results.

HALLOWE'EN

The Hallowe'en ghosts and hobgoblins will walk this week. On Thursday evening there will be many grotesque shapes and forms lurking in the shadows. The boys and girls of Newton will be out for a good time. We have but one admonition to make. Have a good time but remember there is a difference between clean, wholesome fun and destructive rowdyism. Few people with any sense of humor at all object to Hallowe'en antics unless they verge upon damage to property.

THE DEMOCRATIC FAMILY

Governor Curley announces from San Francisco that the Massachusetts Democrats are one happy family. The next day he intimates that he will appoint Republican (?) Councillor Baker to the Land Court Bench to replace a retiring Democratic member. And then it appears that the member in question does not plan to retire.

A New York banker says he would like to run a newspaper for a week. And think what an editor could do with a bank in one day.

Newtonville will soon have the first group scout building in New England. The problem of providing adequate working space for various activities connected with the scout movement has long been in the minds of local officials. In Canada and England one of the frequent requirements found in regulations is that a troop cannot be established until it has its own meeting place. In the United States some of the scout troops in the west have their own quarters but in New England the Newtonville scouts will be pioneers. For two or three years that has been a goal and now it is about to be realized. By raising funds in one way or another the Newtonville troop has been able to purchase from the city the portable school building behind the Horace Mann School. For some time Scoutmaster Bradford Gove and others have been getting the building ready for removal to a lot on the Morse estate on Central ave. near Court st. The use of this lot having been generously granted by the trustees of the Morse estate, the question of location was solved. Tomorrow afternoon the Newtonville boy scouts, Cub scouts, troopmasters, and fathers of scouts will have a big time of it. They will assemble at the Horace Mann School, take down the portable building in sections, haul it to its new location, and reassemble it. With water, heat, light and other conveniences available, the building, in its new location, will be admirably suited to its new purpose. Plans for the maintenance of the building, with a workshop and assembly hall, provide for the use of it by the Newtonville boy scouts, Cub scouts and girl scouts. It is expected that the many activities of these organizations will result in full-time use of the new facilities to be offered.

Newton motorists and those who drive through Newton are awaiting with considerable patience the completion of the relocation of Route 128. At the present time the circumferential highway, as it is commonly known, does not adequately serve the Newtons, passing through several congested points and making dangerous intersections at several other points. A few years ago Route 128 was rebuilt as far as the Worcester turnpike near Echo Bridge at the Wellesley-Upper Falls line. From that point it follows the turnpike to Centre st., thence to Walnut st. and across the centre of the city to Waltham. A plan which the State Public Works department drew up relocates this route so that it avoids the congested sections of the city. The plan also relocates much of the route to its northern terminal at Salem.

From the point where Route 128 joins the turnpike under the proposed plan it would follow the Wellesley bank of the Charles River to the point where the aqueduct now crosses. A bridge is planned at that point with the route to continue along Quinobequin rd. to Washington st. An underpass at Washington st. will do away with the possibility of a dangerous intersection here and the road would then be carried across part of the old gravel pit to Grove st., through Riverside and across the river to Waltham.

With agitation coming from the cities and towns on the northern end of Route 128 for an adequate highway as well as from towns between Waltham and Woburn the entire project is divided into several sections, each costing several millions of dollars. Which section will be the first to be undertaken is a matter of much conjecture. Meanwhile Route 128 as at present located will continue to present serious traffic problems. There is congestion at Newtonville square and at Newton Highlands square. And there are dangerous intersections where Walnut st. crosses Beacon st., Commonwealth ave., and Watertown st., in addition to the corner of Walnut and Centre sts. The congestion and dangers at intersections are particularly noticeable late Saturday afternoons when many autoists are using Route 128 on their return from college football games.

Newton men still continue to figure prominently in appointments to state positions. M. Joseph McCartin of Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, state director of the Federal labor relations office was named this week secretary of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission. The appointment is subject to confirmation of the Governor's Council and will probably be taken up at next week's meeting.

The Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church will celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary next week with a program befitting the occasion. While there are but a few who will recall the founding of the church in 1860, there are many who remember the red brick church in Newtonville square which was replaced some twelve years ago by the present stone edifice. For three-quarters of a century this house of worship has been offering spiritual guidance to the community. On Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service the pastor, Dr. Laurence W. E. Emig, will give a historical sermon, telling the interesting story of the growth of the church. On Sunday evening at seven-thirty a Seth Parker program will be presented by a group of young people from Malden. Wednesday evening the anniversary church dinner will be held with an interesting program of brief toasts, an anniversary poem, recollections of former pastors, and reminiscences of experiences in the old church building. On Sunday, Nov. 3, the observance will be concluded with an anniversary sermon by Bishop Charles W. Burns.

Letters To The Editor

NOT 100%

October 18, 1935.

Dear Sir:

I have read with great interest the astonishing news item appearing in the Newton Graphic under date of October 11, 1935, entitled "Jewish Citizens Organize To Aid Needham."

The cleverly worded text of the article obviously was intended to mislead the average into thinking that the Jewish people of Newton as a racial group are organizing to back candidate Needham, and that such group will back Mr. Needham "100 per cent."

I, as a Newton citizen of Jewish birth, and one who belongs to Jewish organizations, and one who counts among his friends and acquaintances a great many people of my race and persuasion, who live and vote in Newton, whose expression of sentiment I have heard, wish to call your attention to the fact that the article aforementioned is seriously misleading.

No one has the right or authority to speak for the Jewish people as a racial group with reference to this matter and say that they are committed to one candidate or the other any more than anyone could, with any approximation to truth, say that the Catholics or Protestants or any people of any persuasion are as a group committed to one candidate or the other. Such a statement as appears in your said article is an insult to the American conception of the right of exercise of freedom of conscience.

It seems to me impossible that the Jewish voters as well as all other voters of the City of Newton can possibly in so short a time have forgotten the sixteen years of able, clean, honest and efficient administration given to the City by one of the other candidates, and I therefore wish that you would publish this letter in order that the erroneous impression undoubtedly made by your aforementioned article be in some measure corrected.

Yours sincerely,
SIMON GRINSPOON,
39 Prairie Ave., Auburndale.

ALDERMANIC CORRECTION

October 21, 1935.

The Editor,

Dear Sir:

In your issue of October 11, page 10, the last word, viz. my name "McCabe" should be struck out, and the name of my colleague, Alderman McKay, inserted. I have no apology to make for any of my votes as a member of the board, but in the last week I have had to explain why I voted against the protest, a number of people having read this item in your paper.

It is my opinion that it is not only the function but the duty of the board to concern itself with any matter that affects the well being of our citizens.

Very sincerely,
FRANK T. McCABE.

60 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Oct. 28, 1876

The grand torchlight procession on Tuesday evening, Oct. 24th, was a complete success. At an early hour the sound of the marshalling hosts was heard, trains coming laden with battalions bearing the names of Hayes & Wheeler, Claflin and others. As is usual, there was a delay in starting the procession as some organizations did not arrive until 8:30. The procession formed on Galen street, the right resting on Nonantum Square. The invited guests were entertained by J. Watson Taylor at his residence on Walnut Park. The Chief Marshal, W. W. Carruth, also kept open house for the invited guests and reporters. The Watertown Cavalry escorted the guests to their places in the procession which started at 8:45, marching over the route announced last week to the residence of Hon. William Claflin at Newtonville. In line were 25 organizations, 8 bands, 18 drum corps and over 2500 marchers.

Nearly every house along the entire route was illuminated, many of them brilliantly. Republicans and Democrats alike filled their windows with a blaze of light from candles. Nonantum Square and Newton Corner were ablaze with light. Bonfires blazed near the home of the Chief Marshal on Eldredge street. As the parade came down Franklin street, the side of Mount Ida, with all the houses brilliantly lighted, presented a fine appearance. Messrs. Henry E. Cobb, Eugene Thayer and R. Crosby at Howard street and Newtonville avenue united in a fine display of Chinese lanterns. Mr. Angier on Waban Park had two locomotive headlights and the grounds of J. Watson Taylor, Walnut Park, were brilliant with headlights, and Chinese lanterns. J. Sturgis Potter and J. Cheney Potter, Walnut Park, had fireworks displays as the parade passed. At Newtonville the house and grounds of Governor Claflin were beautifully decorated and the governor acknowledged the salutes of the battalions as they passed on the way to the refreshment tent. At the tent preparations had been made to meet every want. Plenty was provided for all, but some went hungry because some uninvited ones were rowdy, wilfully upset some of the tables and destroyed food and crockery. It was about midnight when the exercises closed.

Newton Graphic, Oct. 24, 1885

At the grand illuminated parade of the Massachusetts Bicycle Club in the Back Bay on Thursday night 300 riders were in line. The Newton Club, Captain H. M. Sabin, 15 men, and the Nonantum Bicycle Club of Newtonville, 15 men, creditably represented the Garden City.

The remonstrance of George Eldredge and others against the petition of Thomas Wiggin to keep a stable for more than 4 horses was referred to the Licenses Committee of the Common Council on Monday night.

Thursday morning between 5 and 6 Mrs. Fannie Graves of Carleton st. heard a crashing of glass. Going to the kitchen she found an entire pane of glass broken and fluttering about the room was a large bird which proved to be a full grown partridge. The bird died Thursday night from injuries received when it broke through the glass.

Mayor Hatfield has granted a license to Jacob Levin to operate a moving picture show in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands for 1 month on condition that no person under 18 shall be allowed in the hall unless accompanied by a parent or guardian.

About $5000 damage was done to the Woodland Golf Club by a fire which occurred in the building last night. The flames completely destroyed the annex and spread to the main building, damaging it severely. The 250 lockers in which the members had their clothing and clubs were completely destroyed.

An alarm from Box 16 on Saturday night called the firemen to Church st. where a brisk blaze was in progress in the laundry wagon of Mrs. John Looker of Pearl st. The wagon and contents were badly damaged. The cause was probably a lighted lantern coming in contact with some of the contents.

From Newton Graphic, Oct. 23, 1925

The Board of Aldermen following out wishes expressed by certain members at the last meeting that steps be taken to shorten sessions of the Board, held a short session on Monday night. The meeting was called to order at 7:55 and adjourned at 8:45.

To raise funds to completely carry out plans for a Memorial Library at Chestnut and Davis sts., West Newton a Memorial Library week will be held beginning tomorrow and extending through the following Saturday. Tomorrow there will be a dance at the West Newton armory under the direction of a large committee of which Mrs. George S. Fuller is chairman.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

A petition has been presented to the Board of Aldermen signed by 152 residents of the district along Watertown st. and nearby streets, between Walnut st., Newtonville, and Washington st., West Newton, asking that heavy trucking be prohibited on Watertown st. between these two points. The petition states that there is a continuous procession of heavy trucks along Watertown st. all during the day and night except between 2 and 4 a. m., causing damage to houses and preventing residents along the street from obtaining proper sleep. There will be a public hearing on this matter before the Traffic Committee of the Aldermen on the night of Oct. 31.

The petitioners contend that the big trucks with their heavy loads should use Washington st. between Newtonville and West Newton. The heavy trucks which use Watertown st. are of two types—gravel trucks, which use the street during the daylight hours, and big freight trucks, which travel largely at night. Since the new Worcester turnpike was completed to Wellesley Hills there has been a big increase in truck traffic on Watertown st., especially during the night hours. A large percentage of the trucks are those making long hauls from Boston and vicinity to distant cities and they travel through Watertown and thence along Watertown st., which is the most direct route to the turnpike at Wellesley. If the petition of the Watertown st. residents will be granted by the Aldermen, then it would have to be approved by the State Department of Public Works. The heavy trucks would then either travel from Watertown st. to West Newton, via Watertown, Walnut and Washington sts., via California, Crafts and Waltham sts., or via Galen st. to Newton Corner and thence along Washington st. to West Newton. Should either of the first two routes be used by the trucks, residents along the streets affected by the change would at once start to protest. So, if Watertown st. is closed to heavy trucking, Walnut, Crafts, Waltham and California sts. will also have to be restricted against such traffic or complications will ensue.

Watertown st. residents argue that traffic restrictions have been placed on Hammond st. at Chestnut Hill, and Chestnut st. in West Newton and Waban and they are entitled to similar relief. Residents of Centre st. at Newton have also been petitioning for restriction of heavy traffic on their street. The peace and comfort of residents in various parts of Newton seem to be more and more disturbed by huge trucks travelling at high speeds over public highways at all hours of the day and night. We can't see how this nuisance, which has become prevalent in all parts of the country, as well as in Newton, can be abated until drastic action is taken to stop the use of public highways by trucks of freight car size, and by busses which travel at express train speeds. Short-sighted and easily influenced legislators in Massachusetts in recent years permitted laws to be relaxed with the result that motor vehicles of huge dimensions are allowed to travel on public streets, and police departments, both State and municipal, do not enforce traffic laws, either those pertaining to the size of vehicles, the speed at which they travel, or the proximity of trucks to each other.

In the meantime the railroad systems of this country have been ruined financially by the unfair competition of trucks and busses which use public highways. Thousands of miles of tracks have been abandoned. Hundreds of thousands of railroad freight and passenger cars are lying idle. Billions of dollars invested by individuals, banks and insurance companies in railroad securities are in jeopardy. The plight of the New Haven railroad is but a forerunner of what other big railroad systems in this country are facing. Eventually, and not in the distant future, the Federal government must take over the railroads unless long-distance traffic is put back where it belongs—on the railroads and off the highways. Experiments are now being made with trucks that can run either on highways or on railroad tracks. Why not compel trucks and busses travelling long distances, either intrastate or interstate, to travel along our railroad rights of way, now largely unused?

You read of the suspension of three guards at the Concord Reformatory because of their failure to render proper assistance a couple of weeks ago when five prisoners made an attempt to escape at that prison, and critically wounded a guard. It is alleged that these guards heard the rumpus, rushed to the rotunda where the attack on the Superintendent and other guards was being made, and then beat a hasty retreat to the basement of the prison. The Concord institution long ago ceased to be a reformatory. Gunmen and confirmed criminals are being sent there to mingle with youths who are not hardened offenders. The prison system of this State is in a sorry condition.

Boston newspapers a couple of days ago told of a Newton woman shooting a bear in the Maine woods and bringing her trophy back to Boston. When shot, the bear was with her two cubs. Nothing was said as to the fate of the cubs.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Uncontrollable Appetites

Some readers of the column have expressed concern for my health since they read of a meal devoured in the White Mountains. Doing splendidly, thank you, and still angling for bids to feeds. Find I'm not the only male with an intensive appetite. Confession has been made to me by a Newton young man of the skullduggery he employed to get his share of a Harvest supper by the Grange. Had to go out of town to do it, but declares it was worth the effort as the rural "eats" were "swell" and all that one could ask.

"How much for your ticket?" I inquired.

"I didn't pay," he shamelessly admitted. "I went in as one of the orchestra. Otherwise I could not attend as it was a private affair."

"But you had no instrument," I insisted.

"No, but made off I was a piano player and expressed great surprise when they said they had no piano. I didn't expect to find one and don't know what I would have done if there had happened to be one."

No use chiding us hearty eaters. It all shows, however, to what extremes we will go to satisfy our cravings.

Forgotten Time

Envy, but no malice or hatred, is herewith expressed of those who remember when to wind their watches. If it be going-to-bed hour or the first thing in the morning there must be regularity or the watch cannot do its best. Habit, in this instance, is a blessing. Most people have it. Yet there are those who are forgetful and in this legion I long ago enlisted. Is there no hope for us? Are there not electric watches that wind themselves and if not will some genius produce one that may be sold at a price so low as to be really laughable?

Not So Plain English

What about a system of compulsory elocution?

With all the regimentation we hear about would it not be a good idea to require correct pronunciation by everybody? Not necessarily to turn us into a nation of radio announcers, but merely to promote clearer utterance.

As an example of what might be avoided I submit a brief conversation between a young couple, which I happened to overhear in a Newton-Brighton trolley car. I give the words, not as they were intended to sound but as they were spoken.

"Playin' the races must be wunnerful," said the fair one.

"Ya, if yer hoss wins."

"Ever play the ponies?"

"Who me? Do I looket?"

"Howard I know."

"See here, kiddo," the man seemed a trifle peeved, "onie saps picks a hoss they don know nuttin' about."

The young woman was momentarily rebuked, but again ventured, "But yer read in the paypus lotsa times uv wise guys that clean up on a $2 ticket."

"One in a millyun. Doncher fall fer wuther paypus says. Look at me. I ain't nevah bet and I ain't loster nickel."

The young woman may have been impressed. From what she said I was unable to tell. Smiling pertly, she glanced in her companion's direction, muttering, "Whadda man."

Be on Your Guard

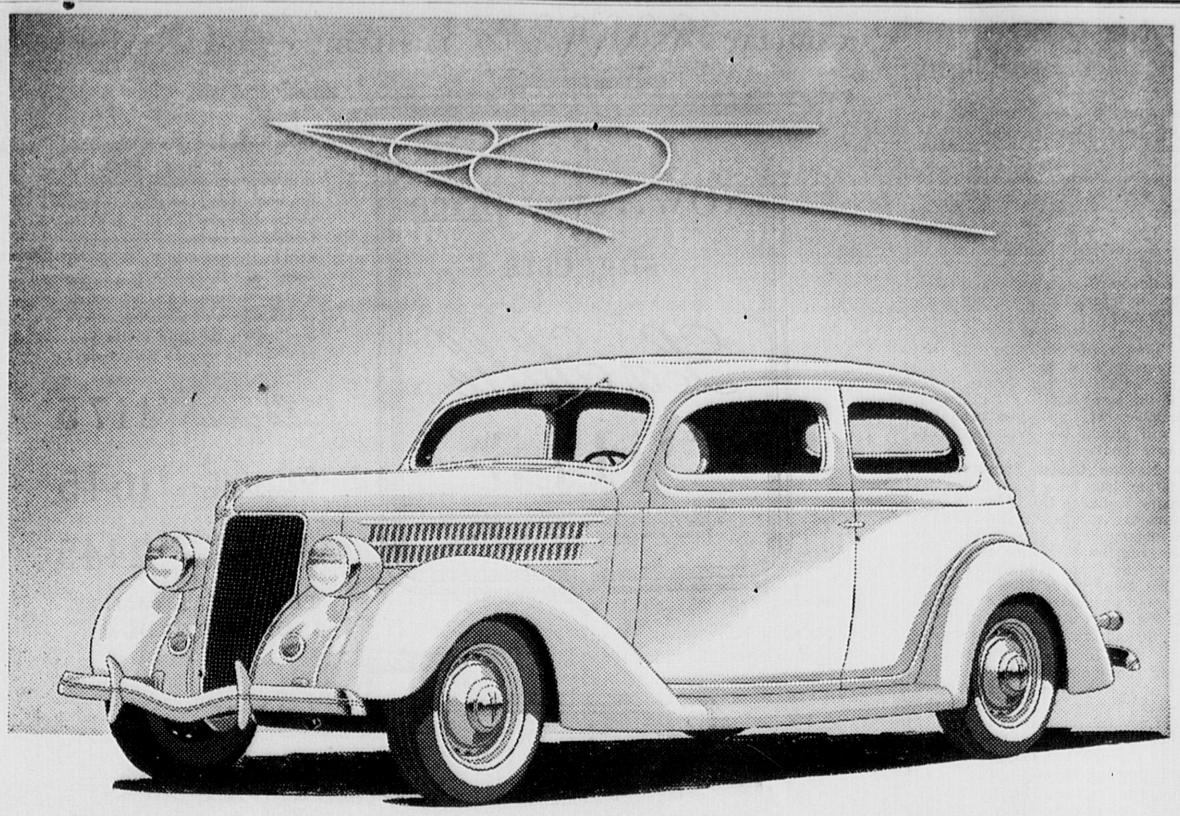

Perils of life are on the increase in Newton. Bicycle riders who ride on the sidewalk without police interference have not permitted standard time to cause them to change their methods. If it "gets dark earlier" they are not interested, but scoot along, smilingly indifferent to pedestrians. Those of us who have been dodging these "bikes" for many years have learned to hop aside. The game is one of the most interesting I know and provides, for me at least, continuous training in nimbleness of thinking and foot-work. The set-up at present is a little unfair as the shades of night impose a handicap on walkers. The rustling of leaves is our only warning. If the riders would ring a bell or shout, "Get out of the way," it would be a break for our side.

Puzzle in Chalk

A petite creature, say 12 years old, was marking with chalk on the concrete walk. Her earnestness impressed me. "Some sort of a game," I thought, although it occurred to me that spring is the time for hop-scotch if my memory's span is anywhere near intact. And then I wondered if it were not more a boy's pastime. As I approached, the young miss, not the least disturbed by my presence, finished her chalking with a flourish and trotted along.

Naturally I was eager to see what she had written. For the sake of all concerned I have deleted the family name, but otherwise offer what I found: "Walter —— is a cissy. Phoey for Walter from me."

Had I blundered upon a juvenile romance and was this a stinging thrust from Her to Him? Had the dainty one's heart chilled at Walter's failure to respond? Dear me, I counselled myself, this is no problem for staid bachelor. And yet I wonder if there was a tiff in progress or whether the "cissy" charge had any foundation in fact.

THE NEW FORD V·8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?

What is new about it?

Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car ... a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermo-syphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New style hood louvres permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Now on display by Ford dealers.

Rotarians Hear Economic Audit Of Conditions

At the Monday luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton, Herbert N. McGill, president of the McGill Commodity Service, rendered an "Economic Audit of Conditions in the United States" and while conceding the improvements that have been made in business he cautioned against a too ready acceptance of the idea that we are out of the woods as yet. He presented each member with a chart of business volume and commodity price indices from 1912 to 1935. This chart portrayed clearly the now familiar cycle characteristics of business conditions but Mr. McGill emphasized the fact that the current depression is the first major movement either side of the norm which has been very definitely characterized by minor cycles within itself. After touching the bottom of the depression in early 1933 we rose during the summer very markedly only to fall back about three-quarters of the way the following winter. Three times since have we risen and twice fallen partly back; and Mr. McGill questions whether the present rise may not be followed by another decline next winter or spring. Ultimately we shall work out but not as early as some have been hoping, perhaps.

Factors tending to continue the gains are: an improvement in the capital goods industry, which is still much under the average however; increased construction, which is nevertheless hampered by high costs of labor and supplies; improvements in retail business and in agricultural and corporate earnings; the "breathing space" in governmental activity as concerned with business; and the huge reserves in the banks that are available for expansion the minute confidence is restored.

On the other side of the ledger are facts which tend to retard recovery: 1. The full effect of the recent congressional legislation cannot be known for some months yet and the "breathing spell" was inevitable in order for the administration to learn of the constitutionality of its acts, of the efficiency of those which prove constitutional, and because the administration would appear to have covered about every phase of activity that could be considered within its province. In this connection, the Government is now doing some things that would seem very detrimental to recovery: for instance, the over-extension of credit through installment buying is commonly held to have been an important cause in the depression and yet the government is urging people to mortgage the future for repairs and construction in the present. (2) The tremendous shrinkage in the total volume of all international trade in the world has a significance—from some 80 billions five years ago to about 20 billions now; and with most of the gold centralized in two or three countries there is little to encourage international trade. Incidentally, we are one of those countries holding enormous reserves of gold and the present flood of gold from the war-terrified countries of Europe will almost inevitably produce an inflation. (3) The failure of the Administration's plans to contract expenses is an important negative factor. The theory that its expenditures would stimulate business to the point where the normal returns from taxes on business would defray the expenses, particularly as they tapered off under prosperity, is not proving sound: the expenditures are far too much out of proportion to the improvements they bring. (4) The entire foreign situation is exceedingly disturbing and prevents any great confidence in the immediate future. (5) The tendency to increased prices is a hindrance rather than a stimulant since purchasing power is not increasing proportionately.

Mr. McGill feels strongly that artificial measures will not solve the problem and that the fundamental laws of economics should be allowed a free reign to bring us through a further series of minor cycles well out of the major Depression Cycle.

Jack London Story And Annapolis Pictures Featured

"Call of the Wild," colorful filmization of Jack London's immortal story of the Yukon Gold Rush, comes to the Paramount Theatre for four days starting Sunday. A location unit headed by Clark Gable, Loretta Young and Jack Oakie faced danger and starvation in subzero Mount Baker, Washington, to film this Darryl Zanuck production.

Others in the cast are Frank Conroy, Reginald Owen and Sidney Toler. On the same program is "Little Big Shot" with Glenda Farrell, Robt. Armstrong and Edw. Everett Horton. This new picture introduces a lovely new star, Miss Sybil Jason, 40-pound bundle of joy.

Sir Guy Standing and Richard Cromwell, whose portrayals of father and son in "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" were outstanding features of that highly successful film, are united again in leading roles in Paramount's "Annapolis Farewell," the dramatic navy story which was filmed in the United States Naval Academy, opening at the Paramount Newton starting Thursday, October 31st. Tom Brown, John Howard, and Rosalind Keith, are the supporting cast. On the same program will be "Hot Tip" with James Gleason and Zasu Pitts.

Hallowe'en Costume Party At Paramount Tomorrow

A Hallowe'en Costume Party will be held at the Paramount Theatre on Saturday afternoon, October 26th, and all children who attend the theatre on that afternoon are invited to wear a unique costume. Valuable and suitable prizes will be awarded to the boys and girls selected as winners of the costume party.

Bob Mills, who conducts the Kiddie Revue on the stage of the Paramount every Saturday matinee, announces that Hallowe'en costumes can be made up at very little expense; witches, goblins, black cats, pumpkins, and other inexpensive paper costumes can be made up to look very attractive. Besides, it makes a lot of fun and everyone will have a good time.

The talent, or actors and actresses, in the Kiddie revue are all local boys and girls who are talented in either singing or dancing. Any boy or girl, between the ages of five to sixteen years, can participate in this Revue; and every Saturday the winner, who is selected by popular choice of the audience, appears on the Radio over Station WBSO. This affords an excellent and unusual opportunity for any youngster to demonstrate his or her talents on a big theatre stage. Bob Mills will have a special show together with the Costume Party.

Capable Judges will select the winners who wear the fanciest and funniest costume. All boys and girls are invited to take part in the party.

Arctic Explorer Feature of "Y" Club Night

Donald MacMillan, famous Arctic explorer, featured the Annual Club Night at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, October 16th. The occasion was the inaugural of the season's activities for the various club groups—Glee, Chess & Checkers, Hiking, Stamp, Debating, and Discussion Groups, as well as the "Y" Forum.

Following the invocation by Rev. Dr. Ray A. Eusden, Commander MacMillan spoke in the auditorium to a large and enthusiastic crowd of men, his subject being "The Truth About the Arctic."

The Glee Club of Suffolk County Council American Legion, who were guests of leader William Petre and his Y. M. C. A. Glee Club, presented a fine concert of well varied numbers, which met with prolonged applause. The famous conductrix, Countess Elektra Rosanska, and her chorus of more than forty male voices, made a decided hit with all who heard them.

The debate, which had as its subject "Resolved that there should be more Government in Business," presented Messrs. Arthur G. Sullivan and Irving W. Murray of Harvard Class of 1936 for the negative against Messrs. Lawrence J. Winston and John Finelli, who composed the "Y" team and spoke for the affirmative. The arguments and presentation of the subject were excellent and in rendering their verdict for the negative the judges commended the work don by the speakers of both sides. The judges were Messrs. Raymond Green, Ph.D., Assistant Principal of Newton High School; Rev. Newton A. Merritt Jr., of the Immanuel Baptist Church; and Mr. Eliot Church, Attorney. Mr. Aleck Zinck of the "Y" Debating Club presided at the debate.

Mr. E. Graham Bates of the Program Committee was Chairman of the large group meeting in the Auditorium, assisted by Richard H. Lee and Walter M. Taylor also of the Program Committee, and John F. Beck in charge of ushers.

A feature which drew a large group of enthusiasts and was exciting throughout, was the simuitaneous checker contest between Mr. Saul Weslow, New England champion, and twelve picked opponents. The matches were supervised by Messrs. Frank Paquin and Henry C. Pierce. A remarkable quality of play was exhibited by Mr. Weslow's opponents, as is shown by the following results. The opponents were Messrs. Gus Carlson, James Fitzgerald, James Connelly, James Desmond, Tom Noonan, James Hennessey, Harry Gray, Rev. M. F. Allbright, George Stoddard, Gordon Messinger, Francis Sheehl, and James Flynn. Mr. Desmond and Mr. Flynn won their matches, Mr. Stoddard drew his match,—Mr. Weslow winning nine out of the twelve matches.

The exhibits in the Game Room by the Hiking Club and Stamp Club drew many interested persons and the leaders, Russell Marden and W. F. Hopkins, are to be congratulated upon the excellence of the displays.

The evening was a splendid inaugural for the "Y's" club season and Mr. Ralph A. Burnham and his corps of enrollment clerks were kept busy explaining to many guests the interesting activities of the various club groups.

Dancing School Opens For Sixteenth Season

On Saturday, Oct. 26, Mr. Joseph L. Champagne begins his 16th year of dancing classes in Newton with a Hallowe'en dance at the Waban Assemblies, Neighborhood Club, Waban for 9th and 10th grade children. This season's series of dancing lessons will continue on Tuesday, Oct. 29 at the Neighborhood Club, Waban; Thursday, Oct. 31 at the Neighborhood Club, West Newton, and at the Hunnewell Club on Monday, Nov. 4, for children from 1st to 8th grades inclusive.

An elaborate and extremely interesting schedule has been planned for the coming season.

The hostesses are all leading, well-known women residents of Newton. Many classes are being formed this year to be conducted at these various clubs for the convenience of Mr. Champagne's Newton pupils. Last season there were about 800 Newton children enrolled in this popular school of dancing, and indications point to an increase in this number in the classes beginning now.

The Champagne School of Dancing is located at 454 Stuart st., Boston. It has the distinction of being one of the leading dancing schools in the East. A capable and understanding group of teachers conduct the classes in a manner that assures the attention and interest of the pupils. Many Boston and suburban society folk, and debutantes attend Mr. Champagne's classes for final touches in poise, and dancing perfection.

The school has been newly decorated and refurnished and is considered one of Boston's most beautiful schools of this kind.

Newton Centre Village Night

The joint "Village Night" of the Newton Centre Improvement Association and the Newton Centre Business Men's Association has been changed from Oct. 31 to Oct. 30, so as to cooperate with the Women's Club in the political rally arranged for that evening.

The members of the Improvement Association and the Business Men's Association are meeting together at 6:30 to sup informally with the candidates for mayor. It is hoped that this revival of the Village Night tradition, begun many years ago by the Improvement Association, may indicate the advisability of future meetings of the same sort. After supper, the members of these two organizations will attend the Women's Club rally in a body.

The Newton Centre Improvement Association has been exercising its customary vigilance this year as matters have arisen affecting the welfare of the community. Very recently it has received the assurance of the Engineer of the State Highway Department that ducts would be laid in Beacon st. before the street was repaved, in anticipation of a traffic light at the Mason School-Trust Company crossing.

During the summer it took up the matter of the evening supervision of the Newton Centre Playground, as the result of several complaints and Chief of Police Hughes agreed to have officers go through the playgrounds at intervals each evening.

Through a committee headed by Mr. Steven R. Berke, the association appeared before the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen in favor of a petition to have the so-called Ice House Property at Centre st. and Norwood ave. put into the single residence zone. Many members appeared in person at the hearing. The same committee appeared before the Board of Aldermen in opposition to the petition of Catherine Karalekas for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at the northwest corner of Centre st. and Norwood ave., and again had the support of many members.

This committee is working on the matter of having some eight pieces of property on Norwood ave. and Lake ave. changed from private residence to the single residence zone. These pieces, and the Ice House Property, are all that remain of the entire shore of Crystal Lake, not in the single residence zone.

The matter of litter on private property is a difficult problem, but one the association has had its share of success in solving. The tenants of some of the Union st. stores have been reminded by the authorities that they must clean up their yards; and the association is anxious that they be kept clean permanently.

Stearns School Centre Plans For Fall Programs

At the October Board meeting of the Stearns School Center, held on Monday, Oct. 21, at the home of Mrs. Cecil Clark, Newtonville, the Executive Secretary, Miss Helen Sandstrom, gave a resume of the summer group activities, and outlined plans for club programs for the fall and early winter. Student volunteers from the Garland School, Emerson College, Wellesley College, and Leslie School are conducting classes in cooking, sewing, and dressmaking, and under the supervision of three group leaders, opportunities are given the girls and women in these classes to learn household arts.

The Directors pledged their support and interest in the approaching Community Chest drive, and showed much enthusiasm about the Women's Crusade on Oct. 28 and 29. On these afternoons the Stearns School Center will be one of the character-building agencies to greet the women who participate in the Crusade, and to show to them several groups participating in sewing and cooking instruction.

The President, Mrs. Cecil Clark, appointed working committees and their chairmen as follows: Miss Eugenie Bradshaw, Chairman of the Finance Committee; Mrs. Kenelm Winslow, Chairman of the Publicity Committee; Miss Marguerite Fuller, Chairman of the Club Program Committee, and Miss Grace Weston, Chairman of the Nominating Committee. Mrs. Walter W. Jamison and Miss Ann Rae were welcomed as new members of the Board of Directors and will serve on the Club Program Committee. Both Mrs. Jamison and Miss Rae volunteered as dramatic coaches last year, and were very helpful and generous in their services.

Dramatic Club To Open Season With Cabaret Dance

The Newton Dramatic Club's season opens with a Cabaret Dance at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Tuesday evening, October 29th. An unusually lively and original floor show is planned and a popular dance orchestra will furnish music for the dancing. In charge of the evening is Mr. Stanbrough Fernald. Assisting him are Mr. Bertram Moore, Mr. Vincent deP. Guibeau, and Mr. S. Von Loesecke. In charge of the various committees are Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Trube, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Melville Liming. Original numbers have been written by Mr. Stanley P. Lovell.

The entertainment will take the form of an Amateur Radio night such as Fred Allen offers on the air. Exceptional talent has been secured and the show promises to be an evening of delight. The first play of the season, "The Curtain Rises," will be on November 26th.

Children's Operatic Club Starts Fourth Year

The "Radio Robins," the Newton Centre organization of youngsters who have to their credit four splendid performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore," in addition to numerous lesser operettas and concerts, have just opened their fourth season, under the expert guidance of Mrs. Florence Wood Russell, and announce ambitious plans for the coming winter and spring. These children range from five to eleven years of age boys and girls from the public schools of the village, and the group comprises some extremely talented little members. The first rehearsal was held last Saturday morning in the Newton Centre playground house on Tyler ter., and a large number, together with many interested mothers, was present, among them several from Newton Highlands. The program for this season calls for an early performance of Charles Repper's wholly delightful fantasy "Penny Buns and Roses," and the famous "Mikado" in the early spring.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Twenty-three churches are represented in the enrollment of the Norumbega District Community Training School at Newtonville, showing the widespread interest and co-operation in this leadership training enterprise. Of this number, 13 are Newton churches, 6 Waltham, 3 Watertown and 1 Belmont.

Rev. Boynton Merrill gave the talk in Assembly on the first evening of the school, his topic being "The Teaching Church is a Worshipping Church." It is necessary that every church and church school should constantly strive for the real spirit of worship in the lives of the people and the church school members, for this is the power that lifts life. Worship is far more than a formal service of worship, so-called; it is a spiritual "commerce of the soul" with its Maker. Worship makes you feel as big as you really are and leads to heights of spiritual achievement.

Rev. Ben Roberts of Newton Highlands gave the Assembly talk on the second evening of the school, on the subject, "The teaching church leads its young people." He emphasized the need for teaching to our young people the vital things for which the church stands—its ideals and convictions. These are of real lasting value to the individual and to the on-going of life of the church; the activities and good times and other methods of attracting the interests of young people are of secondary importance, yet we are often inclined to let them take the major portion of our time and energy.

Speakers At Damon Hall Junior College

On Monday, Oct. 21st, the student body and faculty members of Damon Hall Junior College were addressed by Burton Davis, well-known lecturer and executive secretary of the N. E. Ice Dealers Ass'n. Mr. Davis spoke on "Protecting the Nation's Health." Following the address Mr. Davis was presented to the students by Dean Willard F. Richards.

This morning at the assembly of the students the speakers were Freeman O. Emerson, treasurer, and Oliver C. Elliot, superintendent of the Boston Industrial Home. The history of the Home and the work accomplished for homeless men and women was stressed by Mr. Emerson. Mr. Elliot, a product of the institution, told the story of his life and what the Home meant to him 44 years ago. Dr. Frank H. Damon, president of the school, introduced the speakers.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Harriet Eagles, Boylston st., Newton Centre. After the routine of business, Mrs. Sarah Stevens of Newton Upper Falls gave a talk on Citizenship. Three new members joined the Union. A social hour with refreshments, closed a very interesting evening. Mrs. Belle Merriam was assisting hostess.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Sophomore Class has elected the following officers: President, Yvette Harrington, Sudbury, Mass.; Vice-President, Leona Siff, Akron, Ohio, and Secretary-Treasurer, Georgianna Hankins, Belleville, N. J.

The assembly speakers for the week were Mr. Lyscom Bruce on "Mexico," Dr. F. A. Lombard on "Woman's Place in the Oriental Family," and Dr. B. J. Mathews of Oxford, England.

SIR MALCOLM DROVE 1936 HUDSON

The real reason for Sir Malcolm Campbell's visit to Detroit recently can now be told. While Sir Malcolm was here recently, a number of hints and rumors as to the purpose of his visit were advanced. Some said he was investigating the possibilities of entering a boat in the Harmsworth Trophy Race next year; others had him seeking a possible business connection abroad with certain car manufacturers in this country. The real reason was the fulfillment of a promise.

When Sir Malcolm Campbell drove a Hudson stock sedan for a series of new records at Daytona Beach last February and when he watched its performance at Bonneville Salt Flats this spring, he expressed a desire to see the 1936 models as soon as they came out, if he happened to be in this country.

As a result of the promise made to Sir Malcolm at that time, he was allowed to drive one of the fleet of 1936 experimental models. In fact it was turned over to him with instructions to "go to it" which he did in a very thorough and workmanlike manner, putting it through tests just as rigid as any of those given by the average factory test driver. Stepping into the car and feeling it out for a few moments, he speeded it in excess of 70 miles-per-hour in second gear over the test course. Leaving the smooth surface highway, he took to the by-roads to test the spring suspension. Following which, he proceeded to make a series of up and down shifts, using the Electric Hand.

He gave a grunt of satisfaction as he shifted from high down to second gear at 50 miles-per-hour, and the shift was made without a quiver. Back on the hard highway, he speeded the car to its maximum, taking turns which made the other occupants of the car realize that Sir Malcolm spoke the truth when he stated that, "speed holds no terrors for me". He put the brakes through an extraordinary test, making a series of quick stops down from 70 miles-an-hour he was particularly struck by the absence of swerve of the car when braking down from high speed. It was then that he expressed his admiration for American automotive engineering and gave vent to the statement that "in automobile design, American engineers lead and the world copies."

As this was the first time that the 1936 model had been driven by anyone outside of the Hudson engineering organization, and the first time any outside engineer had been allowed to put it through a test, his report on the car to Hudson engineers was received with tremendous interest.

Held For Trial On C. Hill Burglary

George C. Allen, 29, formerly of Brookline, was tried in the Newton court last Friday on charges of attempted burglaries at Chestnut Hill. Patrolman Carley testified he had apprehended Allen outside the home of Samuel Eliot, 70 Suffolk rd., and that Allen had in his possession a screw driver and a map of the district. The defendant, acting as his own attorney, ridiculed the testimony of Patrolman McCormick who had identified Allen as the man he saw leaving the home of Thomas Woods, 15 Lee rd., Chestnut Hill, on Oct. 8th. Allen stated that McCormick did not see him face to face, and that the man seen was 200 feet distant and walking in the opposite direction. He asserted he was not the man. Judge Bacon held Allen for the Grand Jury and placed the bail at $2000.

GREAT BROCKTON TEAM DEFEATS NEWTON 14-0

Brockton's great football team defeated Newton High, 14-0, at Eldon Keith field in Brockton last Saturday. Brockton halfbacks made both touchdowns in the second period, Coz on a short forward pass and Pileski on a characteristic Brockton surprise play which caught the Newton line napping.

Newton showed a strong defense, but could not gain at any time enough to place the Shoe City eleven at a disadvantage. Marion Roberts, coach of the Brockton team, declared after the game that the Newton line was the best his high-scoring machine had faced all season.

Milner, Donavan's Newton's Best

Howard Milner, 198-lb. tackle and acting captain when Ernie Savignano was off the field, turned in one of the best games of his football career to continue the steady improvement he has been showing all season. He took his turn in the Newton backfield, and has proved himself the best passer on the first team outside of Captain Savignano. Savvy got into the game at times in the second, third, and fourth periods, but was unable to put much sting in the Newton attack, as several of his passes were intercepted by the Brockton backs.

Jim McEwen left the game early with a twisted ankle, and Pete Donavan filled in very effectively, stopping the Brockton attack pretty consistently at his end. Ox Wilson, big tackle, again hurt his knee, and Charles "Red" Callanan sustained a slight head injury.

Newton held its own on kicking, although the Brockton line crashed in fast to hurry the kicker. Brockton got a break in the first period when a quick kick went by the Newton safety man and apparently over the goal, only to be downed by a Brockton player just inside the field, forcing Newton to punt from the end zone. However, Newton was not scored on in the first period. Coz broke the ice by catching a pass on the Newton goal line, and added the extra point with a place kick.

Brockton's second score also came in the second canto. Brockton had called time out, and two Newton players were talking to the umpire, when Pileski took the ball from centre without preliminary signals and shot off the Newton left tackle for a touchdown. Newton had been prepared for the surprise, but this time the line was asleep. Coz again kicked the point.

Report Against Corliss Claim

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Holden, speaking for the Claims Committee, reported adversely on a claim brought by James Corliss of 13 Winthrop ave., Newton as a result of alleged personal injuries to his wife, Mary Corliss. According to the claim the City Physician while injecting serum into the woman's arm to relieve heart trouble, dropped some serum on the arm, causing serious sores. Holden said that the City Solicitor had ruled that inasmuch as the case was a Welfare one, the city was not liable, and moreover there had been no laxity on the part of the City Physician. Questioned by Alderman Akins, Holden stated that he had been informed by another physician that the serum was harmless and would not have caused the alleged injuries. Akins told the Board that the woman was then lying dead, and would be buried the following day, so he asked that action on the claim be deferred. He explained that her death had not been caused by the alleged injury referred to. The Board granted Akins' request.

Channing Church To Observe Girl Scout Sunday

The Girl Scouts of Newton have been invited to unite in their observance of Girl Scout Sunday, October 27th, by attending the morning service at 10:45 at the Channing Church, Park, Vernon, and Eldredge sts., Newton.

The minister of the Channing Church feels that the work of the Scouts and their leaders is an invaluable one in the building of morals and morale into the life of the girls and so into the life of the community. Such effort demands, because it deserves, the recognition of thinking people in the community. Along with other organizations of the kind its work represents the backbone of American progress. Channing Church has invited the Girl Scout organization to be guests on Girl Scout Sunday, there to receive publicly the recognition which its work deserves. Since the work done by the organization is a community and not merely a village affair, the Scouts of the whole city of Newton are invited to attend the service.

Auto Fumes Kill Newton Ctr. Woman

Mrs. Ruth B. Meserve, 46, of 5 Hamlin rd., Newton Centre was found asphyxiated in the garage at her home Wednesday night about 10 o'clock by her husband, Harrison G. Meserve. She was to have met her husband at the railroad station upon his arrival from Boston where he is a teacher in the Boston Latin School. Medical Examiner Gallagher reported the death as accidental. Dr. Harold Brown, together with police and firemen using an inhalator, attempted to resusitate the woman, but without avail.

Local Interest In Lecture on Yankee Trip

Mrs. William B. Medlicott of Auburndale is chairman of the committee in charge of the lecture to be given by Captain Irving Johnson and presented by the Mount Holyoke Club of Boston on Friday evening, Nov. 1, at Jordan Hall. Other Newton members of the committee are Mrs. Albert B. Root, Jr., of Waban, and Mrs. Joseph MacDonald, also of Waban.

Prominent among the names of patrons are Rev. and Mrs. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville, Miss Margaret McGill, Miss Helen Wood of Newton Highlands, and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Moore of Waban.

The talk "Circling the Globe in the Yankee" and the accompanying movies will be given under the auspices of the Scholarship Fund.

In Captain Johnson's lecture, he presents a fascinating, pictorial trip around the world and describes many adventurous hazards. The discovering of five new islands, the investigation of volcanic craters, to say nothing of visiting Pitcairn Island and the notorious Galapagos Islands, are but a few of the thrills in store. This will be Capt. Johnson's first appearance in Boston.

Mr. Robert Murray of Waban was a member of amateur crew on the eighteen months' cruise around the world in the Yankee.

Auto Hits Boy On Bicycle

Alfred Zalenski, 15, of 123 Rutland st., Watertown received a broken leg and other injuries on Wednesday afternoon when he was hit by a car driven by John Wadsworth of Washington, D. C. The boy was riding a bicycle at the corner of California and Faxon sts., Nonantum when the auto hit him. He was taken to the Newton Hospital by Wadsworth.

Mayor Weeks In Washington

Mayor Weeks went to Washington Wednesday night to confer with PWA officials in an attempt to obtain Federal grants for the proposed new school at Oak Hill, an addition to the Angier School at Waban and a garage for the street department at the Crafts st. yard. Several weeks ago the city made applications for these grants together with an application for a grant to construct an extension of the sewer to Oak Hill. The latter was the only one approved by PWA officials.

Again Refused Beer License

Santy DePucchio, who was turned down a couple of months ago by the Newton License Board, when he applied for a license to sell alcoholic beverages at 97 Elm st., West Newton, has again lost out on an appeal taken to the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission. Some months ago DePucchio applied to the local License Board for a common victualler's license and a beer dispensing license. He was granted the former and refused the latter, the Newton commission contending there are enough beer licenses in West Newton. DePucchio then took an appeal to the State A. B. C. and was not successful. Recently he applied for a license to dispense all alcoholic beverages.

Aldermen Make Appropriations

parently long-winded committee meetings were in session, decided to call it a day at 11:40, when a verbose discussion on the granting of a filling station permit indicated that the Aldermen might take until well after midnight to complete the business before the meeting. So, the newspaper men filed out of the aldermanic chamber while our local solons were still arguing.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by President Gordon. About 35 citizens were present and Aldermen Grebenstein and Inches were absent. Mr. Gordon announced that because a Federal project was to be acted upon at the meeting it would be necessary to have a roll call of members present. This was a new wrinkle. A second roll call was ordered at 8:35, just before the recess was taken, because Alderman Grebenstein had arrived subsequent to the first roll call.

The first hearing before the Board was on the petition of the Edison and telephone companies for a pole location on Adena rd., West Newton. Edgar Dunn of 14 Llewellyn rd. objected. He said there are now three poles on Adena rd. and this number is sufficient to serve the houses there. Earl Major of 300 Rosalie rd., Oak Hill asked that the name of his end of that street be changed to Dudley circle to prevent delay in delivery of mail.

James Maher of 30 Pearl st., Newton and owner of property on Adams st., inquired why the proposed improvement of that street is to end at Linwood ave. instead of Silver Lake ave., as previously planned? He was informed that some of the abuttors affected by the original plan had objected because they cannot afford the betterment assessments. Michael Kenslea of 109 Bridge st. objected to a drain being laid in Silver Lake ave., but withdrew his objection when he was told that property he owns on that street will not be assessed for the betterment. H. W. Chesley of Sagamore rd., Newton Highlands urged that a sewer be laid in that street to end a health menace.

Alderman Holden, reporting for the Claims and Rules Committee, recommended against granting the petition of Reuben Hass to change a house at 40 Chestnut ter. from one-family to two-family dwelling. He said the house is in a single residence zone, the entire neighborhood objects and the exterior of the house would be changed. The petition was refused. So was the claim of James J. Hennessey for alleged damage to his house at 275 Tremont st., Newton. The claim was not entered until more than two years after the alleged damage from blasting occurred, and in the meantime tenants in the house had stated no damage had been done. Other claims rejected were those of Marcella Sharkuss and Anthony Gervalis for land allegedly taken by the city in recently building a sewer along the Charles River at Newton Upper Falls. It was stated that the claimants' attorney had agreed that no land had been taken.

A large number of appropriations were made by the Aldermen. These included Soldiers' Relief, $5000; Public Welfare Department, Investigators' salaries, $108; Street Department, materials for ERA project on Cheese Cake Brook $2000, on sidewalk construction, $3000; resurfacing Centre st. from Watertown line to Nonantum Square, $7132; resurfacing Watertown st. from Watertown line 800 feet westerly, $5500; Paul st. drain, $4570; Fuller st. drain, $4870; Adams st. extension, $4914; completion of Albemarle rd. sewer, $2600; Forest st. drain, $1497; Water Department, mains in Scarsdale, Gordon, Paulson rds. and Stetson way, $2700; Law Department, Margaret White, claim for damage to clothing due to fall on sidewalk, $15; Charles E. Bailey, Lake ave., damage to tree by steam shovel, $50; Charles Paige, damage to house from sewer blasting, $25; Mrs. Josephine Estabrook, damage to property from sewer overflowing, $160.

School Faculty Annual Play

Blanche F. Bemis have set a dramatic standard for Newton for many years, "Treasure Island," "The Three Musketeers," "She Stoops to Conquer" and "Sherlock Holmes" having been some of the recent successes. Mr. Edward N. Griffin, Supervisor of the Music Department, takes the part of Dr. Haggett. Abby, the faithful servant in the Haggett household—the part played by Pauline Lord on the stage, and Marie Dressler on the screen, will be taken by Helen G. Nute of the English Department, who was so effective as the barmaid in "She Stoops to Conquer."

Other roles are taken by Helen White as Mrs. Haggett, Eleanor Richmond and Katherine Curtis as the Haggett sisters, Charles R. Consodine, Charles W. Peterson, T. Jerome Cutting, Walter M. Taylor.

Proceeds from faculty plays are used each year in the school's guidance and personnel work. This work is headed by Miss Cora E. Riley, Chairman of the High School Guidance Department and President of the Massachusetts Association of Deans and Advisers of Girls. The school has been able to provide medical and dental care, aid in college expenses, lunches and clothing for needy pupils. In addition to this, last year's proceeds from the faculty play helped in the purchase of band uniforms and the new Hammond electric organ.

Hit Neighbor, Fined $20

John Reardon of 17 Maguire ct., Newtonville was fined $20 in the Newton court on Wednesday for assaulting Patrick Lavelle, 20 Maguire ct. According to testimony on October 14 Lavelle went to Reardon's home to remonstrate with the latter over an alleged insulting remark. A young woman neighbor testified that Reardon reached out the window and hit Lavelle on the head with a milk bottle. Reardon's wife testified that it was not her husband, but herself who had hit Lavelle. She stated she hit him with a potato masher when he tried to enter her home. She also stated that Lavelle was under the influence of liquor. Judge Bacon found Reardon guilty and fined him $20. Reardon's attorney said his client was not working and could not pay. The judge stated he would have to serve time in jail in default of the payment. Reardon appealed.

Newton Corner Merchants Dress Up Store Windows

Mr. J. J. Ryan, District Superintendent of the Mohican Markets, during the course of his remarks at the Newton Corner Business Men's meeting last week, brought out very forcibly that the appearance of store windows is an important factor in attracting business. This suggestion has apparently made a deep impression on the merchants, as evidenced by the attractive windows in Newton Corner.

Mr. Ryan's attitude is that business is coming back only if it is gone after and brought back. He says that the attention given to pleasing displays, coupled with intelligent newspaper advertising are the two outstanding methods of accomplishing the return of activity in business to Newton Corner.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 27.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (James 1:12).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be" (Ecclesiastes 11:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: " 'In the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.' So we read in Ecclesiastes. This text has been transformed into the popular proverb, 'As the tree falls, so it must lie.' As man falleth asleep, so shall he awake. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change" (p. 291).

Parish Players To Present Three Plays

The Parish Players of Newton Highlands announce their first evening of plays which will be presented on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th, in St. Paul's Parish House.

There will be three plays during the evening. The first, a play called "Fantastic Flight," deals as the title implies with a fantastic solution of the next war. It is a gripping dramatic play which will receive its first American presentation in the hands of the Parish Players. The cast includes Laura Hathaway, Billie Williams, Ernest Braithwaite, Emery Leonard, John Allen, William Newby, and Edgar S. Swail. Mr. Douglas Sloane returns to the Players to direct the play.

The second, an "episode" dealing with an event in history, will find Virginia Valorie Gilbert playing opposite Mr. Robert Allingham.

The third play of the evening is a delightful bit of comedy, with a New England setting called "The Purple Door Knob," written by Walter Pritchard Eaton. The three women in the cast are Mesdames Harry Skelton, Emery N. Leonard and Carlton Blanchard, Jr. Direction is by Mrs. Douglas.

This program is in keeping with the Parish Players' policy of producing only the finest one-act plays. No other group in Newton is operating in this way, and this South Side group has gained a worthy reputation for performances in their four years of play production.

Others connected with the production end include: Mesdames Sumner Smith, William Benson, Roy Booth, Herbert Odell and Miss Thalia Clark.

Contrasts In Biography To Be Program

On Tuesday, October 29th, at 10 a. m., the Auburndale Review Club will meet with Mrs. Frank F. Davidson, 59 Woodland road. The general topic for the program is "Biography." A paper on "John Hays Hammond," by Mrs. William H. Medlicott; one on the "Life of Isabel Gardner," by Mrs. H. U. Hutchinson; and one on "Paderewski," by Mrs. James G. Patterson, will illustrate this topic. The variety of experience in these lives should furnish opportunity for interesting contrasts.

Program For State Broadcasts

The Radio program from Station WBZ, of which department Mrs. Edgar B. Richardson is Radio director, is entitled "Lighting the Lamps," for tomorrow, Saturday morning, from 11:30 to 12 noon, November 2nd. Greetings will be given from Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, the president. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will discuss informally "Women's Clubs of the World and their Effect on International Relations." Mrs. Poole will answer questions asked by an invited studio audience.

On November 9th Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, Rector of Holy Trinity Church, Boston, will discuss "Religion in Education." Federated clubwomen are asked to send questions on this subject to Radio Station WBZ before November first. Dr. Kinsolving will choose the questions that he considers most vital to answer on this broadcast. The women whose questions are chosen will be invited to attend the broadcast.

Celebrates New Year With Luncheon

The Auburndale Woman's Club celebrated its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, October 22nd, with a Luncheon served members at 12:45 p. m. The luncheon was in charge of the Hospitality committee, with Mrs. Ralph A. Balch as chairman and Mrs. Ashley L. Wright the vice chairman. New members were special guests, their hostesses being the following members of the Membership committee: Mrs. Arthur T. Freeman, chairman; Mrs. William W. Edson, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Charles D. Ansley, Mrs. T. Frank Burbank, Mrs. Clinton W. Elwell, Mrs. Chesleigh D. Hurd, Mrs. Lyman M. Hutchins, Mrs. Andrew S. Laurie, Mrs. Roy M. Miller, Mrs. Albert L. Puffer, and Mrs. Ruth E. Ryan.

The business meeting began promptly at 2 o'clock, when the president, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, welcomed all members, and gave a special greeting to the new members.

One of the bright spots in the meeting was the reading of the names of twenty-nine new members by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frederick Y. Briscoe.

Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, chairman of the Club's Emergency Relief committee, told about her plans for the year. Her committee will combine with two others, the Community Service committee, of which Mrs. Strabo V. Claggett is chairman, and the Public Health committee, Mrs. Herbert E. Althens, chairman, in having sewing days once a month, so that they will meet twice during the year at the Newton Hospital and four times in the Woman's Club Room in the Auburndale Club House, when they will make new garments for the Community Chest and for the Hospital. The first of these meetings will be held on October 29th, at 10 o'clock, at the Newton Hospital, and will be in charge of Mrs. Charles B. Floyd.

Mr. Ralph W. Weston, Lieutenant for the Community Chest, spoke for five minutes on the work and needs of the Chest, and Miss Margaret Ball, president of the Newton Branch of the Needleworker's Guild, told the members something of the work of this charitable organization.

Mrs. John I. Heibeck, chairman of the Program committee, called the attention of Club members to the next program on November 5th, and spoke particularly of Community Night, to be on November 19th, at 8 o'clock, when members and guests will hear Dr. C. Ray Hansen speak on "Government by Gangland."

The Activities committee, with Mrs. Walter S. Wells in charge, gave a notice of the Bargain Sale Bridge to be held on November 12th, at 2 p. m. and urged members to make reservations early.

There was a delightful half-hour of music by the Radiogram Trio, composed of Mary Barr Snyder, piano; Ruth Masters, 'cello; and Mary Pucciarello, violin.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

At 3 p. m. the president, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, gave her impressions of the Triennial Convention of the General Federation at Detroit.

Highlights Of Fall Meeting

Indian Summer, the generous hospitality of the Union Church, Waban, a delicious luncheon, interesting and crowded Round-Tables and snappy ten to fifteen-minute guest speakers made the Fall Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held on Monday, October 21st, one of the most successful in its history.

Marion Perry, a High School senior, gave the Motion Picture Round-Table the results of the survey conducted in the Newton Schools last year; Mrs. Ruth W. Fuller spoke on the phase of motion picture work that offers possibilities for future co-ordination of pupil study and discussion with actual theatre showing of pictures; the manager of the Community theatre of Wellesley, Mr. Bendslew, spoke on Up-to-Date News of the motion picture and industry as it affects the independent theatre; Mr. Hamilton Warren, director of International Educational Pictures, Inc., outlined the work of his organization; and Mrs. Florence G. Morse, of Newton, representing the Massachusetts State Federation in its Motion Picture department, gave the State Federation outline of work to be studied this year.

The International Relations Round-Table had as guest speakers Mrs. W. O. Little, chairman of International Relations of the Massachusetts State Federation, and Miss Irene Armstrong, executive secretary of the Boston Branch of the League of Nations Association. Mrs. Little commended the work done by the Newton Federation International Relations committee during the past year, and gave suggestions for the coming year, emphasizing the need of studying neutrality. Miss Armstrong has recently returned from England, and she told about the recent vote by the people in England, giving the politicians a mandate as to their desires in regard to the League of Nations and Sanctions.

Miss Emma D. Coolidge, editor of the Women's Clubs Page of the NEWTON GRAPHIC, was the guest speaker for the Publicity Round-Table. Miss Coolidge gave the Press chairmen, club presidents, and other officers attending this Round-Table, "a list of do's and don'ts," outlined the importance of personality news in their press items and writeups, and covered some very interesting and important changes being made this year.

Forty women heard Mrs. Ernest Weaver, Mrs. Herbert Stetson, and Bertha Ashley Searle speak on "Christian Art," "Creche," and "Russian Icons," at the Art Round-Table.

Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, chairman of Education in the State Federation, and Mr. Julius E. Warren, superintendent of Newton Schools, were the speakers at the Education Round-Table.

The Public Health Round-Table discussion was conducted by Dr. Harold Chope, formerly of California recently appointed Public Health officer for the City of Newton.

At 11:40 a. m., Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president, introduced three representatives from the public and private relief organizations of the City of Newton. Mr. Harold F. Young, ERA administrator and executive secretary of the Mayor's Relief Committee, covered briefly their work with the white-collared class; Miss Harriet Parsons, executive secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, explained the methods used by that organization to "get people back in the saddle" by moral support as well as material relief; and Mr. James Reynolds, of the department of Public Welfare, mentioned the four divisions of public welfare work, namely: temporary aid and supplementary aid, old age assistance, Mother's aid, and City Infirmary, explaining briefly the requirements of each.

A delicious luncheon was served under the direction of Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, chairman of the Social committee, at 12:30 o'clock, the luncheon speakers being Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer, on "Conservation and the CCC in Massachusetts," and Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, on "Prevention Work for Newton."

The afternoon program was opened by Miss Louise L. Came, Harpist, who played very artistically "Arabesque," by Debussey; "Fantaisie," by Galeotti; "Song Without Words," by Dubey; and "Music Box," by Poenitz.

Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director, announced the State Federation meeting, and the Twelfth District meeting for November 13th.

The urgent need of shoes for the children of veterans was stressed by Mrs. David Black.

"Creative Art as a Means of Education" was the subject of the afternoon address by Miss Helen Cleaves. The development of the seven arts of childhood were explained and illustrated by Miss Cleaves, also her methods of guiding the child, so that he will not destroy himself with complete freedom, but not directing him. As it was necessary for Miss Cleaves to be in Boston at 4 p. m., it was regretted that time available shortened an exceedingly interesting and humorous address.

With a short business meeting Mrs. Parker closed the Conference.

Public Lecture On International Relations

Mr. Albert E. Irving will speak on "International Relations and the Present World Crisis" on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, at eight o'clock, at the West Newton Public Library. This lecture is offered under the auspices of the International Relations Committee of the West Newton Women's Educational Club of which committee Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon is chairman. The public is cordially invited.

Patience

"Patience isn't of very much use," said Uncle Eben, "when it's only laziness in disguise."

Bridal Beads

When the Borneo maiden becomes a bride her gown has no graceful train or entrancing veil. Instead she dresses herself in a bead garment of bathing-suit proportions. The Borneo bride is decidedly decollete, for her bridal array covers her body only from below the armpits to the knees. Her costume for this momentous occasion is decorated solely with beads, which cover the entire gown and form designs of native origin. The hem of the dress is decorated with a long fringe.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Paid Labor in Africa

Paid labor was, until the arrival of the white man, almost unknown to the native of Africa.

...but, after all is said and done, it's the cigarette itself that counts

. . . the question is, does it suit you?

Now, when it comes to a cigarette that will suit you . . . you want to think whether it's mild, you want to think about the taste

That Chesterfields are milder and taste better is no accident . . .

The farmer who grows the tobacco, the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder, every man who knows about leaf tobacco will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobaccos to make a good cigarette.

In making Chesterfields we use mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos.

Outstanding

Community Chest Campaign Plans

covering all bank employees 100% in the Banking Division.

All distribution is being handled by Mr. C. Hassler Capron, chairman of the Distribution committee and Mr. Charles R. Spaulding, who is assisting him. They are making deliveries to Boy and Girl Scouts, to Village Chairmen, and to team captains, of all material and equipment, as well as answering special calls for distribution service. They are also placing 300 posters all over the city.

Municipal Division Ready To Go

Mayor Sinclair Weeks is the chairman of the Municipal Division, with Building Commissioner Harry A. Hageman as vice-chairman of the General Group, and Supt. of Schools Julius E. Warren as chairman of the School Group. With the full co-operation of the City Department heads, who are taking an enthusiastic interest and part in the campaign, the general group in this division will be given the opportunity to authorize a deduction of pledges from payroll on a weekly basis for forty weeks. The Department Heads and City Treasurer Newhall have assumed this extra work in preparing and handling deductions, which means much extra work, gladly and readily as a public service.

The probable goal, to be definitely settled within a few days, of the Municipal Division will be $20,000.00. There will be a big thermometer set up in City Hall on which there will be a daily recording of the results in this Division. In a meeting with the Department Heads on Monday afternoon, Mr. Maynard Hutchinson, Campaign Director, stated that he regarded the Municipal Division as the "pace-setter" for the Campaign, stressing his faith and belief in the full co-operation and loyalty of the Municipal family of Newton setting the right pace!

Mayor Sinclair Weeks is giving his fullest and most active co-operation in every respect. He is planning to send a personal letter to every city employee urging full support of the Community Chest.

The Prospects

No officer or member of the Campaign Committee is making any prophecies as to the outcome, but the splendid interest, activity, and co-operation give good indications of the success of the 1935 Campaign. Campaigns elsewhere in the country show a very marked increase over 1934.

In 1934 the per capita pledge in Newton was $2.34, or about 15 per cent below the per capita pledge of a miscellaneous group of cities. The Campaign Committee this year hopes and is striving for a per capita pledge in Newton of $2.66, which is 14 cents below that average of the above-mentioned group of cities. In 1934, 12 per cent of the citizens of Newton gave to the Chest, which was 25 per cent below the average of a miscellaneous group of Chest cities in the United States.

Everyone who knows these facts has been emphatic in their statement that Newton "is not a sub-average city" and hope is pinned on this fact to bring Newton above average in this Campaign.

Aldermen Grant Permit For Gas Station at Hlds.

Reverse Action On Delaney Petition

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night reversed its decision of a few months ago and granted a permit for a gasoline filling station at the corner of Walnut and Floral sts., Newton Highlands to Mrs. Anna P. Delaney. The Licenses Committee of the Board was divided on this matter. Aldermen Hill and Walker opposed the granting of the permit; Aldermen Akins, Colby, Gordon and Guzzi were in favor. Alderman Inches was absent when the committee took action.

Alderman Hill said he opposed the station on the same grounds he had voted against a permit last spring. He said conditions have not changed, and the same objections exist; the facts that the locus is on a heavy traffic artery, State Route 128, near a blind bridge, the street is narrow there, a bus terminal is opposite and many children pass daily. He said that many were sorry for the financial condition of the petitioner, and he, too sympathized, but he did not feel justified in voting for the station permit.

Alderman Walker said that while all felt keenly for the petitioner, and the wishes of abuttors carried influence, the community in general as evidenced by a protest from the Men's Club had gone on record against the station, and on sound principles he would vote against the permit. Alderman Lyon said the underlying test is whether or not there is public need for the station, and care should be used in granting unnecessary filling station permits. He said there is no need for this station and he would vote against the permit being granted. Alderman Colby said that abuttors favor the station instead of stores, that 70 persons had signed a petition favoring the station, and that a few weeks ago the Board had granted permits authorizing two gasoline stations side by side on Centre st. near Newton Corner Square. He said the reason there are so many gasoline stations in Newton Highlands is because there are a number of traffic arteries in that village. He favored the permit.

Alderman Hutchinson, who favored the station, and Alderman McKay, who opposed it, engaged in a colloquy when the former questioned the latter in an effort to ascertain his attitude on the matter. On a voice vote the Aldermen granted the permit.
